AGAINST A STRONG TEAM

The Crescents Defeated by Williamsburgh Field Club.

VISITORS PLAYED WELL ALL THROUGH

Good Fielding and the Bunching of Their Hits at the Proper Time Were the Points That Won the Game—Tom Keller Was the Umpire—The Score in Detail Given Below.

The best baseball team that has played in Plainfield this year, the Williamsburgh Field Club, met the Crescents Saturday on the latter's grounds and administered a rousing defeat to the local players. The visitors won by a score of 13 to 5.

The visitors knew two things. They knew how to field the ball and they knew how to bunch their hits and that was where Plainfield lost the game. The Plainfield batters found the Williamsburgh pitcher easy to hit but, when the important moment arrived, they were too anxious. Charters, the Williamsburgh pitcher, smiled and threw a high ball whereat the home batter struck out. Then in fielding the visiting players made some wonderful catches that nobody expected them to and two double plays resulted. The visitors knew how to handle the ball on the bases and caught several base runners.

The game at the start was all right. It was close and although the visitors gained a lead it was so small that the audience was kept in doubt. At the end of the fourth inning, the score stood 5 to 3. Several bases on balls had materially aided the visitors, for they found MacLarty rather hard to hit. Then came the eventful fifth inning in which the Williamsburgh players waked up to the necessities of the occasion and batted like fiends. Three singles, a double, and a home run by Brady, aided by a base on balls and several expensive errors, netted seven runs for them.

In their half of the inning the Crescents started in. Symons hit for two bases, but was put out on second in a double play, the Williamsburg left fielder making a fine running catch and throwing the ball to second. Then the Crescents went in and made two runs with two men out. That was the last time they scored, for although they hit Charters freely, the hits were scattered. Their great chance for run getting was in the fourth, when the bases were filled and none out. MacBeth was so anxious to hit the ball that he hit at everything that came along and struck out on three high balls. Cooney made a sacrifice hit bringing in one man, and then Mumford struck at three high balls and ended the agony by going out.

The visitors never found MacLarty after the fifth. They scored one in the eighth on some expensive errors, but MacLarty ended their chances by striking out the man that made the home run and two other of their best batters. That home run would have probably not have been more than a two or three base hit at the most had not the ball lost itself in the weeds and refused to be found.

While the Williamsburgh team was composed entirely of professionals, there was one player that stood out from among the rest by his brilliant playing. That was Bryan, the first baseman. He was everywhere at once and probably had much to do with the small score of the Crescents, for he stopped everything, making some brilliant catches for the infielders threw very wild to first at times.

The detailed score is as follows:

HER BOARDERS ARE GONE

ATTRIBUTES THE CAUSE TO SEWAGE BEDS—WANTS $10,000 SALVAGE.

Mrs. Sarah Milliken Now Claims the Sewage Beds Have Ruined Her Business of Catering to the Summer Boarders.

There has been a great deal said about the damage that the residents in the neighborhood of the city farm claim has been done to their property by the sewer beds but now one of them, Mrs. Milliken, promises to take action. Her attorneys, Swackhamer & Williams, have looked over the situation and declare that there is able reason for a suit which Mrs. Milliken has instructed them to bring against the City of Plainfield in the near future. The suit is to be for $10,000.

When the city selected the present location for the sewer beds, there was an indignant protest from the people living in that vicinity. The city officials claimed that there would be no unpleasant odors or unhealthy features to the sewer beds and now say that their claim has been carried out. The residents do not agree with them, however, and say that the location of the beds in that vicinity has greatly depreciated the value of real estate in that immediate neighborhood.

Mrs. Milliken occupies a large house fronting on West Front street, not far from the Dunellen line. Her property runs back to the sewer beds. She has taken boarders and before this year her house has been crowded with them. They greatly liked the place and all around it. This year a number of them came back, but she claims that they left very soon, complaining about the stench arising from the city farm which they declared they could not endure. Mrs. Milliken claims that it was very bad. Other boarders, she claims, have written to her telling her that they will not spend the summer with her on account of the sewage beds, not caring to being in close proximity on account of the odor and the unhealthy effects.

Mrs. Milliken depended greatly on the income from her boarders to support herself and family, and now that they have gone or refused to come back, she is placed in an unpleasant position. She has some powerful friends who are behind her, however, who are willing to support her in a suit against the city.

The neighbors all claim that they have suffered from the establishment of the sewer farm in that vicinity and are willing to support Mrs. Milliken in her efforts to obtain the redress she claims.

S. S. Swackhamer, of the firm of Swackhamer & Williams, paid a visit to the sewer farm, Saturday afternoon, to look around and see just what reason there was for a suit, if any. Mr. Swackhamer says that he found the situation far worse than he anticipated. He says he would not live in that vicinity if any one would give him a house and lot. He thinks that Mrs. Milliken has able reason for suing the city and says that the suit will be started in the Supreme Court of New Jersey as soon as the necessary papers are drawn up.

PETITIONS TO THE COUNCIL.

Merchants Will Again Ask for Arc Lights in Business Section.

It is confidently believed that the members of the city council at their meeting this evening will grant the merchants of the city what they have asked for—arc lights. Since the last meeting another petition has been in circulation and several hundred names are attached to it. It will be presented at the meeting this evening and assurances have been given that there is a strong possibility of the petition being granted.

At the meeting this evening there will also be a petition presented from the residents of the West End asking for fire hydrants. During the past few years there has been a great deal of building in that section of the city and the fire protection is not commensurate therewith.

CONCUSSION OF THE BRAIN.

Critical Condition of a Boy Thrown From a Bicycle.

Peter Rowe, aged twelve years and son of Jere Rowe, of Grove street, fell from his wheel last Saturday evening about 6 o'clock, and sustained concussion of the brain. A portion of his trouser leg caught in the chain of the wheel and threw him off, striking his head on a large stone in the road. He was picked up by some neighbors and carried to his home. Dr. D. C. Adams was called and gave the proper treatment. It was at first thought it would be necessary to remove young Rowe to the hospital, but such action was not taken. He is now in a very critical condition, but Dr. Adams reported him to be better this morning. He is in a semi conscious condition and can only be aroused with great effort.

IN A FOREIGN CIRCUS.

ROBERT WHITTAKER WRITES OF HIS EUROPEAN ENGAGEMENT.

He Has Been Laid Up Twice on Account of a Sprained Knee—He is Enthusiastic in Praise of Schumann's German Circus.

Having long ago won the plaudits of American people for his daring and graceful bareback riding in the circus arena, Robert Whittaker, who makes his home in this city and is well and popularly known, is now meriting the econiums of the people of the European continent with the most celebrated tented show of Germany, Schumann's circus.

Mr. Whittaker arrived at Hamburg, after a pleasant voyage, April 26th. He remained at the seaport city for four days and then shipped for Chemnitze Lexion, the headquarters of the circus he had signed with. In making the trip overland to that point, Mr. Whittaker underwent an experience that he does at care to go through again. Though somewhat of a linguist, having acquired several foreign languages, he was utterly unable to make himself understood in Germany. The journey took twenty-four hours and during this time Mr. Whittaker was afraid to leave the car in which Dohlman, his horse, was quartered, lest it should be moved and he would be unable to find it or make himself understood in asking information. As a result, he had to go hungry until he arrived at his destination.

He opened with the circus May 8th and his riding made a great hit with the foreigners. Everything was going smoothly until the 15th of that month, when, as he finished his act and jumped from his horse, he sprained his knee and was laid up for nineteen days. He returned to work but his knee was still weak, and on July 8th he again sprained it and was laid up for two weeks more. Mr. Whittaker says that both Mr. and Mrs. Schumann and their associates were very kind to him.

Referring to the performances of the circus, Mr. Whittaker says that they are far superior to the American tented shows. He says Schumann is the greatest horse trainer he has ever met and that he has a troupe of eighteen black horses whose acts would set New York wild with wonder and delight. They do fifteen distinct acts; the Barnum trick horses are "not in it," in comparison, he says. Then there is a troupe of twelve trained lions that do more than the trick horses of Barnum, and in nearly all details the circus is prolific with new and startling acts that the American public has not yet seen. One of the principal riders is Joe Hodini, whose jockey acts excel any that Mr. Whittaker has ever witnessed.

Mr. Whittaker's engagement extends into the fall, and it is not known as yet whether or not he will return to this country immediately afterwards.

ATTESTED RESPECT AND LOVE.

Large Attendance at the Obsequies of the Late W. C. Burt

The funeral services of the late William C. Burt were held from his residence on West Seventh street, yesterday afternoon. The funeral was largely attended by the many in this city who knew and respected him, and also by a delegation of the officers of the Seamen's Savings Bank, of New York, where he was employed.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell and James A. McGee were in charge of the services, which consisted of prayer, appropriate Scripture readings and a few remarks by both the leaders. They referred to the good work that he had done through his lifetime, of his valuable assistance to the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and also of his love and care for those at home.

After the funeral, the remains were interred in the family plot in the Bound Brook cemetery

FORTUNE LEFT TO HIS WIFE.

J. G. Miller and His Better Half Bless the Pious Memory of Reuben Ayres.

J. G. Miller, formerly of this city, is of the opinion that it is good to be a married man. He is employed as clerk in a drug store in Elizabeth, on a small salary. On Friday he learned that his wife is one of the heirs interested in a very valuable tract of land at Alfred Centre, New York State.

Both ready cash and real estate will came at once into the hands of Mrs. Miller, who with her husband, was yesterday blessing the pious memory of the testator, Reuben Ayres, while they were receiving the congratulations of their numerous friends and acquaintances.

Mayor Fisk as a Winner.

In the golf records of the Waumbek in the White Mountains, our worthy mayor, Charles W. Fisk, is mentioned as winning the first position in the first preliminary event, making 18 holes in 100 strokes.

A PROMINENT MAN SUED

PETER P. ROBINSON WANTS L. V. F. RANDOLPH TO PAY $2,000.

Plaintiff Claims That the Former Mayor Unmercifully Whipped the Former's Horse and Almost Caused a Runaway.

Suit has been started against a prominent Plainfielder on the charge of beating the horse of another man and nearly causing the animal to run away. The suit has been brought in the Union County Circuit Court for $2,000 damages by Counselor Winfield S. Angleman for his client, Peter P. Robinson, a colored man.

The defendant in the case is former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, of East Front street, one of Plainfield's best known and thoroughly respected citizens.

The story of the plaintiff, on which the suit is based, is that on last Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Robinson was driving down Watchung avenue toward the station. Between Front and Second streets he saw a friend with whom he wished to speak. The former Mayor was driving with his coachman behind him. A trolley car came along at that moment and former Mayor Randolph was compelled to stop. He called to the colored man ahead to drive on, but the latter merely pulled nearer to the curb.

Then, Robinson claims, Mr. Randolph jumped out of his carrage, and, whip in hand, started for Robinson. Robinson says that he lashed the latter's horse with his whip, remarking that he would teach him to stand still in the road. Robinson claims that the horse almost ran away with him and he had much difficulty in bringing the horse down to a walk.

Such is the story on which the suit is brought.

Former Mayor Randolph is at his place of business in New York as president of the Atlantic Trust Company, and his side of the story cannot be learned.

MOBBED THE SHORTSTOP

SMALL RIOT FOLLOWED A ROW AT A BOUND BROOK BALL GAME.

A Stelton Player Struck the Bound brook Pitcher and the Batter's Friends Rallied in an Insolent and Threatening Way.

There was a lively row at Bound Brook, Saturday afternoon, at a ball game between teams from Stelton and Bound Brook. The game stood 4 to 4 in the eighth inning, and when the Bound Brook scored a run on a close decision, the Stelton players gathered around the umpire in a threatening manner, and Jack McDowell, the Stelton shortstop, struck Brampton, the Bound Brook pitcher.

The Bound Brook players stopped arguing with the umpire and started in to pummel McDowell, and the athletic young farmers who compose the Stelton team undertook to rescue their shortstop. McDowell managed to squirm from beneath the rest of fighting players and ran at top speed across the field, pursued by half of the five hundred people who had been watching the game.

McDowell's friends joined in the chase in order to keep off the excited Bound Brook men in case they should catch him. When McDowell turned and saw the size of the crowd that was pursuing him, he ran into a house and scared the women folks badly.

The house was immediately surrounded by a great crowd. Several of the village constables dispersed it, and, after comparative quiet was restored, they escorted McDowell to the police station, where he apologized for striking the Bound Brook pitcher. McDowell had to take a good many hard blows, and, although he put up a plucky fight, he was much the worse for the encounter. Few of the players on either team escaped being struck in the melee.

Because of ill feeling engendred by Saturday's row, it is likely that the projected series of games between the rival villages will be given up.

MAY HAVE BEEN ACCIDENTAL.

Laudanum and Toothache Drops Found in Bed on Which Kate Whisset Died.

Regarding the death of Mrs. Kate Whisset, which occurred last week at McVey's Hotel on North avenue, certain things have since come to light to show that the gas was aided in its deadly work. In cleaning up the room after the body was removed, a half bottle of laudanum was found under the bed clothes in addition to some toothache drops. It is believed that Mrs. Whisset drank the missing half bottle of laudanum before she turned on the gas. The county physician did not find the bottles when he examined the case previous to granting a burial permit.

ISSUES OF THE FLOOD.

PASTORS RECEIVE INSPIRATION BY THE RECENT INUNDATION.

Every Outburst of Rain, One Minister Remarked, Teaches a Strong Lesson and Draws Everyone Nearer to God.

At Grace M. E. church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. H. J. Johnston, delivered a discourse on the subject "The Issues of the Flood." The speaker took his text from the seventh chapter of Genesis and a part of the sixteenth verse, "And the Lord Shut Him In."

The discourse referred more directly to the flood in the time of Noah, when he and his family escaped by entering the ark which he had built. Two main points were made. First, the mercy of God toward those who were wickedly inclined. The speaker held it to be an act of mercy that the wicked were not allowed to go on in their sinful ways and thus defy God. He also held that God would not allow man to be tempted above that which he was able to bear, and when the temptation is too great God removes the man suddenly sometimes. In the second place Mr. Johnston spoke of wisdom. He said that God wants man to be pure at any cost, and the roots of sin must be removed at any price. The reason that the Lord shut Noah in the ark was that he might have more room to exercise his faith. Notwithstanding the fact that he was shut in there was still a small place in the ark where he and his family could look to God, and the lesson here revealed is that no one but God can save. When Noah and his family came out of the ark they at once began to worship God and praise Him. They did not worship the ark and want to preserve it as some of us would. They were taught a powerful lesson and profited by it.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of Monroe Avenue Church, delivered a very interesting and helpful sermon last evening on the subject "The Voice of the Flood," taking for his text the 93d Psalm, "The Floods Lifted up Their Voice." The speaker illustrated the first flood in history and drew many valuable lessons to show that it was a good thing. He said that the people of that time were so wicked that God was obliged to resort to some stringent measures. Mr. O'Donnell showed the grandeur of the flood, and spoke of the strong faith of Noah and his family in God, and for this exercise of faith God rewarded them exceedingly. The speaker said that every flood or outburst of rain from heaven teaches a strong lesson and draws everyone closer to God. He spoke incidentally of the recent heavy rains and also of the helpful lessons to be received from them. In conclusion he made practical applications from his subject, bringing home to everyone the strong points of the text.

HELPFUL SERMONS.

Large Congregation Heard Rev. Dr. Carlos Martyn Preach.

Rev. Carlos Martyn, D. D., who preached in Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning and evening, was greatly pleased with the large congregation that was present at both services. He repaid everybody in attendance by delivering excellent discourses. At the morning service his theme was "Our Influence," his text being "For None of Us Liveth to Himself," Romans 14th, part of the seventh verse. In the evening his subject was "Under the Juniper Tree," from the text 1st Kings, 19th chapter, fourth verse. It was a panacea to despondent persons and those afflicted with the blues. After the morning service the Consistory of the church was called together and Dr. Martyn was engaged to supply the pulpit for two more Sundays, the 8th and 15th instant.

The Gospel Tent.

There were two good-sized congregations in the Gospel tent, corner of Park avenue and Fifth street, yesterday. At 4 o'clock, Mrs. George C. Needham spoke from the eleventh of Hebrews, showing that Abel stood for atonement, Enoch for communion with God, Noah for evangelism and Abraham for separation. It was a very profitable exposition. At 8 o'clock, Evangelist Arthur Crane gave a Gospel address, which was listened to with intense interest. Tonight, Evangelist George C. Needham will speak at 8 o'clock and tomorrow, Rev. Arthur Crane. Everybody is cordially invited.

Baptist Pulpit Supplies.

During the absence of Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, on his annual vacation, the pulpit will be supplied one Sunday by Rev. H. E. Needham; two Sundays by Rev. Carter Helm Jones, of Virginia; and one Sunday by Rev. Mr. Taylor, a recent graduate of Colgate University.

AN ACTIVE LIFE ENDED.

John A. Thickstun Dies From Ravages of Disease.

WELL KNOWN IN BUSINESS CIRCLES.

Born and Brought Up in This City Where Most of His Life Was Spent—Carried on a Contracting Business for Many Years—He Was Also an Influential Democrat at One Time.

After several months illness, the last two weeks of which were of the most intense suffering, death brought happy release to John A. Thickstun, of 66 Duer street, Saturday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock. He was taken ill several months ago with Bright's disease and from that other complications set in and he was unable to withstand the attack. Up to the time he was taken ill he was an active citizen and was very seldom detained at home by illness. He was a valued citizen, a good neighbor and a kind and loving husband. His place it will be hard to fill, for he occupied one that was peculiarly his own.

John A. Thickstun was born April 18th, 1837, in what is known as the French house, which is located on Somerset street next to Julius Stahl's place of business, and which was occupied at one time by Edward Winter.

He was the son of David and Mary Thickstun. At an early age he learned the carpenter trade and later he was in business with his father as a carpenter and dealer in blue stone. At the age of 21 years he went to Brooklyn and carried on the carpenter business, but he only remained there a short time, being obliged to leave on account of his health. He was married October 3d, 1860, to Mary V. Blackford, daughter of Lewis and Mary S. Blackford, of Samptown, Middlesex county, and in 1881 purchased the coal and stone business conducted by his father on Madison avenue and continued in business up to the month of March, this year. He was a successful business man and held the confidence of his associate business men. As a recognition of his worth he was elected president of the New Jersey State Coal Exchange, which position he held until obliged to give it up on account of ill-health.

His residence was at 66 Duer street, where he resided for twenty-five years. He attended school in the old school house, which building is now used as MacDonald's grocery store on East Front street. He was a member of the North Plainfield Township Committee, and while in office he succeeded in having a hill cut down and the roadway filled up at the point which is known as "The Notch," and which is located just this side of Washingtonville. Later he became one of the first councilman in the borough of North Plainfield, where he served his constituents in a fair and able manner. At one time he was quite a strong politician and was well known throughout Somerset county and with the politicians of the State. In politics he was a Democrat.

He was active in church affairs and in early life became a member of the Second Baptist church, being baptized in Green brook back of the present First Baptist church. After the dissolution of the second he joined the First Baptist church, where he held a membership up to the time of his death. He served the church in many ways and his judgment and advice was always considered to be the best.

His age was 60 years, three months and thirteen days. He leaves a wife but no children. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the house and the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, his pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in the family plot at Samptown.

AN ACCOMMODAT NG RAILROAD.

Furnished a Special Train for a Party of Local Fishermen.

Gus Martin, Fred Hui, Henry Haurand, Theodore Smith, Thomas Randolph, Samuel Randolph, Frank Randolph, Frank Maxson and Alex. Sargeant, went to Perth Amboy yesterday for the purpose of catching some fish. They succeeded in having excellent luck and between them they captured one hundred and seventy-five pounds. When they got ready to return home last evening they discovered that the last train had departed. They then went to the telegraph office and asked the operator to ascertain if the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company would give them accommodations to get to South Plainfield. In a little while an engine and one car were sent to Amboy and conveyed the party of nine to their destination. They feel very grateful to the railroad company for their generosity. While on the trip over Thomas Randolph lost his hat out of the window and the train stopped and backed up so that he could get his hat.

RAILROAD COLLISION

A Passenger Train Crashes Into Loaded Freight Cars.

TWO MEN HORRIBLY MUTILATED.

The Passengers Escaped Serious Injury, and the Conductor and Expressman Receive Only Slight Bruises.

El Dorado, Kan., Aug. 2.—The Missouri Pacific passenger train, which left here for Kansas City, crashed into four loaded freight cars which had been left carelessly standing on the main track at Yates Center, resulting in a wreck that will cost the lives of two trainmen.

The passenger train was running at a speed of 30 miles an hour. The tender and baggage car telescoped, and the wreck caught fire, burning the baggage car and the four freight cars and destroying the locomotive and tender.

Engineer Jasper Clover and Fireman Cal Rowan, both men of family, living in El Dorado, were probably fatally injured.

Both were found in an unconscious condition lying beside the track. Clover was disemboweled and terribly scalded, and Rowan had one foot severed from his body and was terribly cut and bruised.

Conductor Anderson and the baggage and express man suffered painful bruises, but all the passengers escaped serious injury. Clover and Rowan were sent to a hospital in Kansas City.

One Hundred and Three Years Old.

Moorestown, N. J., Aug. 2.—Mrs. Christiana French celebrated her one hundred and third birthday at her home here yesterday. In honor of the event there was a family reunion, a large number of her descendants participating. Aunt Kitty French was born Aug. 1, 1794, on a small farm near here. In 1810 she was married to Joseph French, a wealthy farmer, and bore five children. Had this date fallen on another day of the week there would have been a public demonstration. When the old lady reached the century mark the church bells rang 1794-1894 and then tolled 100 successive strokes.

Sudden Death From Heart Disease.

Southington, Conn., Aug. 2.—Wheaton S. Plumb, aged 68, one of the most prominent citizens of the town, died suddenly of heart disease at his home here. He had been sitting in a chair and arose to leave the room, when he fell backward and expired almost immediately. The deceased was president of Southington Savings bank, first selectman for the past 10 years, superintendent of the Southington Cutlery company and also prominently connected with other local enterprises. He leaves a wife, one son and a daughter, Mrs. H. W. Terry of Springfield, Mass.

Supposed Incendiary Fires.

Ottawa, Ills., Aug. 2.—The Pioneer Fireproof Construction company's plant, the largest of this kind in the world, has been partially destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $100,000. There is only a partial insurance. The fire was of incendiary origin. The large elevator of J. N. Shuler has burned to the ground. Loss, $6,000; insurance, $3,000. It is now thought this building was also set on fire. Had there been any breeze at the time of either fire the city of Ottawa would have been almost wiped out, as both buildings were situated close to the business center.

Rich Mine Strike In Oregon.

Rainy Lake City, Minn., Aug. 2.—A rich strike has been made at the Randolph mine, near Mine Center, Or., that will assay from $500 to $1,000 to the ton. A blast that was made there some days ago threw up several good sized nuggets. One of them weighed 22 ounces and is pure gold. The discovery is the richest yet made in the Seine river country. The controlling interest in the mine is owned by Lewis H. Hall of New York. The news has caused a great deal of excitement throughout the goldfields.

Drowned While Bathing.

Corning, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Lewis Folsom, aged 20, was drowned at Hammondsport. He was in bathing with a companion. Neither one of the two could swim. Folsom waded out and suddenly stepped into a hole and went down in sight of his friend. Men worked with grappling hooks for several hours and finally used a horse hay rake and found the body in 45 feet of water.

Tribal Fighting In the Nile District.

Cairo, Aug. 2.—The Egyptian intelligence department has received word of heavy tribal fighting up the Nile between the dervishes and the Jaalins. The dervishes, under one of the generals of the calipha, defeated the Jaalins in a pitched battle and occupied Metemneh on July 1. The losses on both sides were very large. The Jaalins are said to have lost 2,000 killed.

Suicide at Hackensack.

Hackensack, N. J., Aug. 2.—Alphonse Blossier, 38 years of age, of Demarest, N. J., committed suicide by firing a pistol bullet into his brain. He was in the beer bottling business, and for some time, it is said, business had not been good. This is supposed to have led to the suicide. Coroner Ricardo viewed the remains. The suicide leaves a wife and two children.

Accidentally Killed.

Atlantic City, Aug. 2.—While ex-Postmaster James S. McKean and his friend, R. Wilson of Pittsburg, were riding in a bus driven by Amos Bullock, the king bolt of the vehicle pulled out, and it toppled over. Bullock was killed, Mr. McKean was severely cut, and Mr. Wilson was badly bruised about the body.

Well Known Boniface Dead.

Cincinnati, Aug. 2.—Thomas W. Zimmerman, for many years landlord of the Burnett House in this city, died at College Hill sanitarium of Bright's disease. During the last two or three years he spent most of his time in New York.

Fighting In South Africa.

Cape Town, Aug. 2.—Serious fighting took place on Friday in the Langeborg district. The British loss was trifling. The enemy's position in the Gamasiep valley was captured, and the rebels fell back in confusion toward Twaiskloof.

THE GALLO MURDER.

Further Evidence Pointing to the Guilt of the Supposed Murderer.

Lynn, Mass., Aug. 2.—The murder of John Gallo at his shanty in Wakefield last week will be the subject of an inquest to be held in Lynnfield Center. Officers Neal and Vannah have been following up some of the people who knew Williams, the suspected murderer, best in Lynnfield and Wakefield and have tried to find out what became of Williams' watch, which, he says, was stolen at the time he was assaulted, near Wakefield farm, but so far they have been unable to find any trace of it.

Williams says that the money he found in the road in a handkerchief was divided into different bundles, each wrapped around with a yellow band of paper. Antonio Gallo, the brother of the dead man, has since told the police that his brother kept his gold and bills in separate packages, and that he also separated his fives and tens. This is looked upon as a confirmation of the circumstantial evidence against Williams as to how he came by the money found in his room.

FLOODS IN AUSTRIA.

No Abatement In the Rising of the Waters—The Situation Serious.

Vienna, Aug. 2.—There is no abatement of the floods in western and upper Austria. The Danube continues to rise, and the danger is very great. At Linz, 100 miles west of Vienna, and at Mauthausen, enormous damage has been done to property. A heavy stone bridge at Linz has been partly demolished.

A cloudburst is reported from Budweis, Bohemia, on the Moldau, and there has been extensive flooding in the outskirts of Ischl, a fashionable watering place on the Traun.

The visit of the Emperor Francis Joseph to Baden and the proposed trip of King Alexander of Servia from Belgrade to Vienna have been stopped by the floods.

Big Stables Destroyed.

Bernardsville, N. J., Aug. 2.—The extensive stables on the Round Top stock farm have been destroyed by fire. A large quantity of hay and grain was destroyed in the fire. There were about 100 horses on the farm, and many of them were in the stable when the fire broke out. Most of the animals are valuable brood mares, and all were released without difficulty. Among the horses rescued was Athel, a noted stallion, a half brother to Arion. The owner of the farm is F. P. Olcott, president of the National Trust company of New York. The loss is estimated at $7,000 on buildings and other property on hand.

Sentenced For Insulting the Queen.

Simla, Aug. 2.—Maulvi Sidayat Rasoul, who was recently arrested at Lucknow on a charge of insulting Queen Victoria and the British government at a meeting of Mohammedans called to congratulate the sultan on his victories over Greece, on which occasion Maulvi told the assembly that "but for the sultan's forbearance the old woman's ribs would have been broken years ago," has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment. The government offered to accept sureties for his good behavior in lieu of imprisonment, but he could not produce them.

Died of Thirst In the Desert.

Phenix, A. T., Aug. 2.—M. E. Anderson, a broker, with offices at 60 Wall street, New York, has died of thirst and exposure in the desert north of Phenix, and his wife lies at a farmhouse, near this city, in a critical condition. The couple had started to visit their son, on Cave creek, 30 miles north of here, and missing the road drove aimlessly about the desert. A passing teamster saw the crooked tracks and followed them several miles, finding the couple just in time to save the woman's life. Anderson was too far gone to drink the water the teamster offered.

Killed by the Cars.

Brooklyn, Aug. 2.—John Paffner, aged 45 years, employed as a gateman by the Long Island Railroad company at the Brooklyn avenue crossing on Atlantic avenue, was struck by an engine and received injuries, which resulted in his death soon after. Paffner was asleep in the station, when he was awakened by the noise of the approaching train and rushed out for the purpose of lowering the gates. It is supposed that in his half wakened state he became dazed and failed to notice his position, when the locomotive struck him.

The President's Invitation to Reid.

New York, Aug. 2.—The president immediately, on learning of the arrival of Hon. Whitelaw Reid, telegraphed an invitation to himself and wife to make a visit to Mr. and Mrs. McKinley at their country retreat on Lake Champlain, beginning next Saturday. Later Mr. Reid will visit the Hon. John Sherman, the secretary of state. One or two pretended interviews with Mr. Reid were published immediately on his arrival, but they have all been repudiated. Mr. Reid absolutely refused to be interviewed.

Bicyclist's Heart Pierced by a Shaft.

Rahway, N. J., Aug. 2.—While riding his bicycle along St. George avenue, in Linden township, near here, Charles Schilinig, aged 21, was instantly killed by a shaft of a carriage driven by Thomas O'Rourke and Carl Delvias, which pierced Schilinig's heart. The coroner's verdict exonerated the drivers of the carriage from all blame.

Men Refused Cut Wages.

Phillipsburg, N. J., Aug. 2.—The American Sheet Iron company strikers have held a meeting, at which the committee reported the result of its conference with Superintendent Danby. The company offered the men work at cut wages, but they refused to accept this proposition and decided not to depart from their stand.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhœa. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlian's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERG, Allentown, Pa. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park & North Aves., Plainfield.

—Former Street Commissioner Meeker, of West Front street, is having his house painted an attractive color.

"Let me give you a pointer," said M. F. Gregg, a popular conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad. "Do you know that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy cures you when you have the stomach ache? Well, it does." And after giving this friendly bit of advice, the jolly conducter passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this Remedy, which is the best cure for bowel disorders in the world. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, always affords prompt relief. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Peter Hodge and family, of Plainfield avenue, went to Asbury Park today where they will remain for a week.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy, than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

John H. Doane, of LaGrande avenue, left today on his vacation which will be spent at Moscow, Pa.

You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable, and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as is Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottle free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

SAVE THE PALISADES

The House Military Committee Favors a Reservation.

MAY BE TAKEN UP AT NEXT SESSION.

Prompt Action Is Necessary, as Blasting Is Being Constantly Done and the Beauty of the Scenery Marred.

New York, Aug. 2.—The joint commission appointed by New York and New Jersey to protect the palisades has received substantial encouragement from Washington. Stories have been told from time to time of the vicissitudes of the bill prepared by the commission for introduction into congress because of the opposition of property owners along the palisades.

The military committee of the house, Commissioner Waldo G. Morse was recently informed, has determined to report the bill favorably and so authorize the establishment of a military reservation on the western shore of the Hudson. The matter could not be taken up at the special session of congress just ended, for that was called to effect certain specified things, but the disposition of members of congress who have been sounded is very favorable to the bill.

Must Depend on the Government.

"We have now on our side," said Mr. Morse, "the members of congress from New York and New Jersey, and there seems to be a disposition on all sides to assist us. I think at the convening of the next session the matter will be taken up with an earnest desire to forward it.

"I think we will have to depend entirely on the government. New Jersey is not rich, and the palisades lie largely within her boundaries. She could not acquire them without an expenditure of a sum of money which would make a big showing in her tax levies. She already has declared that she will not tax the property included in the proposed palisade reservation and that she will surrender all her claims to the water front. These concessions are considerable and are all, I am afraid, that New Jersey can be induced to make. The government may acquire the property with little expense and preserve the palisades from the destruction which now seems to be almost inevitable unless a strong hand is put upon the vandals who are destroying the base of the cliffs."

The joint commission keeps constant surveillance over the work of the stone crushers and quarries which line the base of the cliffs. Instead of diminution in the destruction during the last six months there has been more work done by the stone men than for two years.

The work is still confined to the accumulations of rock at the base of the cliffs. The face of the magnificent rocks will be preserved, because of their comparative inaccessibility, for a time at least. The desire of the contractors who hold leases of the property along the river seems thus far to be the accumulation of rock for the crushers to supply upper dressing for macadam roads. It is possible that at any time there will be a demand for the rock of the cliffs for building purposes, when the beauty of the cliffs would be doomed.

Action Must Be Prompt.

The blasting which north New York hears every morning is doing its work steadily, and the great bank of fallen rocks at the base of the palisades immediately north of Fort Lee is beginning to show the effect of the constant raids upon it. It is feared that before congress acts the constant destruction of the soil along the river will prevent the possibility of ever restoring the clothing of trees and shrubbery which formerly made the base of the cliffs so beautiful. Already patches of bare soil, sometimes 500 or 600 yards in extent, show where the crushers have been at work with their unsightly buildings, and these are constantly increasing in extent. Injunctions have been issued against these men, but they hold leases from estates and have been victorious in the courts.

Committed Suicide When Becoming Blind.

New York, Aug. 2.—Harvey Heffner, an old man, 71 years of age, who with his aged wife lived in Brooklyn, has committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a 32 caliber revolver. Heffner was removed to the Seney hospital, where he died an hour later. Heffner was in poor circumstances, suffered greatly from asthma and was also gradually losing his sight. The prospect of becoming blind, together with his other afflictions, so worried Heffner that he became despondent and determined to end his earthly troubles.

Servia Protests.

Constantinople, Aug. 2.—The incursions of the Albanians, who attacked almost simultaneously seven Servian frontier blockhouses along the stretch of frontier between Madliza and Rashka, have led the Servian government to make a formal protest to the powers. It is believed that this is part of an organized plan to provoke Servia. The matter is being discussed by the embassadors in conference, with a view of getting an explanation from Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister of foreign affairs.

Large Hay Crop Reported.

Canajoharie, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Reports received from the New England, middle and western states show the conditional average of the hay crop to be 94 per cent; that of the whole country 92½ per cent, with 2 per cent increase in acreage, indicating the largest crop grown in many years. On this account, it is thought, there will be a large attendance at the National Hay convention to be held at Pittsburg on the 10th, 11th and 12th of this month.

Drowned Bodies Recovered.

Newburyport, Mass., Aug. 2.—The bodies of Patrick Knight and John Hoar, the fishermen from the Boston schooner Sylvester Whalen, who were drowned by the capsizing of their dory, have been found on the beach at Plum island by the patrol.

Life Savers Start Work.

Some of Those Received From Foreign Representatives.

SAY IT WILL RETARD COMMERCE.

Some of the Ministers Disclaim Any Intention to Interfere, but Speak For the Benefit of International Trading—Views of Others.

Washington, Aug. 2.—In a late number of The Congressional Record containing speeches on the tariff conference report is a speech by M. N. Johnston of North Dakota, in which he makes a compilation of the protests received by the state department from the representatives of foreign governments against certain duties imposed in the Dingley tariff bill while that measure was pending. Some of these protests have been made public, others have been referred to the committees of congress having the tariff bill in charge, and little or no attention has been paid to them.

Nearly all of these communications revert to the commerce between the several countries and the United States. They insist that the new tariff will retard that commerce, and some of them intimate that it will result in decreasing the demand for American goods. Some of the ministers disclaim any intention to interfere in the internal affairs of the United States, but make the representations for the benefit of the commerce between the countries. Some suggestions are made that the injury to be done the treasury of the United States on account of the imposition of the proposed duties will be considerable.

Minister Brun of Denmark calls attention to the fact that the tariff on American goods going into Denmark is very favorable and that his government views with a great deal of apprehension the pending tariff bill and the rates especially. He says that the admission of Danish products on a favorable tariff would only be a fair return for the rates granted American products. The Danish products which he said would be greatly affected by the new bills were beer, cement, white cabbage, hemp seed, porcelain, hides and skins, wool, rags, pebbles, lime, chalk, gloves, leather, condensed milk, granite, monuments, dairy machinery and deecker tents.

Three Communications From Italy.

There were three communications from Baron Fava, the Italian embassador. The first protests against the duty on Italian oranges and lemons, which, he says, would prove very disastrous to the Italian trade in these fruits. A second communication from Baron Fava is against the 60 per cent duty on candied fruits, which the manufacturers of Leghorn say would destroy their market in the United States. In a third communication Baron Fava speaks of a letter of the secretary of agriculture in which he refers to a ministerial decree of Italy relating to meats from the United States. This decree requires a consular vise for certificates of origin issued by American authorities and accompanying shipments of meats. Baron Fava informs the state department that the question has been submitted for examination to the zootechnic and epizootic board. The embassador adds:

"His majesty's government, however, desires to perform a friendly act toward the United States by frankly forewarning it that it could in no case be induced to modify the provisions contained in the aforesaid decree, in accordance with the desire expressed by the department of agriculture, if the United States should persist in retaining in the new customs tariff the exorbitant duties to which I have had the honor to call your excellency's attention in my preceding written and verbal communications. The same warning has been communicated, with the same amicable intent, by my government to the representative of the United States at Rome."

Count Lichtervelde, minister of Belgium, sent three communications concerning the tariff. One referred to the retroactive clause adopted by the house and pointed out that it worked great hardship upon those who were shipping articles which could not be safely transported in the winter, such as plants and bulbs. The other communications refer to the rates on cement, sprats and sardines. He says that the discontinuance of exportation of Belgium cement would result disastrously to grain exported from the United States, on account of the higher rates that would be charged, because vessels would have to sail one way in ballast.

The Sultan Has a Say.

The Turkish government protests against the duty of $1 per pound on crude opium and says that the tariff cannot be for the purpose of protecting a home industry or secure increased revenue. He thinks the revenue of the government would suffer, but says that in case it did not the cost of the drug used for medicinal purposes would be greatly increased to the consumers.

J. B. Pioda, minister of Switzerland, says that the new tariff will be disastrous to three principal industries of Switzerland—Swiss embroidered goods, silks, watches and clocks.

He says his government "appeals to the sentiments of friendship and equity of its sister republic." He submitted what the Swiss government desired, as follows:

"That bolting cloth remain on the free list and that there be no increase in the rates on silk piece goods, silk ribbons, embroideries, Swiss watches and watch movements and tar colors."

Sir Julian Pauncefort sent two very brief communications, one in December, 1896, informing Mr. Olney that the fishery board of Scotland protested against the high rate on cured herrings and that at the request of the Marquis of Salisbury he represented to the United States government that the high rates which the Dingley bill imposes on salt mackerel and other cured fish would cause grave injury to the fishermen on the west coast of Ireland. This note is dated June 18.

The consul general of Greece protests against the rate imposed on Zante currants and raisins.

Fifty-three Irish members of the British parliament join in a letter to President McKinley, saying that the duty on cured mackerel and herring caught on the west coast of Ireland will work a great hardship to the Irish fishermen.

China made a protest on lines similar to those of Japan.

OUSTING POSTMASTERS.

By securing the appointment and confirmation of George N. Wimer, as postmaster at Palmyria, Burlington county, Congressman Gardner believes he has established the precedent that the Demoratic incumbents in New Jersey postoffices will be allowed to serve only for such a length of time as will cover four years from the date when Republican postmasters turned over their offices under the recent Cleveland administration. This precedent wholly ignores the date of a postmaster's confirmation, and makes no exceptions for cases in which Democratic postmasters either died or were removed and other Democrats were appointed for a new term of four years. There are many offices in New Jersey affected by this ruling, but it is believed that the particular office Mr. Gardner had in mind was the Atlantic City postoffice, to which Postmaster Devine was appointed last year and only confirmed a few months ago. In the ordinary course of events, Mr Devine's term would not expire until 1901, but as his predecessor was appointed in 1894, it is likely that Congressman Gardner will try to have him removed next year, and a Republican appointed in his stead.—Summit Record.

A LEGISLATIVE FORECAST.

A Trenton correspondent says that the Democrats cannot capture the next Legislature unless they get six or seven members in Essex county. On the legislative ticket, the Democrats may reasonably indulge the hope that they will elect Assemblymen as follows, that is if they are in a condition to make an earnest contest: Hudson, 11; Bergen, 2; Sussex, 1; Hunterdon, 2; Warren, 2; Monmouth, 3; Middlesex, 3. That would be a total of 24. Should they elect 11 in Essex then they would have the Legislature on joint ballot very probably. And besides they would have the counties of Union, Somerset, Cape May, Passaic and Salem to fall back upon with a chance of getting more members.

The Mountain Chautauqua.

This famous Chautauqua, at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, opens its session August 4th and closes August 24th. It is the most superb and sensible summer resort in America. Its height, 2,800 feet above sea level, means a delightful climate and unsurpassed mountain views. Five well appointed hotels and 250 cottages open their doors to tourists at from $5 to $12 per week. Twenty departments of important school work are in the hands of specialists. The best lecturers, singers and entertainers in the country appear three times daily. The programme is unequalled. Here is a chance to mix a little intellectual uplift with your vacation. Mountain Lake Park is located on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., and as all the fast trains stop at the Park during the summer, patrons have the advantage of their superb train service between the east and the west. Round trip tickets will be sold from all stations east of the Ohio river for all trains August 2d to 23d, valid for return trip until August 31st, at one single fare for the round trip. Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Imitation Pianos

are sold every day to unwary purchasers, who buy them because they look well and don't cost much. A man who buys a piano of this kind is simply throwing money away, just as much as if he had bought a garment from a tailor "at a low price" and found, after the first rainstorm, that he couldn't get it on his back. Good Pianos can be produced for so much and no less. A new Piano that is "Cheap" is not a Piano at all—only an imitation.

We don't sell imitation Pianos, but we sell more genuine Pianos at lower prices than anybody else hereabouts.

JURY SO DECIDES IN THE CASE OF SCHWINEFURTH AGAINST ANDERS.

Westfield Club Baseball Team Losses a a Game to Cranford—Big Sunday School Excursion—Items of Personal Interest.

The case of Schwinefurth against Anders, on contract, was tried by a jury in Justice Collin's court, Saturday afternoon. A man in the employ of Schwinefurth collected money which Anders owed his employer, and left for parts unknown. Schwinefurth demanded the amount of Anders, and on being refused brought action. Charles H. Angleman was attorney for the plaintiff and Paul Q. Oliver appeared for the defense. The trial hinged upon the question of whether the man who collected the money was the plaintiff's agent or not. A number of witnesses were called on both sides. After hearing all the evidence the jury consisting of Martin Pickell, John Ledley, Irving I. Ross, Stephen Mapes, William Grogan and George Peek, found a verdict of $34.33 for the plaintiff. The case will probably be appealed.

The Westfield Club's baseball team played the Cranford team on the North Broad street grounds Saturday afternoon, and the visiting team won by the score of 13 to 9. At the close of the eighth inning the score was 9 to 9. In the ninth Cranford went first to the bat, and the first two men who came up were struck out by Higgins, Westfield's pitcher. The next man pounded the ball and got first. Two more base hits, one base on balls and a final two base hit brought in four runs for Cranford. The home team failed to score again. Much dissatisfaction was shown at the umpire's decisions.

The sixteenth annual excursion of the Presbyterian, Baptist, Branch Mills, Locust Grove and Willow Grove Sunday-schools of Westfield, and the Baptist, Methodist and Episcopal Sunday-schools of Scotch Plains, will go to Ocean Grove tomorrow. The excursion train will be in two sections of thirteen cars each, which will leave Fanwood at 8:05 o'clock a. m., and Westfield at 8:15.

NOT A $1,200 PREACHER.

Rev. H. M. Lowry, of Rahway, Has His Salary Reduced.

The New York Journal this morning published a story concerning Rev. H. M. Lowry, pastor of the First Baptist church of Rahway, and a former resident of this city, in which it is stated that the Board of Trustees of the church have decided to reduce his salary from $1,800 to $1,200.

Pastor Lowry says he is not a $1,200 preacher, and will not submit to the reduction. The Board of Trustees say the church cannot afford such a high salary, and if he does not like the reduction there will be a vacancy in the Baptist pulpit.

Pastor Lowry went to Rahway from Port Jefferson, L. I., four years ago. The congregation rallied around him and the church was soon in flourishing condition. As time went on a disaffection arose among the young men, brought about, it is said, by the pastor's bluntness of speech when speaking of them. This, coupled with the fact that out of a congregation of 250 only ninety contribute in any way, led to the trustees' action.

Mrs. Lowry died in August last. During her illness Miss Aldrich, who had been a member of Mr. Lowry's Bible class at Port Jefferson, went to Rahway to nurse her former teacher. After Mrs. Lowry's death Pastor Lowry paid an extended visit to Port Jefferson. He was seen in company with Miss Aldrich a great deal, and the rumor became current that they were engaged, and that the wedding would be celebrated in June. When these rumors reached Rahway Pastor Lowry indignantly denied them.

STOCK FARM STABLES BURNED.

A Big Fire Endangered the Lives of Valuable Horses.

The extensive stables on the Round Top Stock Farm at Bernardsville were destroyed by fire yesterday morning. A large quantity of hay and grain was destroyed in the fire. There were about 100 horses on the farm and many of them were in the stable when the fire broke out. Mos of the animals are valuable. The fire broke out in a portion of the stables well removed from where the horses were. When it was discovered, everyone about the place hurried to the stables to release the animals. All were taken out in safety and driven to a pasture lot. Several of the mares had colts with them. The owner of the farm is F. P. Olcott, president of the Central Trust Company, of New York. The loss is estimated at $7,000.

THEATRICAL.

The Kennedy Players will present the celebrated play, "Two Orphans," tonight, with an all star cast. The following people have starred in these plays: Jno. J. Kennedy in the "Two Thieves;" E. P. Sullivan, in "Ingomar;" Carrie Louis, in "Frou Frou;" the El More sisters in "The Little Detectives;" Gertrude Dion Magill, in "The Banker's Daughter;" "Flora," with her own Vaudeville stars; E. M. Crane, in "Rip Van Winkle;" Frank Laton, in the celebrated "Musical Tramp. These great people will all be seen at the Stillman Theatre tonight at 10, 20 and 30 cents. The latest London fad of perfuming the house will be introduced.

SALE NO. 2.

Tuesday we commence the greatest sale of table linen, towels, napkins, handkerchiefs and wash goods that this town of yours and ours ever saw. Great because your dollar will do the work of two; great because the goods advertised were bought at half their value; some wet, but all as good as the day they were made.

The following lots are all from the steamer "City of Rome" and were slightly damaged by water during a fire on board and were sold by order of the fire underwriters—

On with the Story.

Strong Linen Logic.

You know what the new tariff will do with linens, advance them from 25 to 40 per cent; these lots fresh from the great Scotch and Irish makers, cold as a stone. Flax! yes, every thread of them, not a half-cotton substitute; good time to buy; good place to buy them here.

WON'T VOTE ANYHOW

WESTERN WOMEN WHO ARE CAMPAIGNING AGAINST IT

Plans of a League Formed in Chicago Under Mrs. Corbin's Leadership to Hinder the Work of Woman Suffrage Advocates—Commotion Reigns in Their Camp.

Commotion reigns in the camp of the Chicago suffragist.

The army of the anti-suffragist is coming.

"Let the enemy come," fearlessly cry the suffrage hosts in answer to the sudden warning. "These women will ignobly defeat themselves on their own arguments when they begin the wordy war. The more they talk the better we like it. Let them come, we say."

The anti-suffrage women in Chicago have appealed to women in the four corners of the state. Whoever will may enlist, providing she be willing to to be brought within ten days of Lonmarch under the spirited title, "Illinois Association Opposed to the Extension of Suffrage to Women." As the caption vigorously implies, the champions of this organization are actively opposed to any measures which will enfranchise the fair sex. It is the first invasion in the west of organized suffrage opponents, who in the east are commonly called remonstrants.

The fair general of the anti-suffrage army is Mrs. Caroline Corbin. It is rather significant that her co-operators in the prospective campaign are for the most part women of wealth who live in some of the handsomest houses of the most fashionable boulevards in Chicago. They are women who possess all the privileges that go with the coveted pot of gold, and such suffrage arguments as "taxation without representation" do not cut much of a figure in their exchequer accounts. Some of them are known in a philanthropic way, and most of them are social leaders. They are not strictly domestic women, nor are they particularly aggressive outside the four walls of home.

Not for a minute is it to be believed Mrs. Corbin is a demure home-body who crochets on rainy days. To tell the truth, she appears to be as much of a busybody as the most aggressive suffragist. Mrs. Corbin says herself she has not been home much in the last three years, and, of course, she ought to know. In appearance she is an earnest, agreeable-looking woman of middle age, with snow-white hair.

The story goes that Mrs. Corbin was once the schoolmate of the suffragist leader, Miss Susan B. Anthony.

Years after these two women met in Washington, and Miss Anthony asked: "What have you been doing all these years?"

"Bringing up four boys," answered Mrs. Corbin.

"Boys!" scornfully exclaimed the outspoken Susan. "What under the sun is a woman with your brains doing with four boys?"

"Would you have me strangle them?" was the retort.

"Bosh," was the emphatic answer, "you should never have had them. They will grow up to be men—nothing but men."

From that minute Mrs. Caroline Corbin resolved to be an active anti-suffragist. And she is fulfilling that vow right here in Chicago.

In a remonstrance to the Illinois legislature, by the anti-suffragists one paragraph is caustic. It reads: "It is sometimes said that women object to being classed by the constitution with minors, idiots, criminals, paupers and the insane.

"There may be some force in this plea. Personally, we have never been practically inconvenienced by the fact. But if there are any women who feel themselves in danger of being confounded with any of the above-mentioned classes, of course, they have a right to complain; we do not think the feeling is general."

After answering the well-known arguments of the suffragist, this document to the Springfield solons concluded with this climax:

Will you as legislators, pledged to act for the best interests of the commonwealth, at the behest of a very small minority of women of the state, take the responsibility of doubling our already too large, ignorant and irresponsible vote? Of putting questions of taxation and expenditure in the hands of those who have the least experience as producers and conservors of property? Will you reduce the power of women in their own estate by exacting of them duties which belong to yours? Will you, in short, overturn the settled order of civilized society, and make a muddle of what the ages have been engaged in reducing to system and regularity? We entreat you, in spite of that well-known amiability which predisposes every son of Adam, to yield to the persistent importunities of women, to take counsel of your own right reason, and act in accordance with what we are sure its dictates will be found to be.

SLEEVE HAS LITTLE FULNESS.

The New Way of Mounting a Gown Adds Much to Its Beauty.

(By Special Arrangement with the N. Y. Sun.)

As the season advances Dame Fashion's fancies materialize very rapidly, and it may be recorded to her credit that dress, in its best form, has never been prettier or more becoming than it is now.

The dominant note in all the fashions this season is the use of thin materials. Have what you will; if it is only transparent enough to show a gleam of color from the lining, it will pass muster. The muslin gown is decidedly one of fashion's specialties, and has a leading place among her favorites. The new mode of mounting some of these simple gowns is a development in the art of dressmaking that adds much to their beauty, as well as expense. For example, a skirt of colored chiffon in dainty apple green is first hung over one of white taffeta silk, and over this is the real dress of white organdie, as plain or as much berufflled with lace as you wish. The soft, delicate tinge of green gives an exquisite effect, especially under the embroidered muslins so much worn.

The sleeves of all the thin gowns are more or less trimmed with tucks, insertions and shirrings, from the wrist to the puff at the top; but the latest of all is the sleeve which has no puffs or frills, and is simply an easy fitting, close sleeve, increasing a little in size toward the shoulder in proportion to the arm. It is trimmed on the entire length to redeem the plain effect, but it shows which way the wheel will turn as regards our sleeves in the autumn. Some of the latest evening gowns have long transparent sleeves of chiffon, or net slightly shirred, and close at the top, with no frills, puffs or drapery, the flat effect being relieved somewhat by bows of ribbon or the shoulders.

A yoke effect fifteen inches deep around the hips is one of the season's modes which is effectively carried out in striped linen, flounced with pink and lined with pink silk. This yoke is made of alternating bands of lace insertion and tucked white mousseline de soie, below which the skirt hangs full and plain, gathered on with a little heading. The full bodice, matching the yoke has a wide draped belt of pink silk and a cravat of the mousseline trimmed across the ends with lace.

CURRENT COMMENT.

A duty of 5 cents a dozen has been placed on Canadian eggs. Even our spellbinders will receive some protection.

Senator Vest in a tariff speech the other day referred to cider as a "beverage which cheers but not inebriates." All of which proves that the senator is not thoroughly familiar with the mysteries of applejack.

Macon, Mo., claims the center of the stage with a story about a hailstorm which distributed chunks of ice, gratis, which were larger than those furnished by the ice companies at 10 cents each.

Tennessee has some very good papers or some mighty mean men, or both. The Tazewell Times says: "Owing to our regular edition being stolen Tuesday night we are a little late in making our appearance this week."

Before that intercollegiate boat race on the Hudson Mr. Cook, trainer for Yale, and Mr. Lehmann, trainer for Harvard, kindly gave out an interview for publication in which they said: "We are quite agreed that both Yale and Harvard will defeat Cornell." But, unfortunately, Cornell didn't agree.

New amusements and forms of recreation, especially those of the outdoor variety, are revolutionizing dress at a rapid pace. The presence as a visitor on the Senate floor one day recently of a member of the House clad in a cycling suit broke the traditions of that chamber, and caused something of a stir.

Eighteen iced drinking fountains are maintained through the summer in Providence, R. I. The first was established in 1849 by the Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and later the city authorities took hold of the work. About forty tons of ice are required for each fountain during the season. It is placed in an ice-chamber containing coils of pipe.

The name of the late Capt. Boycott is used both as a noun and a verb without any alteration, which is an unusual occurrence. Gov. Gerry, of Massachusetts, also furnished a noun and verb, but his name was expanded into garrymander. He opposed the legislative trick, and yet, through the irony of fate, his name is used to describe it.

Kansas has a peculiar way to gauge the heat. Instead of reading the thermometer she counts the empty beer kegs. "Yesterday," remarks the Emporia Gazette, "was a very warm day. Thirty-five kegs and seventeen cases were sent back to Missouri last night, empty." This is something new in the line of spirit thermometers.

England's greatest man was not in the jubilee procession, but modestly celebrated it in his own town. Gladstone is too big a personage to be wanted in royal pageants.

The British member of Parliament who questioned his government about the deposing of the Hawaiian Queen "by a small body of Americans" is reminded that George III. met with a similar experience in some of his large colonies.

There is a difference of opinion concerning the effects of the long arctic night on explorers or visitors. Nansen says it caused no discomfort to him. But a surgeon under Peary declares that during the prolonged darkness "the mind was depressed and all animal functions became less active. Vague muscular pains, vertigo, cerebral congestion and anaemia indicated the sluggish circulation." By Christmas the party was lethargic and melancholy, and the returning light found their skin jaundiced and pale.

A 10-year-old son of Princess Beatrice is lavish with his pocket money, and wrote to the Queen for the loan of a sovereign. The Queen sent him a kindly letter of counsel about spendthrift habits, but made no inclosure. Two days later the following reply was received: "Dear Grandma, I received your letter. Do not think I was sorry to get only your reproving words. Your good advice has been much appreciated. I have sold your letter to an autograph collector for £4 10s."

For thirty-five years, at intervals, Mr. Keely has been calling in a select company to witness the first practical operation of his etheric engine. To a certain extent it moves, but something in the machinery is found to be not quite right, and a few more weeks for rectification are necessary. Perhaps a year or two elapses, and the performance is then repeated. A generation has passed since the inventor announced that he had discovered and applied a new force in nature. He has never had much trouble in making converts, and they stand by him with a faith that can not be shaken. Yet it is always next month or next year that the final practical results are to be attained and the mechanical world revolutionized. An invention that fails to reach daylight after experiments for a third of a century and the expenditure of several fortunes, represents an ethical curiosity rather than an etheric force.

CHICAGO'S Y. M. CHRISTIANS.

Their Creed Works Well Even From a Material Point of View.

One of the finest of Chicago's downtown constructions is the Y. M. C. A. building, on the east side of LaSalle street, midway between Madison and Monroe streets, and the humanitarian work carried on here corresponds, as the following official announcement of the association shows:

"The Young Men's Christian association has been in Chicago for forty years. During this time it has grown from an organization of limited scope and small equipment to its present strength and standing in the community.

CHICAGO'S Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

"Its object has always been the highest and truest development of young men. Its doors are open to every young man who has an ambition in life, and whose purpose is to attain it.

"The theory of the association is to help young men help themselves.

"The test of membership is not nationality, occupation, nor religious belief. Character is the only test.

"During the past season 823 different young men availed themselves of educational class privileges; 1,200 more attended the gymnasium, while 2,000 more who applied to the association for employment were advised with and assisted in helping themselves."

PAPER MADE BY HAND.

Coreans Produce a Very Fine Quality From Bark and Without Machinery.

A remarkable paper is made in Korea entirely by manual labor which excels in quality the very best made in China or Japan. The raw material is obtained from the bark of Broussonetia papyrifera, which is collected in the Spring and beaten in water containing a large admixture of wood ashes, until reduced to thick pulp; this is taken in large ladles and spread upon frames of bamboo, and in this way formed into thin sheets. Another kind of paper is produced from old scraps trodden into pulp, much in the same way that grape juice is expressed in some countries, a process of pulping which, though slow, has the advantage of not breaking the fibre so much as when machinery is used; then, after the pulp has been made into paper, the sheets are piled up to a height of six feet and cut into pieces, to be again subjected to the feet stamping—at the same time the roots and seeds of a plant called "tackpoul" are added, the soluble parts of which are supposed to give tenacity and toughness to the paper.—Philadelphia Record.

Swore Off on Mixed Drinks.

"They tell me, uncle, that you have sworn off to some extent of late."

"Yo'm torkin' Gospel truf'e, sah; 'deed yo' is."

"As I understand it, you have made a vow not to indulge any more in mixed drinks."

"Dat's a fack, sah."

"I am very glad to hear it. That is surely a move in the right direction, and may lead to further and complete reform."

"Yassir; yo' see, de water in dis part er de kentry am got so mix wid w'at de doctors calls backterriers an' de like er dat, dat mer belt couldn't put up wid it, an' I jus' hatter fill in wid plain sperit. Oh, yassir, I done kyored mer-se'f er drinkin' mix' bev'rages."—Richmond Dispatch.

Agreed With Him.

"A man who tries tho argue with a woman is a fool," shouted Mr. Meribole, as the discussion waxed warm.

"Yes, I've found it so," responded Mrs. Meribole, in her most conciliatory tones.—Detroit News.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings make them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the materia, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

STOMACH REBELS AT A KNIFE.

Henry Whallen, the Human Ostrich, Submits to an Operation.

Harry Whallen, known as the human ostrich, was operated on at the German Hospital in Kansas City the other day as a final means of saving his life.

Whallen, who is twenty-six years old, is a glass-eater and contortionist. The barnstorming company he was traveling with was stranded at St. Louis, and he started for Kansas City, giving knife and nail swallowing exhibitions in the little towns along the way. One day after he had swallowed the City Marshal barlow knife he began to have pains in his stomach.

When he arrived at Kansas City, two days later, he was almost dead from exhaustion.

He told his story to Assistant City Physician H. Smythe, who took an X-ray photograph of his stomach and found the presence of a foreign mass. It was then decided to perform an operation upon Whallen. He was removed to the German Hospital, where City Health Officer E. Von Quast made an incision in his stomach and removed about one-half of a pound of hardware.

The following is an accurate inventory of the things taken from Whallen's stomach: One four-bladed knife, three and a half inches long; one two inches long; one two-bladed knife, four inches long; one knife blade three and a quarter inches long; one knife blade three inches long; two knife blades two inches long, one knife blade one inch long, twenty-eight large eight and ten penny fence nails and spikes, thirty one six-penny wire nails, sharp pointed; twenty-six shingle nails, one inch long; sixteen carpet tacks and small wire nails, one horseshoe nail, three large screws, one barbed-wire staple, and three ounces of fine glass.—New York Times.

Beggar—Possibly, sir—possibly. You see I'm a stranded photographer, and the old habit of retouching clings, sir.—Philadelphia Record.

Red Eagle and His Salvation Lassie.

Red Eagle, the Indian who became well known as the leader of the Salvation Army in several Kansas towns, has deserted to the Volunteers, the rival organization. He fell in love with one of the Salvation Army lasses, and, as the members of that organization could not or would not reconcile the marriage of one of their number to an Indian, the said parties of the first and second part took their doll rags and their affections and went into the Volunteers' yard, where the course of true love is supposed to run smooth.—Topeka State Journal.

MINERS GATHERING.

A Great Crowd Expected at the Meeting at Turtle Creek.

AN EXCITED BUT ORDERLY ASSEMBLY

Complete Change In the Make Up of the Campers, and the Latest Are Noticeable For the Large Number of Foreigners.

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.—All roads lead to Turtle Creek. Marching miners from all over the district were converging toward Camp Determination, and if all those reported as being on the march reach the scene there will be at least 6,000 diggers present at the big meeting at McCrea's schoolhouse. The miners expect 8,000 to be on hand.

The borough of Turtle Creek experienced yesterday the liveliest day in its history, with its large transient population of miners and curious visitors, but the day passed without trouble of any kind. Burgess Teats of the borough visited the miners' camp and said he had no reason to order the crowd to disband, and as long as peace prevails he will not disturb them.

There has been a complete shift in the make up of the campers. The men from the Wheeling division of the Baltimore and Ohio, who have been on guard ever since the big movement against the De Armitt men was insugurated, have left for their homes at Finleyville, Gastonville, Snowden, White Hall and Banksville. These same men, after reaching home and recuperating somewhat, have formed new divisions and have returned to the seat of war in order to attend the big meeting. While the old guard was flitting new men were taking their places and took charge of the watch that is to be kept up until all of the New York and Cleveland men quit work.

Saturday's guard was noticeable for the absence of foreigners. The gathering on watch yesterday is just the reverse and is composed almost entirely of the foreign element, which is much more excitable than the others and much harder to control. This phase gives to the situation a more serious aspect.

Over 1,000 weary strikers have been quartered at Camp Determination and about 100 at Camp Desperation, and about 400 lounged about the hills above and back of Turtle Creek.

Grand Rush For Provisions.

When the first batch of 650 marchers arrived on the scene, they were very hungry and clamored for food. There were provisions enough left for 200 men, and a grand rush was made for the provision wagon, and the result was many went hungry. About this time Organizer Miller arrived on the scene and announced that a Pittsburg baker had donated 1,000 loaves of bread and a grocer had given a dozen cheeses. To prevent another rush, Miller organized a guard, and all were satisfied for the time being. As large donations of food have been promised there is not likely to be a repetition of the scramble.

Among the most prominent visitors at the miners' Turtle Creek camp have been General John Little, president, and Joseph Bishop, secretary, of the Ohio state board of arbitration. They are ready to solicit signatures to the uniformity agreement and were present to get the status of affairs among the strikers. General Little expressed some surprise at the demonstration. He said he had often seen miners on strike in the Buckeye State, but never had seen them assembled under such circumstances. He said he was pleased with the apparent manifestations of peace.

Sheriff Harvey A. Lowrey spent yesterday afternoon in Turtle Creek consulting with his deputies. Chief Deputy James Richards was in the district all Saturday night. Sheriff Lowrey said that he would not interfere with the strikers in holding meetings if they acted orderly. He will not allow them to go on the property of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, nor will he allow them to act disorderly when marching on the road.

Men Said to Be Begging For Work.

T. E. De Armitt, manager of the Oak Hill mine, said that he had been importuned by men for positions in the mines. He said he had given 15 of them places. He added that two men had offered to supply him with 50 good miners to go to work Thursday. He was receiving letters in every mail from miners in various portions of the district asking for places in the New York and Cleveland mines. Concerning the action of some of his men, he said they had come to him saying that they will be glad to go to work as soon as the excitement is over. He was emphatic in the statement if the old men did not return to work soon he had many others who would take their places.

Secretary Warner says the miners' officials have decided to bring an action in equity against Sheriff Harvey A. Lowrey, asking for an injunction restraining that official from executing the provisions of the proclamation. He said the proclamation was in violation of law, and they would go into court to have that point settled. "I believe the proclamation is illegal," said Warner, "and we are going to try and find out if the sheriff has a right to interfere with a peaceable assemblage.

A Surprise In Store.

Fairmont, W. Va., Aug. 2.—"There is a surprise in store for the operators of this region," said Joseph Rea last night. "Inside of 48 hours there will be several additions to the men already out."

There is more in Rea's words than many people think. He has been here since last Wednesday and has had two or three meetings each day. Not in the usual way, but has quietly gone to some schoolhouse or some public hall, and the miners have gathered there as if by magic.

At Monongah the meeting was a repetition of the success at Palatin and Catawba. At Worthington he will make a speech to the men. Four more organizers will join Mr. Rea and Ed Davis, his aid. Davis has gone to Clarksburg to organize the Kinnickinnick, Glenwood and Despar men, who are all out.

Rea says he is highly elated over the prospects and thinks West Virginia will come out. Mahon has telegraphed from Charleston that the Kanawha and New River men have struck for 50 cents a ton and a check weighman. Rea says he intends to call on Special Judge John W. Mason, who granted the injunction, and that he wants to know what the judge means. He does no know whether the injunction attempts to keep him from holding meetings in the public roads or not.

There are more signs of a general laying down of picks than there has been since the strike began. None of the operators have contracts of more than 10 days in length. The men say if they do not come out the other miners will go back, and they will return to the 25 cent rates.

BICYCLISTS INJURED.

Fourteen Riders and Six Spectators Injured at a Meet In Cleveland.

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—Fourteen bicycle riders and six bystanders were more or less injured at the bicycle races at Scenic park. None of the injuries resulted fatally, but one of the spectators of the race, Edward Thompson, was in an unconscious condition for several hours and, it was feared, sustained serious internal injuries, while Charles A. Callaghan, one of the riders, received an ugly cut on his head which extended from his right eye to his ear. He afterward endeavored to finish the race in which the accident took place, but fell from his wheel unconscious before he had gone more than 100 yards.

The two accidents were the direct result of an overcrowded race track. They occurred in the fourth event, a five mile handicap, in which there were 42 entries. The following are those injured:

Edward Thompson, internal injuries and bruises about the face and head; Charles A. Callaghan, bad cut, extending from eye to left ear; F. A. Moross, Detroit, bruises about lower limbs; F. A. Robishaw, right arm badly injured; W. Frobishaw, badly bruised about the hands and face; E. J. Merkle, right arm bruised and cut; Thomas Heffron, sprained ankle and bruised shoulders; John Hill, thumb crushed; A. Wood, painful bruises upon lower limbs and face badly scratched; H. H. Woods, bruises on back and shoulders; F. L. Cowles, hip dislocated and badly bruised; F. W. Skinner, bad bruises upon lower limbs; William Lockwood, sprained back and bruises about head and face; John Neely, legs and arms bruised and face badly scratched.

In addition to these, several bystanders, who were mixed up in the accident, sustained painful injuries, but fearing notoriety left the park soon after the accident occurred, refusing to disclose their identity.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY.

A Bartender Waylaid and Shot While Near His Home.

Lynn, Mass., Aug. 2.—The atrocious assault and shooting by two masked highwaymen of Owen J. Barker almost at his own door on Alley street is the talk of the entire city. The bullet has been extracted from Barker's back, and he has a slight chance for recovery, although his physicians do not have much hope. The police have thus far been unable to find the slightest trace of the assailants. All the marshes and approaches to the city have been carefully searched.

Barker, it appears, was not a teamster, as at first reported, but a bartender for Thomas G. King, who is ill. It has been Barker's custom to carry the day's receipts home with him at night. The night before the shooting, however, he carried the money to Mr. King, at the latter's house, and when the assault occurred Barker had only his own money and very little of that upon his person.

The police think that the men who attempted to waylay Barker were familiar with his habits and with the business methods of the saloon.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

As a result of a mountain slide on the southern slope of the Koppen, one of the Riesen-Gebirge peaks in Germany, six persons were killed.

General Count von Blumenthal the only surviving commander of the Prussian army of 1870-1, has just completed a term of 70 years' service.

It is stated that Dwight L. Moody, the noted evangelist, is about to resign from active labor and that he will be succeeded by Rev. William Patterson of Toronto, now in Ireland.

Fannie Gaffin, 13 years old, ascending in the elevator of the Cataract Paper company's mill at Niagara Falls, put her head out of the door and was instantly killed, the head being almost severed from the body.

Thirty-two employees of the San Francisco mint have been discharged, in accordance with instructions from Washington, on account of the stoppage of the coinage of silver, the appropriation for which is already exhausted.

The jury in the trial of Charles W. Spalding, treasurer of the Illinois State university and president of the Globe Savings bank, has returned a verdict of guilty. The trial was on an indictment charging Spalding with hypothecating $25,000 of Maccupin county bonds.

Italian Stabbing Affray.

Waltham, Mass., Aug. 2.—Nunzio Jordano has been seriously stabbed near the heart by another Italian during a row in a camp at the Cambridge water basin. The assailant is Bernard De—, who, with his brother, took to the woods after the trouble. Jordano was caught in a swamp later.

Weather Predictions.

Generally fair, slightly warmer; variable winds, becoming southerly.

ITEMS INTERESTING TO DEVOTEES OF THE STEEL STEEDS.

The Popular Exercise Provides Incidents and Expressions That are of Especial Moment When Wheeling is the Rage.

F. C. Harder, of Central avenue, has purchased a new wheel and enjoys riding very much.

Miss Cora Mooney, of Grove street, has joined the army of cyclers and is riding a new wheel.

Harry Gorrell, night operator at the Western Union office, rode his wheel to Belle Mead and back last Saturday.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of Monroe Avenue church, started this morning on a three weeks' wheel trip through the New England states.

GOLF.

It is expected that the next handicap play on the grounds of the Hillside Golf Club will be held next Saturday providing there is a sufficient number of players present to participate.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

City Judge DeMeza and F. A. Dunham, of this city, returned this morning from Barnegat, where they tried their luck at fishing. They caught about 150 fish on Saturday.

PUSHED THE BUTTON ON THE SHOT.

Plainfield Photographers Escaped Injury to Take Pictures of a Wreck.

J. Hervey Doane, of LaGrande avenue, and Robert Lee, of West Fourth street, were given a chance to take some remarkable pictures and at the same time had a very narrow escape from serious injury, Friday afternoon. They were returning from Delaware Water Gap by the New York, Susquehanna and Western railroad, when a coal car broke loose from a train on top of the mountain, which the passenger train was climbing, and came down the side of the moutain at full speed.

The engineer and fireman jumped when the car struck, but had stopped their train first. The car was wrecked and the locomotive partially so. The passengers, including the two Plainfielders, were badly shaken up, but escaped serious injury. The two Plainfielders had their cameras with them and photographed the wreck. The accident occurred near Blairstown.

SOCIAL CLUB'S PICNIC.

Rode to Florida Grove in Stages and Enjoyed a Clambake and Baseball.

The West End Social Club went on a picnic to Florida Grove in stages yesterday. At the Grove a clambake and a baseball game were enjoyed. Fred Frey gave some amusing comic sketches, and John Moran sang a number of selections for the entertainment of the club. At a late hour the return ride was enjoyed to this city, and the members voted the picnic one of the most successful in the club's history.

The Glad Tidings Tent.

Evangelist George C. Needham will speak this evening at 7:45 o'clock. All members of the Union Bible class are expected to be present. The public is invited. EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Andrew Walls, of Liberty street, rode to Weston on his bicycle yesterday.

—The finest Jenny Lind muskmelons are those at Neuman Bros. grocery store.

—The Catholic Club will meet tonight at its club house, corner of West Sixth and Liberty streets.

—Plainfield Lodge No. 44, I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting tonight and initiate a recently elected member.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Traynor, of Liberty street, was made happy yesterday by the arrival of a young son.

—The choir at the First Baptist church has disbanded until the fall months. C. W. McCutchen acted as precentor yesterday at the morning services.

—The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon was largely attended. After the regular meeting addressed by F. C. Harder, an interesting testimony meeting was held.

—Councilman Frost says that the recent rains did very little damage to the streets of Plainfield, and that the total will be nominal. This he attributes to the excellent condition of the streets.

—No doubt that at an early date some provision will be made to carry off the surplus water from the business section of the city. Already there are plans being considered to handle the water in heavy rains.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Lizzie Reick, of Plainfield is summering at Mt. Pocono, Penn.

E. A. Flynn, of East Fourth street, has returned to business after spending a pleasant vacation in Hunts Point, N. Y.

Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church, will leave the city on Wednesday for Saratoga, where he will spend his annual vacation.

Rev. A. J. Brown, D. D., of New York city, filled the pulpit at the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday morning, and preached two very good sermons.

Verdict for Tobin.

A decision was rendered in the contract case of Powers against Tobin, this morning, by Justice Newcorn. The verdict was $149 for the plaintiff. The defendant had admitted that $149 was due, but disputed the claim of $180 made by the plaintiff. The land lord and tenant cases of Moran against VanDeveer, Moran against Lee, and Kline against Stevenson, were tried and judgment rendered for the claimant for possession of the premises. Summons were issued in the contract cases of Kriney against Apgar, and Clauson against Apgar, returnable on the 9th, and Holmes against Jones, Hand against Brown, and Clauson against McCready, returnable on the 16th.

Yellow Cards Disappearing.

Plainfield has almost entirely recovered from her recent scarlet fever epidemic and the dreaded yellow cards of the Health Board are rapidly disappearing. The quarantine was removed from the houses of Edward Ingham, of Watchung avenue, and Edward Baker, of East Third street. Quarantine will be removed from a number of other houses this week.

Fractured His Ankle.

Charles Manning, colored, of Arlington avenue, sustained a very bad fracto his right ankle this morning about 11 o'clock, while jumping out of a wagon at the corner of Second street and Park avenue, he was taken to the hospital, and it is feared that he may lose his leg as the break is a serious one.

Back Pay for Letter Carriers.

The letter carriers today received their checks for the apportionment of back pay allowed them. Adam Blair, a former carrier, receives about $500. Robert Loughlin receives between $250 and $300. Manager Willey, of Music Hall, who was a carrier in an eastern city, receives $254 in back pay due him.

Position of Street Lights Changed.

As a result of the recent tour of investigation made by the Common Council's committee on Streets and Lights, the position of several electric street lights in the city has been changed to secure better results.

MEDICINE PRACTISED BY ANIMALS.

Beasts Cure Themselves of Sickness—A Squirrel Its Own Surgeon.

The lower animals, with few exceptions practise a very well-developed system of materia medica. Most of the beasts can diagnose and prescribe for their ills more successfully than many men holding physicians' degrees.

Dogs are the most remarkable doctors among domestic animals. A dog suffering from loss of appetite or a like ill will refuse human remedies and run, or if necessary drag itself, for miles to find a particular herb that is a specific for its complaint. Dogs may often be seen in suburban fields chewing at a species of wiry grass, known as dog's grass, or chiendent. This, they know, will cleanse the system and restore the appetite in a way that would bring envy to the heart of patent medicine men. Similarly when other ailments attack them their canine natures crave oily or fatty substances, and they will eat these greedily, turning from the most tempting morsels of any other sort.

The common ant, when one of its horns is torn off in battle or otherwise, seeks out a companion, who bathes the wounded part with an ointment, also home-made—which heals it. The mongoose is noted for its enmity to the deadly cobra snake. When the mongoose is bitten by a cobra it plunges into the nearest thicket or jungle, bites off and swallows an herb known only to itself, and having thus taken an antidote, goes back to renew the combat.

The chimpanzee, following a like course, when wounded, stanches the blood with its hand and quickly seeks a certain sort of grass and leaves. Mixing them, it makes a poultice which is clapped over the wound, and, unless a vital spot is touched, soon effects a cure. Should the ape be too badly hurt to dress its own wound, its mate will do it, working as carefully and with probably as good effect as any human doctor. However long the invalid's convalescence, the mate prepares fresh plasters as often as necessary, and by instinct knows just when the poultice on the hurt should be replaced. It also serves its patient with proper cooling diet suited to a convalescent's needs.

A far more clever feat of surgery is performed by the ordinary red squirrel. When the squirrel's paw is torn off in a trap or its leg broken by a gunshot, the suffering animal drags itself to the nearest safe place, and after bracing itself on some broad branch, or in its own nest, begins the work of amputation. The broken or torn paw is neatly bitten off. The sufferer seems to think that for the time the work is ended, and that the skin will cover the end of the broken stump. But instead the flesh shrinks back, leaving the sensitive jagged bone protruding. Back goes the three-legged squirrel to his dissecting room. The bone is carefully gnawed, not only until it is even with the flesh, but much farther down. The bits of flesh and skin thus hang far beyond the bone, and in time heals over, covering it completely. It took the human race some centuries to learn that simple trick in surgery which the very stupidest squirrel understands from the time he is born.—New York World.

MRS. LEASE HATES WYANDOTTE.

The Organ Toned Kansas Woman Had to Pay Her Own Bill.

Two years ago Mrs. Lease went to Kansas City, Kan., to make a Populist speech, and while there put up at a local hotel. The agreement provided that the Populist committee should foot her bills. A collection was taken up among the Pops and placed in the hands of the acting Treasurer to settle Mrs. Lease's expenses. The Treasurer got drunk and spent the money. Mrs. Lease was ready to leave. The landlord cabbaged her baggage for the bill. He said the Pops stood good for a speaker's bill once before, and had failed to liquidate, so this time he would look to the guest for his money. This humiliated the noted Kansas woman greatly, and after waiting in vain for some of the local Pops to show up and foot the expense, she dug down in her purse and got out enough money to square the account. She then and there declared, by the dishwashing and bedmaking ability of her husband, that she never again would step her foot on Wyandotte soil in the interests of Populism. So far she has kept her word.

SMEDBERG BACK IN JAIL

Justice Nash Held Him for the Grand Jury.

IDENTIFIED BY THE PAWNBROKER.

The Prisoner Looked Haggard and Worried—The Pawnbroker is Positive That He is the Man Who Pledged the Jewels That Were Stolen, and Afterwards Redeemed Part of Them.

The net is woven closer about Joseph Duncan Smedberg. The State has spoken through its prosecutor and the evidence produced was sufficient to send Smedberg to the county jail on the charge of burglary to await the action of the Grand Jury. Smedberg has no friends who can furnish bail and so he will have to await the fall term of court in a cell at Elizabeth. Still Smedberg persists that he is innocent and his counsel claims that he can prove an alibi for the eventful night of June 30th, when the Marshall diamonds were stolen.

Yesterday afternoon was the time set down for Smedberg's examination before Justice Nash. The examination was held soon after 2:30 o'clock, the appointed time. The prisoner arrived on the 2:34 train from Elizabeth. He was escorted by Detective John L. Blackford, who made the arrest. He looked thin and pale, as if imprisonment did not agree with him. He had a week's old beard. He wore a dark blue serge suit and outing shirt. He spoke to no one but his lawyer, and there was an anxious expression on his face that had been absent at his previous appearance in court.

The examination was held in Justice Nash's regular court room. The portion of the room devoted to spectors was crowded with men, many of whom had known Smedberg personally or by sight. County Prosecutor Fred C. Marsh and his stenographer were present and sat to the right of the Judge. With Mr. Marsh was City Judge George W. DeMeza, who represented the Marshalls in the case. He left the conducting of the case entirely to the Prosecutor. Smedberg was represented by Clarence Kelsey, of Jersey City.

In front of the Judge was a long bench on which were seated Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Marshall, a friend of theirs and the prisoner with Detective Blackford close at his elbow. Mrs. Marshall was seated next to the prisoner but neither recognized the other. Mrs. Marshal never looked at him until she took the stand as a witness when she cast one defiant glance in his direction. Mrs. Smedberg did not make her appearance and the curious ones were disappointed there. Chief Detective Keron, of Union county, and Michael J. O'Brien, the pawnbroker's clerk, a prominent witness, were also seated in front.

After the crowd had settled themselves, Prosecutor Marsh called the first witness for the state, Michael J. O'Brien. O'Brien said that he was a clerk in the pawn broker's establishment of M. & D. Brookheimer, of 2108 Third avenue, New York. He recognized the prisoner at once and said that he had seen him on the evening of July 6th, when he had called and pawned a Smith and Wesson revolver, 32 calibre, a lady's gold hunting case watch and a gold ring.

He had kept a record of the number of the movement of the watch, which was 405,002. The articles had been pawned by the prisoner, he explained, under the name of Marshall, no first names being asked for when goods were pawned.

Then the witness stated that the prisoner had come to the shop again on July 12th and said that he had lost the pawn ticket and wanted to get the articles. He gave a receipt for the revolver, went before Notary Public Murray and made an affidavit that he had received the watch and pawned the ring again for $50. It was the custom, the clerk explained, to make affidavit for the receipt of valuable articles when the ticket was lost.

Mr. Marsh produced the affidavit and offered it in evidence. The lawyer for the defence spoke up and objected to it, but the Justice allowed it to go and marked it as Exhibit A.

The witness then continued his testimony and produced the record book of the shop, giving the numbers of the two tickets issued to Smedberg according to his testimony. He also offered a ring in evidence, claiming that it was the one that Smedberg pawned with him and had never called for it. He distinctly remembered a visit by Mrs. Marshall to the establishment when she found the ring. This was news to many of the spectators who then heard for the first time that Mrs. Marshall was the detective who had aided greatly in securing the evidence.

Marsh again asked him regarding

THE G. O. P. BY THE OCEAN

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE OUTING OF UNION COUNTY POLITICIANS.

The Date is August 24th, and it is Expected That a Big Time Will be Enjoyed in Many More Ways Than One by Guests.

The first of the annual outings of the Republicans of Union county will be held on August 24th, at Neptune Heights, near Avon-by-the-Sea. The purpose is to bring together socially the Republicans, and the suggestion was made to the county executive committee some months ago by Hon. Charles N. Codding, under whose direction the plans have been perfected.

The start will be from Elizabeth, and those who go will assemble at the Republican headquarters in the Dix building at 9 o'clock on the morning of August 24th. There will be a special train on the Central Railroad to take the party to Avon-by-the-Sea, which is below Ocean Grove, and they will march to Neptune Heights, where there is a large hotel, and pavilion, grove, bathing houses, etc.

Governor Griggs, Senator Sewell, Comptroller Hancock, State Treasurer Swain and other distinguished men of the State will be invited. A special feature of the day will be a Rhode Island clambake, served in fine style, at the hotel.

The guests will be furnished with handsome badges and canes, and the tickets, which will include everything, transportation and dinner, will be sold at $2.50, and will be ready in a few days.

STRONG ACTING COMPANY.

Kennedy Players Open their Season as Well as Stillman Theatre.

In selecting "The Two Orphans" to make their debut for the season of 1897-98, and also incidentally opening the theatrical season in the newly christened Stillman theatre in this city, the Kennedy Players essayed a piece whose roles demand dramatic talent that ordinarily is not found in reportoire companies. But it can be said without excessive praise that the Kennedy Players this season are a strong acting company—superior to all except one, and the equal of that, that has ever played to popular prices in Plainfield. It is certain that no organization in the same class has attempted to present a play requiring the efforts of real artists in stage craft and succeeded better than the Kennedy Players did last night. The pathetic story of "The Two Orphans," popularly approved in oceans of tears that have been shed ever since Kate Claxton played the sightless orphan, is too well known to the theatre going public to need repetition at this time. In the affecting character of the blind girl, Louise, Miss Carrie Louis carried out the naturalness of the role in a manner that was best attested in the tear dimmed eyes seen here and there in the house as she betrayed the various emotions of the simple and afflicted girl that she was. As her sister and only guiding hand, Miss Gertrude Dion Magill was equally effective in her resolute determination to find her blind sister at all hazards. As the crippled friend in whose company cruel fate had thrown the sightless orphan, John J. Kennedy, the stellar light of the organization, was sympathetically subdued in his earnest interest and ultimate love for the unfortunate girl.

The kicks, cuffs and angry imprecations showered upon him by his outlaw brother, impersonated by E. P. Sullivan, elicited the hissing condemnation of the gallery and showed that the character was well taken. The other roles were creditably acted by the supporting company. In the line of specialties, the organization is prolific with entertaining and original performers.

Tonight the "Midnight Express" will be produced; tomorrow afternoon, "Octoroon," and tomorrow night "The Two Thieves."

FATAL BICYCLE ACCIDENT.

Boy Caught His Trousers in the Chain and Was Thrown.

A sad death occurred yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock when Peter Rowe, the ten year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jere Rowe, of Grove street, passed away as the result of a bicycle accident which happened last Saturday afternoon. At the time young Rowe was riding his wheel in front of his home when his trouser leg caught in the chain on the wheel and threw him from the machine. In falling he struck on his head near the temple, and from that time until he died he remained in an unconscious condition. Dr. Adams was in attendance and did all that was in his power to bring the young man through, but medical skill was of no avail. The afflicted parents are nearly heart-broken over the loss of their son, and they have the sympathy of a large circle of friends and acquaintances in their severe loss.

CHARGE HE EMBEZZLED

James Anderson Must Answer to a Serious Charge.

DID NOT REFUND AS HE AGREED.

He Was Treasurer of the Benefit Association of the Pond Tool Company's Employes and Used Their Funds—Committed to the County Jail to Await Examination on August 17th.

The long continued trouble in the financial affairs of the Benefit Association of the Pond Machine Tool Works came to a crisis this morning, when the treasurer of the association was arrested on the charge of embezzlement. He is now in jail waiting examination.

Two months ago, the members of the association began to think that all was not right with the financial affairs of the organization. The men who were entitled to weekly benefits on account of illness found that they could not collect them. The treasurer, James Anderson, formerly chief of the North Plainfield fire department, explained that there was no money in the treasury, and that more assessments would be necessary. That state of affairs continued until the members began to grow suspicious of their treasurer and demanded an investigation. A committee went through the books and found that Mr. Anderson was $543 short in his accounts.

A meeting of the association was called at which the treasurer was asked to account for the missing funds. An account of that exciting meeting was published in the Press at the time. He admitted that the money was gone although he could not account for it exactly.

The officers of the association gave him his choice between paying back the money at the rate of $5 a week or being arrested. He gave bonds that amounted to $200, and a chattel mortgage on his household furniture which is estimated to be worth about $150. Anderson preferred the alternative of paying and did so until this last week.

Then the officers of the association went to Justice Nash and quietly made a complaint against Anderson, charging him with embezzling the funds of the association amounting to $400, making allowance for the bond that Anderson had given. This morning, Constable Mattox found Anderson at his home in the borough and arrested him. The warrant was indorsed by Justice Thomas and the prisoner brought before Justice Nash.

He was represented by Assemblyman W. R. Codington and the lawyer for the Association was City Judge DeMeza. Anderson entered no plea but was held under $800 bail to appear for examination on August 17th. Being unable to furnish bail he went to the county jail to await his hearing.

BAD ACCIDENT AT POTTER'S.

Claus Wallander's Arm Caught in a Planer and Lacerated.

Claus Wallander, living at the corner of Spooner avenue and West Third street, and employed at the Potter Press Works, was the victim of a serious accident while at work in the shop this morning. He was working on a small planer when his right forearm caught between the angle plate and tool post. The tool cut the arm and the post broke it. Most of the bones and tendons in the arm were broken and the loss of blood was alarming.

Mr. Wallander had presence of mind to stop the machinery with his left hand and thus further serious injury was prevented. His fellow workmen rushed to his assistance and several doctors were sent for at once. When the physicians arrived they stopped the flow of blood. As soon as practical Wallander was removed to the hospital, where he lies in a very weak condition. It is not thought that the accident will terminate fatally, although Wallander's condition is critical. It is said by those employed at the shop that this accident is the most serious that has occurred in years at the works.

Gradually Recovering.

Bateman Thatcher, the builder, living at 136 East Fourth street, who was struck upon the head by a piece of falling timber in the lumber yard of Boice, Runyon & Co., on last Monday receiving a serious scalp wound, is much improved under Dr. Long's treatment and will shortly be able to return to his business.

The Glad Tidings Tent.

Rev. Geo. C. Needham delivered a lecture last evening on "The Inspiration of the Bible." A large congregation was present. Messrs. Needham and Crane will give addresses this evening at 8 o'clock, corner Park avenue and Fifth street. Everybody welcome.

CENTURY AND A-HALF OLD

Sesqui-Centennial Celebration of Scotch Plains Baptists.

ELABORATE EXERCISES ARRANGED

All the Living Former Pastors Will be Present to Take Part in the Programme—Historical Addresses to be Given—Services to be Held Morning, Afternoon and Evening in the Church.

Amid peaceful village surroundings, rich in hallowed associations and tender memories of the past, the Scotch Plains Baptist church will on Thursday commemorate with appropriate services its 150th anniversary.

The committee in charge of the exercises, consisting of James D. Cleaver, Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks, Rev. J. S. Braker and A. D. Beeken, has been laboring for six months to perfect the arrangements and every effort has been made to offer sufficient inducements to the old members and friends of the church to take this opportunity to visit the old church home.

The history of the church is a most interesting one. It was organized in 1747 from a membership dismissed from the Piscataway Baptist church. The first pastor was Rev. Benjamin Miller, whose name can now be deciphered on one of the moss-covered monuments in the old cemetery adjoining the church. In its long existence the church has had only twelve other pastors, of whom four are still living.

The present edifice is the third that has been erected by the congregation. It was constructed about twenty years ago at a cost of $30,000. Its style of architecture is gothic and the material is brick, with Ohio stone trimmings. The seating capacity is 500.

Five other churches have been constituted, or organized, from the Scotch Plains church during its existence, among them the First Baptist church of New York city. The churches are all active and prosperous at the present time.

The services on Thursday will include three meetings. The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock with an organ voluntary, the singing of the doxology, and an invocation by the Rev. W. Winans, of the Scotch Plains Methodist Church. The Rev. N. W. Cadwell, of the Westfield Presbterian Church, which is the one church in this section more venerable than the Scotch Plains Church, will make the opening prayer, and an address of welcome will be delivered by the Rev. J. S. Braker, the present pastor.

The Rev. J. W. Willmarth, D. D., LL. D., of Philadelphia, will then deliver an address on "The Denomination with which we are Identified." The Rev. W. T. Dorward, of Piscataway, will speak on "Our Mother Church." The Rev. J. F. Brown, D. D., oldest living ex-pastor of the church, will speak from that standpoint. The Rev. J. C. Pemberton, a former pastor, will give an account of his pastorate; and the Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D., will tell the story of his pastorate of eleven years.

The Rev. J. S. Braker, the present pastor, will then make an address which will bring the church's history down to the present date.

At the close a solo will be given by Prof. Baylis, of Brooklyn.

In the interim between the morning and the afternoon sessions the Ladies' Circle of the church assisted by George E. Hall, also a member of the church, will serve dinner to the guests in an ample tent set up upon the old church green. The dinner will be furnished without charge, and ample arrangements have been made to accomadate all the guests.

The afternoon session, beginning at 2 o'clock, will be devoted to the Sunday school, celebrating its sixty-eighth anniversary. The school is now in charge of Superintendent George E. Hall. At this service all the former superintendents of the school will be present and deliver reminiscent talks. C. E. Jones, R. G. Silvers, H. E. Needham, Anson F. Grant, C. A. Smith, David Hand, R. C. Treadwell, Geo. Colgate, former superintendents, and George C. Hall, the present superintendent, will speak.

In the interim between the afternoon and the evening sessions, supper will be served the guests in the tent upon the lawn.

The evening service which begins at 7 o'clock, will be devoted to the churches which have sprung from the Scotch Plains church. The speakers will be Judge James D. Cleaver, of Newark; representatives of the First Baptist church of New York city and the Baptist church of May's Lick, Ky.; Rev. L. E. Vassar, D. D., of Lyon's Farms; Rev. J. A. Cubberly, of Scotch Plains; Rev. Peter Gibb, of the Baptist church at Mount Bethel, all of which churches were constituted from the Scotch Plains church. An

CHITCHAT OF POLITICS.

SOMERSET COUNTY AFFAIRS TERSELY COMMENTED ON.

Former Sheriff George A. Dilts is Working For H. N. Spencer for Surrogate and Incidentally Pushing Himself Along.

The following gossipy political chitchat about Somerset county appeared in last week's Bound Brook Democrat, as written by "A Tilden Democrat:"

Randolph Smalley, now in his ninetieth year, born in the Passaic Valley, at Smalleytown, in this county, is passing the sundown of his life in North Plainfield. Mr. Smalley for several years made a business of trapping wild pigeons and he told the writer a few days ago that while engaged in that pursuit in Pennsylvania he had trapped as many as 75 dozen in one pull. The birds were shipped to New York city, where there was always a ready market. Not very many weeks ago flocks that took hours to pass over and oft' times obscured the sun's rays were frequently seen in this county. Now there are none. The wild pigeon is gone forever from these parts.

The clambake and lovefeast will take place at Sebring's Mills near Bound Brook in the latter part of August or on Labor Day. The function will be first-class in every particular and no expense will be spared to make it pleasant for all who attend. A brass band will be there and eloquent speakers will entertain the assemblage. It is bound to be the largest political gathering ever held in Somerset county. The selection of the grounds is most desirable, as they can be reached from any part of the county in a very short time. It is sure to be a grand success. Every live Democrat will be present and the absent be silently mourned.

Pipe-layin' and fence fixin' is now in order and in out of-the-way places you can see, if your political eye is at all optomistic, the jolly Republican X Sheriff George A. Dilts taking a four-rail fence in different parts of the county, grasping the horny hand of an industrious farmer in Bedminster and the smooth "shaker" of the town citizen a few hours afterwards. The genteel, suave ex-sheriff is a hustler, and his "pipes" generally lay right straight, and his fences are built so high that nobody can be found to vault them until after convention time, and then some sprightly Democrat must be found to do the jump act over the stately elms into the Surrogate's office. Ex-Sheriff Dilts is for H. N. Spencer, of North Plainfield, for Surrogate. Spencer is a Republican, too. Dilts is for Dilts for second choice.

Hiram Oliver Hance, chairman of the Somerset County Democratic Executive Committee, and John Lyon Anderson, its secretary, both hail from Bernards township. Mr. Hance resides in North Plainfield, while Mr. Anderson makes Somerville his home. Both are in the best part of the thirties.

LITTLE SCHOOL BUSINESS.

Brief Meeting of the Board of Education Last Night.

Extremely brief was the regular monthly session of the Plainfield Board of Education, held last evening. The members were rather late in gathering and when the meeting was called to order by President Probasco, those present were the president, Dr. Jenkins, Mr. Lounsbury and Mr. Lovell.

The usual routine business opened the meeting and then the report of Collector Bird was read, showing that taxes to the amount of $779.15 had been collected, together with $78.97 interest, making a total of $858.12 which had been deposited in the First National Bank to the credit of the Board.

A letter was read from Miss Margaret R. Case, stating that she would be unable to return to her duties in the public schools in the fall on account of poor health. After a short discussion the letter was referred to the committee on teachers.

There was no business to bring before the regular meeting, so the Board went into executive session.

The financial statement for the month was as follows:

RECEIPTS.
From city collector	858.12
PAYMENTS.
Supt. of schools	250.00
Janitor and clerk	401.33

On account contract J. A. Hubbard	1,000.00
	$2,257.64
Balance August 1st	$1,469.15
City National Bank	$ 445.18
First National Bank	$1,123.97

Detective Blackford Promoted.

John L. Blackford, of East Fifth street, who has been doing detective work for the Central Railroad Company for some time, has been appointed to the responsible position of night man at the station in Communipaw.

CITY HALL TALK AGAIN.

Councilmen Will Look About for a Proper Site.

THE COST NOT TO EXCEED $50,000.

Councilman Frost Reportes That the City Can Not Find a Market for Farm Produce—Suggests a Novel Remedy—Business Men's Petition for Arc Lights Referred.

A feeling of the utmost harmony prevaded the regular meeting of the city council held last evening. Councilman Baker was the only member absent, but there was a great deal of business transacted by the other members. There was a whole batch of petitions received and referred to the proper committees. A lengthy communication was received from J. F. Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, regarding the matter of sewage, and certain information was asked for. This matter was referred to the Streets and Sewer Committee. The Fire and Building Committee was given charge of the petition asking for an extension of water mains on Kensington and LaGrande avenues, and a petition from the residents of West End asking for hydrants on West Front street and Prescott place was referred to the same committee. The Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company in a communication stated that they had erected lights as ordered at a previous meeting by the council. W. Craig and others asked that a fire alarm box be placed at the corner of Rock and Jefferson avenues. Several protests were received from residents of certain streets against the location of sewers in the streets. Councilman Barrows stated that the council did not intend to locate sewers in any street where the majority of the property owners objected, and that the sewer ordinance was only introduced for the purpose of increasing the sewer area and making it possible to locate sewers where people asked for them. G. J. Tobin and others asked that crosswalks be laid on Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh streets where they cross Grant avenue. Two electric lights were asked for in the vicinity of Berckman and Third streets and North avenue by the trustees of St. Mary's cemetery. A. L. C. Marsh asked the council to locate a sewer on Hillside avenue between Putnam and Watchung avenue so that the houses in that vicinity could be connected. Residents of East Ninth street and Third place asked for a crosswalk.

A petition was presented from the business merchants of the city asking the Council to reconsider their previous action regarding the lighting of the business section by arc lights. The petition was referred to Mr. Tolles, chairman of the lights and trees committee, and later he reported that owing to the fact that the committee had received a communication from the Mayor on the subject action in the matter would be deferred until the next meeting.

Building Inspector Doane reported that during the past month fifteen permits were granted, and Street Commissioner Gavett reported the granting of thirteen sewer permits, making in all up to date 931.

Assessor J. A. Hubbard asked the Council in a communication whether the $7,000 appropriated for the Public Library would come in this year's tax levy. It was the sense of the Council that the communication not go on record, and no reply was made to the question. The treasurer's and collector's reports for the month were received, and Mr. Serrell offered a resolution that in anticipation of taxes $2,000 for the general fund and $1,000 for the fire fund be borrowed. A resolution by Mr. Barrows provided for the notification by the clerk to all persons protesting against sewers that the city would not locate sewers where there was not a majority in favor of them.

On a motion all crosswalks asked for were granted. Mr. Barrows stated that he had received a bill for $28.27 from the hospital for the treatment of two Italians and a man picked up on the railroad. He said that there was not enough money in the proper fund to meet the bill and he asked that the same be paid out of the general fund.

A report was made by the police committee concerning a proper place for a station house. The committee stated that a stable and a bowling alley were offered them on Sycamore street, but they did not consider that they were suitable for the desired purpose. The Crescent League house had been offered for the sum of $16,000, but it would require so much money to put the place in suitable condition that this was not considered a good place. The property at the corner of Watchung avenue and Second street could be purchased for $14,000, that at the corner of Watchung avenue and Front street for

DAMAGE BY FLOODS.

Reports From Silesia and Saxony Create a Panic.

APPEAL ISSUED FOR NATIONAL HELP.

The Survivors Are Suffering the Greatest Misery, Being Entirely Destitute of Food and Shelter — Railways Blocked by the Waters.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—The reports of the disastrous floods in Prussian Silesia and Saxony which have been received here have created great consternation in Berlin and show that the people in large sections of those territories are panic stricken at the magnitude of the danger which threatens them. The latest advices report that 168 persons have been drowned in Silesia and Saxony and that the damage to property by the water exceeds 12,000,000 marks.

The king of Saxony, who was staying at the Pillnitz castle, was obliged to quit that place, the waters having risen so high that the inundation of the castle was threatened.

Prince Hohenloe, the imperial chancellor, was to have returned to Berlin Sunday, but the stoppage of railway traffic by the floods prevented his making the journey. The coal mines at Bockau, Saxony, are flooded with 12 meters of water.

The survivors of the floods in the devastated villages of Silesia and Saxony are suffering great misery. They are entirely destitute of food and shelter.

Princess Charlotte of Saxe-Meiningen has issued an appeal for a national subscription for the relief of the sufferers.

Many Houses Under Water.

Vienna, Aug. 3.—Reports received here from all sections show that the floods give no sign of abatement. The Danube has overflowed its banks at every point, doing incalculable damage. The town of Enns, at the junction of the river Enns and the Danube, in upper Austria, is practically submerged. Upward of 200 houses are almost wholly under water.

The very latest reports received here show that the floods are still increasing. The bodies of 20 persons have been taken out of the water at Trautenau, Bohemia, the river Aupa having overflowed its banks and inundated a large part of the town. The buildings occupied by the law courts at Trautenau were undermined, and its walls collapsed, completely destroying the structure. Three boxes containing 150,000 florins in money were stored in the buildings and carried away by the flood.

The rising of the lake of Traun, or Gmunden sea, threatens the town of Gmunden, and many other places are menaced by the still increasing volumes of water in the rivers and smaller streams.

Italy Watching France.

Rome, Aug. 3.—In view of the steps which France is taking to fortify the coast of Tunis, it is regarded as imperatively necessary to strengthen the Italian navy, and arrangements are being made for launching three armored cruisers this month. Admiral Brin, the Italian minister of marine, who is an able naval engineer, is planning a vessel which, it is claimed, will revolutionize naval warfare by its power, speed and efficiency as a practical unit. A scheme of mobilization of the army and navy for the defense of the seacoast is being arranged, to be carried out probably in November next.

Held For Assault.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 3.—Frederick Buxton, the Easton farmer who was captured Saturday night after a four hours' siege and after efforts extending over several days by officers to take from him a pair of Moses Ogden's horses which he was holding for damages, has been given a hearing before Justice Hyatt at Easton. To the charge of assault with intent to kill Constable Osborne Buxton pleaded not guilty. He was held for the superior court under bonds of $1,200 and went to jail.

May Test the New Tariff Law.

New York, Aug. 3.—Elbridge T. Gerry brought over with him from Europe on the Paris, which arrived here on July 24, the day the new tariff went into effect, some antique furniture of the period of Louis XV worth $1,500. Under the old law furniture made prior to 1700 was admitted free, but now it is claimed that manufactured wood is dutiable at 35 per cent ad valorem. Mr. Gerry will undoubtedly enter a formal protest if the new tariff rate is enforced on his importation.

Uniforms of ex-Volunteer Officers.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Acting Secretary Meikeljohn has written a letter giving additional interpretation to the order regarding the wearing of uniforms by ex-volunteer officers. He says that such officers when wearing uniforms should not wear the number of the regiment or the device of the staff corps or department to which they belonged, as it would conflict with the rights of officers holding the actual rank in the regular army.

Milwaukee Bonds Sold.

Milwaukee, Aug. 3.—Five hundred and twenty thousand dollars' worth of bonds have been sold by the city of Milwaukee to Estabrook & Co. of Boston for $585,140.40, or at a premium of 12.527 per cent. This is the highest price the Milwaukee city bonds have brought for a number of years. The rate of interest is 5 per cent, and the bonds are redeemable with lawful money of the United States.

Cut His Throat With a Razor.

New York, Aug 3.—After drinking a cool glass of beer with an apparent relish in a saloon on West End avenue Vincent Lunino, 30 years old, of 517 East Fourteenth street went into a retiring room and there cut his throat with a razor. The suicide had been a barber. He had been out of work for a long time and had been drinking heavily.

Well Known Baptist Preacher Dead.

Indianapolis, Aug. 3.—The Rev. Henry Day, D. D., widely known throughout the Baptist church as preacher and editor, is dead at his home in this city. He was born at Westfield, Mass., in 1818. For several years he has been a constant sufferer from paralysis.

LABOR CONVENTION.

Meeting of the American Federation at Boston.

Boston, Aug. 3.—The annual convention of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor was opened here yesterday by President J. D. Pierce of Worcester. Delegates representing 60,000 workmen from all sections of the state were present. The early hours of the convention were devoted to the appointment of the various committees, after which President Pierce made his annual report.

Among other things, he said: "The trades unions, realizing the absolute necessity of providing employment for those who are today out of work, mainly through the introduction of machinery, have declared in favor of a universal eight hour work day, and as a large percentage of our unions are still working a longer time we should use every means in our power, so that on the first day of May, 1898, eight hours will constitute a full day's work from one end of this state to the other."

The speaker sought to impress the absolute necessity of demanding the union label of the craft on all goods purchased by organized labor and its friends.

Generally fair; variable winds, becoming south[illegible].

Merit

Is what gives Hood's Sarsaparilla its great popularity, its constantly increasing sales, and enables it to accomplish its wonderful and unequalled cures. The combination, proportion and process used in preparing Hood's Sarsaparilla are unknown to other medicines, and make Hood's Sarsaparilla

Peculiar to Itself

It cures a wide range of diseases because of its power as a blood purifier. It acts directly and positively upon the blood, and the blood reaches every nook and corner of the human system. Thus all the nerves, muscles, bones and tissues come under the beneficent influence of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

GET APPETITE.

IF YOU DON'T, YOU WILL NEVER BE STRONG OR HEALTHY.

Appetite is one thing that you can't afford to be without, for without it your health, strength and comliness flies out of the window.

Poor appetite means weak stomach, starved body, sick individual. Good appetite the opposite.

Poor appetite is a sign that your stomach is too weak for digestion You can aid it with Shaker Digestive Cordial.

When your stomach is able to digest all the food that your body needs, you will have a good appetite Not before.

Good food, well digested, means strength and a long, healthy life. Undigested food creates poison which effects the whole body, and may give you headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, flatulence, languor, weakness, mental depression, stomachache, fever, nervousness, offensive breath, anæmia, rheumatism, etc.

All these disorders will be relieved if you will take the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It is a pure vegetable digestive and natural invigorator, which aids the stomach, purifies the system of the poisons of indigestion and makes you strong, fat and healthy.

Shaker Digestive Cordial does not act on the liver, but on the undigested food in the stomach. It cures indigestion or biliousness without irritating the liver or any of the internal organs.

At druggists. Ten cents for a trial bottle.

Primitive Painters

ground their paint with a slab and muller. This laborious and imperfect process was superior to that of the poor painter of today who stands over a tub with a pine slab and tries to secure uniformity of color and consistency of body which can be obtained only by the scientific appliances of the modern factory. Yet many continue in the old rut because it enables them to "know their material."

This is all wrong—find the big "H."

Harrisons' Town and Country Ready-Mixed Paints are composed of white lead, zinc white, pure colors and linseed oil only, and ground and blended to fit the requirements of the most exacting painter. Will stand unlimited brushing out and keep its uniformity

Don't Make a Mistake

When you have a painting job on hand. It's the painting quite as much as the paint that costs, and only good paint is worth the expense the work entails. To be sure of getting what will stand the severest exposure better and longer than anything else, drop in and select what you require from our stock. Knowing exactly what is needed to produce a paint that will answer every purpose and thus be economical as well as satisfactory, we turn our knowledge to practical use.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhœa. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlian's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERG, Allentown, Pa. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park & North Aves., Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Canfield, of Jersey City, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Townsend, of Craig place.

"Let me give you a pointer," said M. F. Gregg, a popular conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad. "Do you know that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy cures you when you have the stomach ache? Well, it does." And after giving this friendly bit of advice, the jolly conducter passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this Remedy, which is the best cure for bowel disorders in the world. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Vail, of Elmwood place, has returned from a visit with relatives at Rahway.

Mrs. Stuttsman and Mrs. Warren Brown, of Westfield, were guests in Plainfield yesterday.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, always affords prompt relief. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

A young daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Runyon, of Somerset street.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy, than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

William Hardy, of Rahway, was a guest of Plainfield friends last Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Scott and family, of East Front street, left yesterday for Asbury Park, where they will remain for awhile.

Did You Ever

Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exercising a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholly, or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Randolph's Drug Store.

Mrs. Charles Lister and family, of East Fifth street, have returned from Philadelphia, where they have been visiting relatives.

There is Nothing so Good.

There is nothing just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, so demand it and do not permit the dealer to sell you some substitute. He will not claim there is anything better, but in order to make more profit he may claim something else to be just as good. You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable, and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as is Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottle free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

MEETING OF L. A. W.

Many Arrivals For the Big Philadelphia Event.

TOURNAMENT WILL LAST FOUR DAYS

Will Be One of the Largest Assemblages In the Annals of Bicycling—Many Celebrated Riders Will Be Present.

Philadelphia, Aug. 3.—Wheelmen by the hundreds are invading the city by nearly every train for the big national meet of the League of American Wheelmen, which will be formally opened on Wednesday. All day yesterday the arrivals were of individuals from nearby points. The clubs and delegations from a distance are not expected until tonight and tomorrow morning, when the reduced railroad fares go into effect. The only big organization already here is the Associated Cycling clubs of New Jersey, which came last Saturday. The Alleghany cyclers will number 150. The arrival of the Associated Cycling clubs of New York city is also anxiously looked forward to, as word has been received that over 1,200 riders have agreed to make the run from Jersey City under the club's escort. This run will occupy several days, being divided in sections, each section to ride by easy stages. From present indications Massachusetts will be on hand with a large representation, as will Maryland, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other western states.

Big Men Are Coming.

The big racing men have not yet arrived, but by tomorrow most of them will be in their quarters at Willow Grove track, training for the contests. The crack local men have been hard at work and expect to give some of the circuit chasers a hard tussle. The Winter Circus building on North Broad street has been placed in readiness for the registration of visiting wheelmen and members of the L. A. W. It will open today. The souvenir programme, always a feature of national meets, has been finished and is one of the finest of its kind ever issued.

Today the Pennsylvania division, L. A. W., holds its semiannual session and the remainder of the day will be devoted to the reception and care of visitors.

Protest Against the Andrews Action.

Providence, Aug. 3.—A remonstrance has been issued by the professors at Brown university and sent to the members of the corporation. It protests against the action of the latter body with reference to President Andrews and asks for a reconsideration of the whole matter. The document lays stress on the importance of freedom of thought and speech, especially in a university, where there should be no such thing as political prejudice. The fact is emphasized that there has been a remarkable increase in the number of students since Dr. Andrews became president, and the remonstrance is signed by a majority of the professors.

To Permit Convicts to Work.

New York, Aug. 3.—At a meeting of the Brooklyn board of charities and corrections resolutions have been adopted allowing prisoners in the Kings County penitentiary to perform work for the city department of parks without any remuneration, provided that the convicts do not come into competition with free labor. The insanity of 19 prisoners of the penitentiary and the inability of the prison officials to provide work for the convicts caused the passage of these resolutions.

For a Certificate of Reasonable Doubt.

Buffalo, Aug. 3.—Application for a certificate of reasonable doubt has been made to Judge Haight of the court of appeals at his private chambers in the case of John W. Fitzgerald, sentenced to ten years' imprisonment on the charge of arson. The application for the certificate is subsequent to a judgment of the appellate division of the supreme court affirming the conviction. Judge Haight reserved decision. The application was made by David N. Salisbury on behalf of Fitzgerald.

National Guard Men Attack Citizens.

Springfield, Ills., Aug. 3.—Three hundred members of the Seventh regiment Illinois national guard, have had trouble with citizens. After a clash about some kegs of beer, which the soldiers were bringing into Camp Lincoln the citizens ran, and part of the guard followed. Three soldiers were prostrated by the heat as a result of the run. Then there was a general mix up between the soldiers and citizens. One citizen was wounded by a bayonet thrust.

Cigarette Men Protest.

Washington, Aug. 3.—An order recently issued by the commissioner of internal revenue, holding that the new tariff law forbids cigarette and tobacco manufacturers to put coupons and prizes in packages of their goods, has resulted in a number of protests. Some of the manufacturers have had a hearing before Secretary Gage, Mr. Forman, the commissioner of internal revenue, and Deputy Commissioner Wilson. They wanted the order made less stringent.

Mortgaged to Avoid Paying Interest.

Lockport, N. Y., Aug. 3.—The Mutual Life Insurance company of New York has filed a mortgage at the county clerk's office against the Holly Manufacturing company of this city for $100,000. An officer of the Holly company said that the mortgage was drawn to avoid paying a large sum of money due as interest on money loaned from various banks and not on account of financial embarrassment.

Manufacturing Company's Property Sold.

Florence, Ala., Aug. 3.—All of the property of the Florence Land, Mining and Manufacturing company and the Florence Educational and Development company has been sold at auction to N. C. Elting, agent for creditors, for $60,000. The property was once thought to be worth $3,000,000 and was bought up by the land company prior to the boom of 1888.

Treasurer Beeston Dead.

New York, Aug. 3.—William R. Beeston, treasurer of the United States Banking company of Brooklyn, died after a six weeks' illness at his home, Brooklyn. He was 71 years old.

MORE THAN ONE FIELD

Klondike Only a Small Speck In the Mining Region.

GOLD TO BE FOUND IN ABUNDANCE.

The Searchers, However, Will Have to Undergo Great Hardships In Order to Reach the Fields and Perhaps Finally Fail.

Washington, Aug. 3.—"There is no sense in this mad rush for Klondike," said Louis A. Coolidge, the newspaper correspondent, whose wide researches in Alaska and the territory thereabout makes him an authority on the subject.

"The gold seekers act as if there were but a small bit of land and that unless they got there at once they would have no chance to stake a claim."

Asked if there were many claims left in Klondike, Mr. Coolidge replied:

"There is none. They have all been taken. But that fact need dishearten no one. Klondike is a small speck in the great gold belt of that region. The gold territory contains about 50,000 acres, 30,000 of which, I might add parenthetically, are American soil. People who go there in the early spring next year, or, rather, start for there then, will be able to get plenty of claims and stand just as good a chance as those who go now and who will not reach their destination till everything is frozen up tighter than the milk of human kindness in the breast of a miser."

"One great trouble with this Klondike craze," said Director of the Mint Preston, "is that the stories have chiefly to do with the startling great successes which have crowned the efforts of the gold seekers. I think it would be well for the newspapers to give more space than they have been doing to the fearful hardships which Alaskan gold seekers undergo. Their search for gold is probably the hardest task it has ever been their lot to experience. We hear of men who go there and after a few months' work strike it rich and come back with pockets filled with gold. But we hear little of the much larger number of men who have been digging for Klondike gold for years and who are still digging and for less money than they could make here at any decent employment. If the tales were told of the gold seekers who have frozen and starved to death in that faraway country, there would be fewer go to Klondike, I fancy. I don't want to discourage any one from going, but I would like to have every one who goes know before he starts just what he will have to cope with ere he can reach success. If he could be assured of success, then it wouldn't be so bad. But success there is, I suppose, as rare as success on the Stock Exchange."

Would Be Miners Camping Out.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 3.—The steamer Queen has arrived from the north. She brought no late news from the mines, but reports 400 people camped at Skagway bay and 50 at Dyea. They are unable to get goods taken into the lakes, as packers cannot handle the business. There will be a terrible crush there when the boats which left here after the Queen, seven in number, arrive. It is safe to say that not half of the men will get away from Skagway bay this year, and even with the large number of horses on the way up it will be impossible to handle all the freight.

For a Military Post.

Washington, Aug. 3.—A telegram has been received at the war department from Fort D. A. Russell, Wy., saying that Captain P. H. Ray and Lieutenant W. P. Richardson of the Eighth infantry have left there for Seattle, whence they will sail for Alaska to make preparations for establishing a United States military post near Circle City, in the Yukon mining region and adjacent to the Klondike country. The trip will be made by direction of the secretary of war. The two officers will spend the winter at Circle City.

More Steamers For the Yukon.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 3.—The Northern Transportation and Trading company has let a contract to Moran Bros. of this city for the immediate construction of three new river steamers to ply on the Yukon river from St. Michaels to Dawson City and for a tug to be used in the vicinity of St. Michaels. The same company acknowledged that it would bring three steamships around the Horn from the Atlantic coast this winter to this city and use them on the run to St. Michaels.

Rumors of a Wreck Denied.

Portland, Or., Aug. 3.—The story sent out from Port Townsend that the steamer Portland, en route to St. Michaels, had been lost is untrue. The rumor that the Portland had been wrecked caused consternation here, as there were on board about 400 passengers, most of whom are from this city.

Indictments Ordered Quashed.

Leadville, Colo., Aug. 3.—At the request of Judge Owens in the district court, the district attorney has nolled 27 of the 37 indictments returned by the grand jury Saturday against city and county officers for failure to enforce the laws and for neglect of duty. Judge Owens says that those indicted were reputable persons and that to try them on such charges would be persecution. The judge refused to have the two indictments against himself nolled, but this will be done when another judge is sitting in the court.

Hot Weather Destroying Crops.

Kansas City, Aug. 3.—After three days of over 100 degrees of heat the highest temperature recorded yesterday by the government observer in Kansas City was 99 at 4 p. m., and the indications are for somewhat cooler weather today. Reports as to the condition of the corn crop in Kansas and western Missouri continue to be discouraging. Throughout the district weather continues scorching hot, and nothing but a soaking rain can save the crops.

Rolling Mills Open.

Cleveland, Aug. 3.—All departments of the Cleveland Rolling mills have opened. About 2,000 men were given work. Several departments which had shut down at the time of the coal strike resumed operations. General Manager Chisholm said he did not know how long the works would continue in full operation.

PROMPT PAY NOW.

The new method of rendering bills to the city and the accompanying manner of auditing and paying them, as devised by City Treasurer Arnold, is a splendid one and affords the city's creditors an opportunity of receiving their money the morning following the meeting of the Common Council when the accounts are passed upon. Under the old system it was necessary to wait for several days before compliance with the restrictions could be fulfilled. Now business men to whom the city is indebted can render their bills to the Council at night and the following day secure their money, an important factor in business affairs. Besides the promptness of paying, the new system has also the advantage of several other desirable features.

ROOM FOR ARGUMENT.

There are other things besides the weather which the summer boarding house-keepers of New Jersey have to contend with, and one of them is the Plainfield sewage beds, if Mrs. Sarah Milliken's argument holds good. Just what view the courts will take in deciding the question of how much, if any, injury the establishment and operation of the sewage beds have brought to Mrs. Milliken offers an unlimited field for argument. Doubtless if Mrs. Milliken should push her suit to a successful issue the city would be kept busy for several years defending other similar prosecutions.

BULLET WHISTLED BY.

Careless Discharge of Gun Endangered Many Lives.

The residents of Myrtle avenue, between Sycamore and Giraud avenues, now understand the unpleasant sensation of being under fire. It was about 9 o'clock last evening and the families of that portion of Washington Park were enjoying the evening on their piazzas. All was quiet, when suddenly a sharp report that sounded like that of a rifle broke the stillness and a bullet whistled along the line of piazzas, missing them by only a few feet. The bullet came from the direction of Sycamore avenue.

Councilman George T. Rogers and family were on their piazza. They heard the shot and were narrowly missed by the bullet. Former Councilman J. C. Peck and two of his sons were out on the next piazza. They also had a very narrow escape. Samuel Townsend and family heard the bullet, which buried itself in their side lawn.

There was nobody to be found at the corner of Sycamore and Myrtle avenues when the residents walked down there and nobody had seen the shot fired. A few minutes later, however, a man slunk by on the opposite side of the street, carefully dodging the electric lights.

ALL SORTS OF TAXPAYERS.

Martin Act Commissioners Heard Various Stories.

Indignant taxpayers, sorrowful taxpayers and various other kinds of taxpayers assembled before the Martin Act Commissioners, yesterday afternoon. The hearing was held in the Mayor's office on Park avenue.

The Commissioners have now settled down to regular work and are rapidly going through the list of delinquent taxpayers. Some twenty of these delinquents were notified to appear before the Board, yesterday afternoon, and about one-half of them came. There was the usual variety of excuses for not paying the taxes, some of which were good and others were not. Some explained that they could not pay the taxes at present and that was all there was about it. The Commissioners listened without comment.

The hearing lasted most of the afternoon and was then adjourned until August 17th.

On the Kill Von Kull.

One of the New Jersey Athletic Club's four oared shells carried a party of young men from this city down the Kill von Kill to Boynton Beach and return, Saturday afternoon. Lindley M. Hillman acted as coxswain of the shell. The oarsman were Carroll L. Runyon, A. Willis West, Walter H. Serrell and George Proctor Smith. The distance was about twenty-five miles and they encountered some lively breezes in the Kill.

And Still Another!

Another attempt at burglary was made in Westfield last Saturday night. The family of Dr. William Gale, on Elm street, were disturbed during the night by noises about the house, and on Sunday it was discovered that the shutters on the dining room windows had been pried open with a jimmy and an attempt made to force the catch on the window. The burglars were probably frightened away before completing their work.

the identity of the prisoner and he was very sure Kelsey did not cross-examine him.

Harry W. Marshall next took the stand and told where he lived and how he had met the Smedbergs at Mrs. Durant's boarding house. He had taken Smedberg about and introduced him to several of his friends and taken him through the Masonic and Camera Club rooms. His wife had given Mrs. Smedberg the key to the house one afternoon when Mrs. Marshall was going out to spend the afternoon. Mrs. Smedberg wanted to practice on the piano. He had not learned that fact until after the robbery occurred.

He then told the circumstances of the loss, how the stolen articles had been left on the dresser in Mrs. Marshall's room while they were out on a bicycle ride, how they returned late at night and had not discovered their loss until next morning. In the morning, they had found the screen in the back window wedged up with a match.

He could not positively identify the ring, but thought it was the same. He gave the number of the watch he had obtained from the maker and gave a description of the four rings and the revolver.

He said that he saw the defendant the night of the burglary at the boarding house after they returned from the ride.

Smedberg came in the room looking very white and trembling like a leaf.

"My God, man," asked Marshall, "What's the matter with you?

"My stomach's out of order," replied Smedberg, "I've been down town and got a couple of cocktails."

"Going to drink cocktails with your stomach out of order?" queried Marshall in surprise.

"I'm going to drink what I've got and go to bed and sleep if I can."

Mr. Marshall was cross-examined, but the best efforts of Lawyer Kelsey could not shake his testimony in the slightest.

Mrs. Marshall confirmed her husband's statements of the discovery of the loss and the open screen. She did not remember shutting the window but was sure the screen was closed the night before. She had allowed Mrs. Smedberg to come into the house about a week before to practice. Miss Grace Smith, of Park avenue, had called and had had to wait sometime before she was admitted. She had shown the Smedbergs the house and all the rooms therein.

She positively identified the ring and tried it on. It fitted exactly. Her cross-examination did not change her testimony. The defendant's lawyer declined to have him sworn, but stated that he had a complete alibi that he could prove.

Prosecutor asked that the prisoner be held for the Grand Jury, and said that the evidence was too strong to allow him to go. Kelsey said that the prisoner had the benefit of the doubt, and that the State had proved nothing. There were several verbal tilts between the lawyers, for the defendant's counsel had misunderstood some of the testimony. He claimed that there had been no evidence to prove that Smedberg broke into the house.

Prosecutor Marsh averred that Smedberg must account for having the rings in his possession.

"The diamonds were taken," he exclaimed. "The screen was down in the evening, it was up in the morning Who raised it? God?"

Justice Nash decided that the evidence was sufficient to hold the prisoner and committed him to the county jail in Elizabeth to await the action of the Grand Jury. The charge was that of burglary, and the county court will have to fix the bail.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

In Honor of Her Birthday.

Miss Bertha Wyckoff, of Washingtonville, was given a pleasant birthday party at her home last evening. Dancing and games were enjoyed and refreshments were then served. Samuel Frazee furnished the music. Guests were present from Morristown, Newark, Elizabeth, Westfield and Plainfield.

address will also be delivered by J. D. Wilson, of New York city, who is a native of Scotch Plains. The address will consist chiefly of reminiscences.

The various services will be interspersed with singing which will be led by Prof. Baylis and a cornet and organ.

Under the supervision of the trustees a competent committee has prepared an interesting historical sketch of the career and work of the venerable church.

This work is now in preparation and will be ready for delivery on Thursday. The work of research in connection with this sketch has been mostly done by Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks, of Scotch Plains. A number of illustrations of historical value will also appear in the work, which will be of interest to students of local history as well as to members and friends of the church. An interesting feature of the day will be an inspection of the old parsonage by former pastors and members of the church.

The trustees have just caused two large tablets of dark Quincy granite to be placed in the front of the church edifice, inscribed to the memory of James C. Lyon and Matthias Frazee Lee, two benefactors of the church. These tablets, which are artistic in workmanship, were furnished by J. E. Townsend, a marble cutter of Plainfield.

The committee in charge of the anniversary anticipate a grand good time as the result of their labors, and have extended a cordial invitation to all members and friends of the church, wherever located, to be present at any or all of the three services of the day, morning, afternoon or evening.

No Sentiment

in this Piano business! We don't refrain from selling poor Pianos only because we're too conscientious. It's plain hard-headed business with us. We sell five times as many Pianos as anybody else in Jersey, because we have steadily refused to sell any but good ones, and people have come to recognize that here they are sure of fair treatment. Straight dealing is more profitable in the long run than crooked.

There's no sentiment about this. It pays.

G. W. TICE SO PROMISES WESTFIELD TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE.

Big Excursion to Asbury Park Today—The Osborn-Fawcett Wedding—Baseball News—Other Items of Interest.

The interesting contest between George W. Tice, a property owner of Westfield, and the Township Committee, over the right of the former to run surface water from his premises into the sewer, has been settled, Mr. Tice agreeing not to attempt again to make the connection in question. The Westfield sewer was not constructed with a view to carrying away the surface water of the town, and when Tice applied to the Township Committee for permission to run the water from a cistern into the sewer, he was asked not to attempt such a thing. Tice insisted upon his right to use the sewer for surface water, and a few days later had his cistern connected. As soon as the work was finished the superintendent of sewers, acting under orders from the Township Committee, went to the place with a force of men and dug up the pipes. Tice then engaged counsel and talked of applying to the courts for a mandamus compelling the committee to relay the pipes. Counsel for both sides of the dispute have been since negotiating the matter, and it has been settled out of court.

The wedding of Miss Clementine Fawcett and George W. Osborn, formerly of this place and now instructor in Semitic languages in the University of New York, will take place tomorrow in the First Baptist Church of Tyler, Texas. The bride-elect is the daughter of Rev. Atlas J. Fawcett, of Tyler. After their wedding tour the couple will come east, where Mr. Osborn will resume his work in the New York University.

Today dawned perfectly for an excursion to the seashore, and as a result between 600 and 700 people left at 8.15 o'clock on the big train for Asbury Park and Ocean Grove. The train was in two sections of thirteen cars each. It is thought that the day will be just right for sea bathing, which is one of the chief attractions for the excursionists.

The semi-annual business meeting of the I. O. S. will be held Thursday evening at the residence of R. V. Hoffman, on Mountain avenue. The semi-annual reports of the officers and committees will be rendered, and officers will be elected for the ensuing term.

ODD SORT OF EXPLOSION

A WESTFIELD LAD HANDLES A KETCHUP BOTTLE CARELESSLY.

The Contents Were Fermented and Had Generated Sufficient Pressure of Gas to Burst the Bottle With a Bad Effect.

William Moffett, Jr., a four-year-old boy living on Elmer street, Westfield, was injured Saturday evening by the explosion of a bottle of tomato ketchup. The youngster was playing in the cellar among some rubbish. Among the articles was an old bottle of tomato ketchup, which the boy handled and tossed about considerably. Suddenly there was a sharp report like the discharge of a gun, and when the family rushed downstairs the little fellow was found besmeared with ketchup and bleeding in several places from cuts made by pieces of the broken bottle.

Dr. Sinclair was sent for and dressed the cuts, which, while painful, were not of a serious nature.

It is probable that the ketchup, which was old, had been fermenting for some time and generated a large amount of gas in the bottle. The shaking which it received increased the pressure within until the bottle exploded.

The Mountain Chautauqua.

This famous Chautauqua, at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, opens its session August 4th and closes August 24th. It is the most superb and sensible summer resort in America. Its height, 2,800 feet above sea level, means a delightful climate and unsurpassed mountain views. Five well appointed hotels and 250 cottages open their doors to tourists at from $5 to $12 per week. Twenty departments of important school work are in the hands of specialists. The best lecturers, singers and entertainers in the country appear three times daily. The programme is unequalled. Here is a chance to mix a little intellectual uplift with your vacation. Mountain Lake Park is located on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., and as all the fast trains stop at the Park during the summer, patrons have the advantage of their superb train service between the east and the west. Round trip tickets will be sold from all stations east of the Ohio river for all trains August 2d to 23d, valid for return trip until August 31st, at one single fare for the round trip. The Arc Light is the Thing.

Recently, the City Council caused to have erected six additional incandescent lights in the business section of the city on Front street, and last evening previous to the Council meeting the members inspected the same to see if the increased light was an improvement. It was noticed that there was more light, but most of those present felt as though the arc light would be just the thing. The question will come up in two weeks when it will probably be decided upon definitely.

SALE NO. 2.

Tuesday we commence the greatest sale of table linen, towels, napkins, handkerchiefs and wash goods that this town of yours and ours ever saw. Great because your dollar will do the work of two; great because the goods advertised were bought at half their value; some wet, but all as good as the day they were made.

The following lots are all from the steamer "City of Rome" and were slightly damaged by water during a fire on board and were sold by order of the fire underwriters—

On with the Story.

Strong Linen Logic.

You know what the new tariff will do with linens, advance them from 25 to 40 per cent; these lots fresh from the great Scotch and Irish makers, cold as a stone. Flax! yes, every thread of them, not a half-cotton substitute; good time to buy; good place to buy them here.

AN ORDINANCE to Provide for the Construction of an Addition to the System of Sewerage Already Constructed in the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, At an adjourned regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, held on the 21st day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four, a petition signed by the owners of at least three fifths in value of the real estate in said City as shown by the Assessor's books, was presented to the said Common Council, praying them to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage in the said City in the manner provided in and by a certain act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890:

AND WHEREAS, On said 21st day of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-four, the said petition was by a unanimous vote of the said Common Council referred to the Committee on Finance for verification:

AND WHEREAS, On the fourth day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, said committee reported that they had duly investigated and ascertained that said petition contained the requisite number of signatures as aforesaid, which report was then and there duly accepted by the Common Council and ordered together with the said petition spread upon the minutes of the said Common Council:

AND WHEREAS, It has appeared and does appear to the said Common Council and the said Common Council has found and determined and doth hereby find, ascertain and determine that the owners of at least three-fifths in value of the real estate in the said City as shown by the Assessor's books have petitioned said Common Council to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage for said City in the manner provided by said act:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the said Common Council the public good required that a system of sewerage should be constructed in and for said city under the provisions of said act, and the said Common Council so determined and adopted "An Ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, and an ordinance entitled "A further ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved June 21, 1895:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Common Council the public good requires that an addition, as hereinafter described, to the system of sewerage already constructed under said ordinances should be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of said act and the Common Council has so determined and does hereby so determine; therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that an addition to the system of sewerage already constructed under said act be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of the act of the Legislature aforesaid with all the appurtenances necessary to complete the same, and of such dimensions and meterial and according to such plan as the said Common Council may hereafter direct in and through the following described streets, avenues, property, land, and rights of way, described, mentioned and referred to in this ordinance, to wit:

REGULAR ARMY'S OLD SERGEANT.

Fills an Important Office to the Young Lieutenants Put in Command.

The characters reproduced from the recollection of army life for many years are typical and were once, and are to-day, found in every regiment in the army. Moreover, there is a character who is a study alone, sui generis—the old sergeant. Discipline and a stickler for discipline that he may maintain his old dignity, he never forgets the respect due his superior officers, though he may, as he often does, so thoroughly influence the captain or lieutenant as to all intents and purposes command him as much as if in control by special orders from the war department.

In no instance is this seductive respect so manifest as when a raw young lieutenant just out of West Point is given command of a scout with a veteran sergeant in charge of the detail. The lieutenant is made to believe he is in command, that he maps out the day's march and selects the camp, but it is at such suggestions as these:—

"Did I understand," says the sergeant, very insinuatingly at reveille, "the lieutenant to say we would march to the Huerfano to-day? There is good water there, as the lieutenant knows, and good wood at hand."

"Yes," returns the lieutenant, "we will march to the Huerfano to-day. There is good water, camping ground and—and—grazing there."

"Yes, good grazing," rejoins the sergeant—and the march mapped out by the lieutenant is begun to the sound of the bugle.

Who hasn't heard of "Portland Range" perfection?

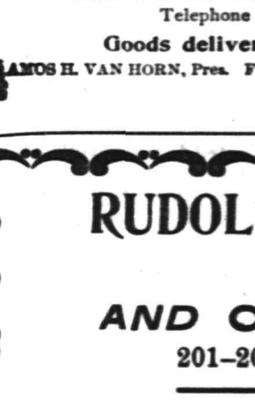
A Winding Up of "July Sale"

—all odd lots of goods in every department, from basement to topfloor, are putat figures still lower than at "Sale"—we've simply got to clear decks, for fall goods are well-nigh here—space is needed and we're willing to pay for it in loss of margins. Buying now for use later would pay any one—such prices as these rarely, if ever, come to light! Cash or credit.

From 10 to 25 Bedroom Suits left—all different—now from $10.75 to $40—they're our better goods, too!

From 15 to 25 Parlor Suits still on hand from sale—they're $16.50 and up to $100. Newest coverings and frames.

A Gasoline Stove, $3.49--or $5.49 with oven.



The Baby Carriages begin at $3.50 mark—we're proud of the line, even tho' stock's not as full as at start of season—but then you're paying far less!

Every single one of our Refrigerators put at and below cost to us—$2.85 and up—to get one even for 1898 would be a paying deal for you!

A marvelous invention—the "Insurance" Gasoline Stove—cannot possibly explode—can has to be filled away from stove—no leakage or danger—come in and see how it's operated. Over 30 sold in two weeks. We've the only line in city—dozens of patterns. We have the "Blue Flame" Oilstoves too.

We'll make and lay carpets FREE, even at following sale prices:

Heavy Ingrains, 27c yard.
Other Ingrains, 39c yard.
All-Wool Ingrains, 55c yard.
Brussels, 55c yard.
Best Quality Brussels, 75c yard.
5-Frame Body Brussels, 90c yard.
Velvets, 77c yard.
Also Linoleums and Oil-cloths.

Mattings are now from $3.50 roll up.

All our Summer furniture now at WHOLESALE prices!

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings make them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the materia, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

An Old, Old Story.

The Moral of This Old, Old Anecdote Will Save You a Heap of Trouble and a Pile of Money.

Something had gone wrong with some simple part of a stationary engine and the stocker could not fix it. After spending a day or two on it, he was forced to ask the aid of a more confident workman. He failed also and someone suggested the employment of a local celebrity—a sort of tinker of any mechanical job. There is generally one in every locality. He gave two or three raps with his hammer and touched up a rod or two, when the pounding or whatever aided the machine ceased. When asked to make out his bill, it read as follows: Fixing engine, 50 cents, knowing how $10.00, total $10.50.

This anecdote has nothing earthly to do with Thomas Leffingwell, Jr., of No. 2 Engine House, Centre street, opposite Division place, Newark, N. J., but it serves to introduce him to the reader, and at the same time shows the close relation between a tinker's work on the engine and the average humanity's when they tinker with the kidneys. Mr. Leffingwell, Jr., tells you how he cured his. Read his statement: To use the expression of the boys about the engine house when speaking about something good or first class, Doan's Kidney Pills "are as fine as silk." This may not cover the ground exactly but from my experience with them I can say they are the best kidney remedy I ever used. I had had backache at times, for six or seven years, it bothered me mostly when working about the engine, and at such times it interfered with my stooping, straightening up or lifting anything. If I caught a cold it always settled in my kidneys and then it was about all I could do to get around for every move caused twinges in my back. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They completely cured me, and I have no backache or other symptoms of kidney disease since then, and I naturally give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for straightening my back.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

William A. Eddy Says That the Project Is Feasible.

New York, Aug. 3.—William A. Eddy says that his experiments in atmospheric electricity for the purpose of telegraphing without wires were begun by him in July last at Bayonne, N. J., with two lines of kites supporting two lines of copper wire separated by a distance of several hundred feet.

Marconi of Italy has announced that the power to telegraph without wires depends upon the perpendicular projection of the wires at each station, and that with separated wires projecting to a height of 100 feet he succeeded in telegraphing without wire connection for a distance of 12 miles.

Mr. Eddy believes that with kite supported wires messages can be sent from New York to Chicago by means of three or four intermediate kite stations, each kite station having its wire projected to a height of 1,500 or 2,000 feet.

He says he has been defeated by light winds, but that the experiment of telegraphing without wires will be carried out as soon as possible. He made repeated attempts on Saturday last to carry upward a duplicate line of wire with two lines of kites, but the wind declined to a calm before the second line could be established in the air.

Marconi heretofore has not used kites, but has supported his perpendicular wire by other means. Mr. Eddy's object is to vastly increase the distance telegraphed by extending Marconi's perpendicular wire to a great height and substituting atmospheric electricity of tremendous tension for the artificial electricity of a coil or oscillator.

PROTEST AGAINST TARIFF.

The First Domestic Complaint Received From Memphis.

New York, Aug. 3.—The first domestic protest received by the board of United States general appraisers against the operation of the new tariff law comes from Memphis, which is officially known as an "immediate transportation" port of entry. The protest is filed by Morriss Bros. of Memphis, and it relates to a single piece of marble statuary from Carrara, which under the old law would have come in duty free.

The import arrived on the Sarnia July 15 and was shipped in bond to Memphis, where final entry was made. It was in transit therefore when the new law became operative, but upon arrival at Memphis, on July 26, was marked by the collector for entry under the new law.

The contention of Morriss Bros. is that the statuary reached this country before the law was passed, but the Memphis collector holds that a mandatory clause in the law compelled him to levy duty on all dutiable goods "previously entered without payment of duty."

BATTLES REPORTED.

The Cubans Said to Have Been Defeated In Three Engagements.

Havana, Aug. 3.—Advices from Sancti Spiritus report three engagements, at Cuevas, Cabezas and El Laurel between General Gomez and the Spanish. Brigadier Calixto Ruiz says the insurgents were defeated and dispersed with heavy loss, while his own loss was insignificant.

A dispatch from Santiago de Cuba reports that three employees of the Juragua company's iron mine staff have been executed on the charge of rebellion after court martial.

Charles Fox, former consul at Cienfuegos, has been appointed vice consul at Santiago de Cuba in succession to John F. Hyatt, who recently resigned after the death of his wife from yellow fever.

BIG REVENUE SEIZURE.

Cherry Juice Imported Into Cincinnati to Be Taxed at a Higher Rate.

Cincinnati, Aug. 3.—One hundred and fifty-six casks of cherry juice, the property of Mahalovitch, Fletcher & Co., compounders, rectifiers and distillers, have been seized by United States Surveyor of Customs Lemon on the charge of violation of the customs laws. The importation was entered by the firm as cherries preserved in spirits, dutiable at 20 per cent ad valorem.

Surveyor Lemon ordered a reliquidation of the entry and placed a duty of $1.80 per gallon on the whole importation as red cherry juice containing more than 18 per cent of alcohol. The increase of duty amounts to $40,000.

Killed by a Trolley.

Brooklyn, Aug. 3.—William Bierkling, 8 years old, of 1348 Third avenue, this city, was run down and killed instantly by a Third avenue trolley car. The boy was playing and stepped backward upon the track. A car running rapidly down town struck the boy and severed both of his legs just below the knee. He was dead when picked up from beneath the car. The fender of the car was too high from the rails to be of use. The boy was the one hundred and eighty-seventh victim of the Brooklyn trolley roads.

Fast Flying of a Pigeon.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 3.—Pedro, a carrier pigeon owned by Peter Tollons of the Mishawaka Homing club, one of the eight released at New Orleans on Thursday at 9 a. m., arrived at Mishawaka, a distance of 1,000 miles, Monday at 12:30 p. m., making the distance in 75 hours. The actual flying time is 38 hours, beating the European record of 8 days and the United States record of 15½ days.

Woman Burned to Death.

Harrison, N. J., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Lizzie Herdst, 52 years of age, has been burned to death. She had been an invalid for some time and was unable to make her escape from her home when it caught fire. Her husband was away at the time of the destruction of the house. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Chicago Cloakmakers Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—The cloakmakers employed by F. Siegel & Bros. have gone out on a strike, because the firm refused to meet a demand for higher wages. The strikers number about 350. The firm claims the men are asking 30 to 60 per cent advance.

Barns and Granaries Destroyed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 3.—The buildings, comprising barns and granaries, five miles from Poughkeepsie, have been destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $25 000. The property belonged to Leopold Beyer and was partially insured.

A DELEGATE MEETING

Strikers Hold an Important Session at Montgomery, W. Va.

AN ADDRESS BY ORGANIZER MAHON.

Resolutions Passed Demanding a 50 Cent Rate and a Check Weighman on Each Tipple—Agree to Remain Idle Until a Universal Scale Is Adopted.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 3.—A delegate meeting of miners has been held at Montgomery, 25 miles east of here. There were 32 delegates present, and 29 mines were represented. The meeting was addressed by W. D. Mahon of Detroit, who is in charge of the work of organizing miners in West Virginia, Chris Evans, one of his assistants, and a number of local leaders.

Resolutions were passed demanding a 50 cent rate and a check weighman on each tipple. An agreement to quit work and remain idle till a scale of prices was agreed upon for coal diggers of all states was also adopted.

Referring to the injunction issued by Judge Mason, Mr. Mahon said he would pay no attention to it. He had been accustomed to being enjoined in various strikes for the last five years. He had never paid any attention to injunctions and had never been arrested. He knew his rights as an American citizen, and he proposed to maintain them. He has been teaching his men their rights and was urging them to fight for them. He had two grandfathers in the Revolutionary war, and the only legacy they had left him was the liberty of speech and action. No petty judge should deprive him of the liberty purchased for him by the blood of his fathers.

Refuse to Return to Work.

St. Louis, Aug. 3.—A great effort has been made to stampede the striking miners back to work at and around Belleville, Ills., but it was a dismal failure. At all of the mines south of the town and several in other directions fires were lighted, great clouds of black smoke poured from numerous stacks, whistles were blown long and loud, but the ruse did not work, for only six men out of several hundred strikers living roundabout went down into the bowels of the earth to dig, and they will not be allowed to continue long, as the strikers say they will be either coaxed or forced to quit in a couple of days.

Miners Ordered to Vacate.

Grafton, W. Va., Aug. 3.—Notice has been served by Superintendent A. P. Goedecke of the Flemington mines to every striking miner in the region occupying the company's houses to vacate the property immediately. Excitement runs high among the miners, as the notice says their goods will be thrown into the street if they are not out within a specified time. An attempt will be made to operate the mines with non-union men.

Result of Autopsy In the Barrett Case.

Boston, Aug. 3.—The report of the autopsy in the case of Alice M. Barrett, made by Medical Examiner Steadmen, has been filed with District Attorney Stevens. It declares that death resulted from a pistol wound in the heart. No suggestion is made as to whether the death was suicide or murder. It is probable that an inquest will be ordered by the district attorney. Miss Barrett's body was found in the office of her employers by firemen who had responded to an alarm from a blaze thought to have been started by lightning. It was at first thought she was killed by the bolt, but later it developed that she died from a bullet wound.

Convicts Attack Keeper.

Auburn, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Charles Wilson, a Herkimer county man, serving a sentence of three years and six months, made an assault upon his guard, Captain F. C. Barber, at the prison here. Barber was taking Wilson down by the jail, when the prisoner jumped upon the keeper, and both men went down together. They rolled over on the floor, and Barber succeeded in freeing himself sufficiently so that he could use his stick. After several blows were administered upon the head of the refractory convict he was subdued, and he was placed in solitary confinement in the jail.

Swept Over a Waterfall.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 3.—John Draper of Salt Point took his wife and 15-year-old daughter Pearl rowing in a skiff on the Wappingers creek. The boat was swept over a waterfall 32 feet high, and the occupants were thrown out. Draper swam first to the shore with his wife and then returned for his daughter, seizing her by the hair just as she was sinking for the last time. Draper was almost exhausted when he reached the shore with the girl, who was unconscious. All three people were badly bruised by striking on the rocks. Their physicians say they will recover.

Riots at Madrid.

Madrid, Aug. 3.—Many persons have been injured in the conflicts between the police and rioters. The latter have wrecked shops in many of the principal streets, and the disorders continued until evening was well advanced. In many cases the women placed themselves deliberately in front of the mounted gendarmes, who were trying to clear the streets.

Life Sentence For Wife Murderer.

Wilmington, O., Aug. 3.—James Harvey, who was on July 10 convicted of the murder of his wife Ida on Dec. 18 last, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for life by Judge D. B. Vanpelt. A motion for a new trial was overruled. The case will be carried to the higher courts, but it is not believed he will ever be granted a reversal.

Closed For Want of Coal.

St. Louis, Aug. 3.—The Neidringhaus Granite Ware works at Granite City have been closed because the supply of coal had given out and it was impossible to purchase more at a price that would leave a margin for profit. Three hundred men are thrown out of work.

Tornado In Iowa.

Jefferson, Ia., Aug. 3.—A small tornado has passed through the northern part of Green county, sweeping away barns, houses and stacks of grain. Several persons are reported slightly injured.

UNCLE SAM BRINGS JOY.

Substantial Checks Received by Present and Former Postal Servants.

The following employees and former employees of the Plainfield postoffice have received their back pay for overtime work performed prior to the time that the Government issued an order prohibiting them from making overtime: W. Demarest, Robert Loughlin, J. W. A. Bauersachs, A. C. Blair, E. E. Hann, J. T. Mullen, J. A. Neighbor, C. B. Stephens, E. T. Van Winkle, P. V. Weaver, P. Flynn, E. T. Dunn. The Daily Press is unable to ascertain the several amounts received but it is understood that it averages from $35 to $500. The above list includes all of those who are entitled to back pay in this city.

Walked Six Miles

John Newton Goddard and Fred Worth Goddard, of East Ninth street, rode over to Orange, Sunday, to spend the evening with friends there. As they left Orange, the head to John N. Goddard's wheel gave way and he was thrown to the ground. He escaped uninjured but the wheel was a wreck. The trolley cars that go to Newark refused to take the wheel and he had to walk the six miles to Newark as the D. L. & W. trains do not run on Sunday. At Newark, he returned to Plainfield by the Jersey Central railroad.

A Pleasant Birthday.

Last Saturday evening Mrs. John Rittenhouse, of New street, celebrated her sixty-ninth birthday anniversary in a pleasant manner. Sociability and exchanges of good wishes furnished the chief amusement for those present. Among those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. William Addis, Miss Jennie Addis, Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, of Plainfield; John Kennedy and family, of Dunellen; Mr. and Mrs. John Grisly, of Elizabeth; and friends from Annandale, Jersey City and New York.

Died After a Brief Illness.

The wife of John Remmppies, formerly Catherine King, died at her home 425 Webster place, in her thirty-second year after an illness of three days, yesterday. She leaves a husband and four children to mourn her loss. The funeral will be held at 8:30 a. m. Thursday, from the house and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's church.

Charges Assault and Battery.

Miss Lulu Bland appeared in Justice Mosher's court yesterday, and preferred a charge of assault and battery against James Saunders and Mary Walker. The case will be tried this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All parties concerned are residents of the West End.

Died From Comsumption.

After a long illness with consumption Mrs. Revell, of Fourth street and Plainfield avenue, died this morning. She has been confined to the house for a long time and her death was not entirely unexpected. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

CITY HALL TALK AGAIN.

$17,000, and that at the corner of Watchung avenue and Fifth street for $10,000. It would in the judgment of the committee cost between $12,000 and $15,000 to erect a suitable station house, and they recommended that the committee be insrtucted to secure in detail the cost of ground, building, etc., for an accommodation building suitable for jail and city hall, with provisions for city offices, and report at the September meeting of the Council. The cost is not to exceed $50,000.

Hydrants were ordered placed at the corner of Kensington and La-Grande avenues, West Fourth street and Prescott place, West Fourth street and Monroe avenue. On motion several hackmen's licenses were granted.

Mr. Serrell moved that when council adjourn it be to meet Tuesday evening, August 17th, to pass upon the assessor's tax duplicate.

At this point Mr. Barrow offered a resolution which provided for the appropriation of $1,200 for the location of storm sewers, culverts, etc., for the purpose of carrying off surface water. Mr. Barrows presented several drawings which showed the plan of the street committee in having the work accomplished. The new arrangement will provide for drainage on Front street, Central avenue, Washington avenue, Sixth street, Eighth street, Grant avenue, Compton avenue, Clinton avenue, Albert street, Second street, Park avenue, and a number of other streets. It is the intention to do the work in a thoroughly satisfactory manner so that in the future there will be no further trouble.

Mr. Barrows also offered a resolution for the widening of Westervelt avenue, and the names of Alonzo Ayers, Alec. Pinto and Aaron Thompson were mentioned as commissioners to assess benefits and damages. August 18th, in the evening at eight o'clock, was the time set for hearing anyone who objects to the widening of the avenue.

Another resolution by Mr. Barrows provided for the establishment of a grade on Grant avenue from West Front street to South Second street so that sidewalks can be laid, and still another resolution by the same councilman called for the laying of curbing on Park avenue between Seventh street and Cedar brook. Mr. Barrows introduced an ordinance which provides for the establishment of the grade on Central avenue from Randolph road to Elizabeth street. This was adopted on a second reading and ordered engrossed and advertised. Another ordinance offered by Mr. Barrows provides for the laying of the wires of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company under ground through streets now occupied by poles. The ordinance has to be accepted within twenty days of its adoption and the company has to deposit a bond of $3,000 for the faithful performance of the work. The ordinance also provides that streets shall only be opened as the Council directs by resolution. After its first reading Mr. Westphal moved that each Councilman be provided with a copy of the ordinance.

Mr. Frost stated that it was found to be a very difficult matter for the city to find a good market for the produce raised on the city farm, and he suggested that the city exchange produce for labor and the labor to be used where the city thinks best. A resolution to that effect was offered by Mr. Frost and adopted.

Mr. Frost called up the sewer extension ordinance and it was adopted on its third reading. All of the members voted in the affirmative except Messrs. Runyon and Westphal. The ordinance was ordered engrossed and advertised, after which the Council adjourned.

A Home Party.

Mrs. Henry Woodland, of Grandview avenue, gave a home party last week. Among her guests were Mrs. Stultz, of Boston; Miss Whitehead and Charles Woodland of Newark; Harry Hottenroth, of East Orange, and Fred Baker, of Philadelphia.

—Good weather is promised for Thursday, and the people who have promised to go on the Crescent Avenue church excursion are correspondingly happy. A splendid outing is afforded for the occasion.

FESTIVAL TO BE ARRANGED.

Activity Already Evidenced in Reorganized Catholic Club.

The first regular meeting of the Catholic Club was held in the club house at Sixth and Liberty streets last night. The attendance was large. President George J. Tobin presided. As there are no general committees yet appointed, the reports were not lengthy.

The chair appointed John Powers, J. J. Kenney, M. Owen, M. Cashen, and John Keenan a committee to act in conjunction with the Ladies' Sewing Society in arranging a peach festival to take place the latter part of the month. The clubhouse will hereafter be open regularly to members, who can secure keys from the janitor. Frank McInerney was legally installed as janitor.

—Casper Schroepfer, aged 40 years, died at his home, No 314 Park avenue, yesterday after an illness of eight months. He leaves a wife and three children. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the house on Park avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bartley Cahill, of New York, formerly residents of this city, have the sympathy of their friends in the loss of their infant son, Bartley, which occurred in New York Sunday. This is the second child they have lost within a year. Interment will be in North Plainfield cemetery tomorrow on the arrival of the 2:30 p. m. train.

Jackson Pound, Jr., of Brooklyn, was in Plainfield yesterday calling on a few of his many friends. "Jack" was in the baking business in Plainfield about thirty years ago.

WHEN MONEY WAS PLENTIFUL.

During the Centennial in Philadelphia Some Conductors Fared Well.

The conductor was in a reminiscent mood. "Speaking of hard times," he said, "the present financial stringency contrasts strongly with the great abundance of money circulated in this city during the Centennial year. At that time I was on the Girard Avenue line, and I never saw money so plentiful. Why, people would get on my car, hand me a scrip note, which were then in use, and walk up front without ever asking for their change. They didn't want any. It was a common thing for us conductors to be handed a dollar note and told to keep the change. I know two conductors on this line who bought houses with the money saved that year.

"But let me tell you of a strange thing that happened on one of my trips. An old gentleman, escorting several ladies, boarded my car and got seats up front. A few minutes later the car was jammed so that I couldn't move, and had to collect fares as the people came out. Well, when we arrived at the bridge the old gentleman and his party got out. As they did so he handed me a bill folded up with the remark, 'Keep the change.' I thanked him, and shoved the note as it was into my pocket, thinking that it was a dollar bill. Imagine my surprise when at the end of the trip. I looked at what he had given me and found it to be a $100 bill. To this day I don't know whether he gave me the note intentionally or by mistake. I watched for the old gentleman as long as the exhibition lasted, and looked in the papers for an advertisement, but I saw neither. What did I do with the bill? Why, about a year later my little girl died, and I used it to pay her funeral expenses. If the old gentleman is still alive he may rest assured that his note was a godsend to me."—Philadelphia Record.

NOTICE!

Is hereby given that the Common Council have fixed the 18th day of August, A. D. 1897, at eight o'clock p. m. at the Council chamber, No. 109 Park avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., as the time and place for Aaron D. Thompson, William A. Pinto and Alonzo T. Ayers, the commissioners appointed by the Common Council pursuant to the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to widen Westervelt avenue from the northwesterly side line of East Front street to a point 108.66 feet southeast of Orange place," approved July 12th, 1897, to meet. The street to be widened to extend from the north-westerly side line of East Front street to a point 108.66 feet south-east of Orange place, the center line of which street, as well as the width thereof being particularly described in said ordinance and shown on map, referred to and on file in the office of the City Clerk, entitled "Assessment map for the widening of Westervelt Ave. from East Front street to a point 108.66 feet southeast of Orange place, March, 1897."

The lands, real estate and appurtenances intended to be taken for such purpose are all that come between said central line and a line twenty-five feet southwesterly and parallel therewith between the northwesterly side line of East Front street, as now laid out and opened, and a point 108.66 feet southeast of Orange place, as shown on said map and said ordinance to which reference is hereby made for more detailed description. By order of the Common Council.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Dated August 2d, 1897.

RESOLVED,

That the Clerk be directed to inform the parties protesting against the passage of the general sewer ordinance for enlarging the sewer area of the City, that the ordinance proposed is for the purpose of permitting work to be done under that ordinance whenever property owners take the necessary steps, and to save the expense of an ordinance for each street that property owners may petition to have sewered, and is not the intention of this Council to direct the construction of a sewer in any street except such as property owners petition for.

DEATH A GREAT GAIN.

Dr. Yerkes' Exposition On The Uncertainties Of Life

AT THE FUNERAL OF MR. THICKSTUN.

The Departed Has Now Fought the Fight Finished His Course and Has Received the Crown That Has Been Prepared for Him in Heaven—He Always Liked to be in God's House and With God's People.

The funeral services of the late John A. Thickstun were held yesterday afternoon from the house, 66 Duer street, at 2:30. The large gathering of friends, acquaintances and neighbors was a beautiful expression of esteem and personal regard felt by all present. Rev. Dr D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the departed, officiated and opened the service with appropriate Scripture reading. This was followed with a beautiful vocal solo, "Some Sweet Day," by E. E. Runyon. Dr. Yerkes then made a few remarks, a portion of which follows:

"Sometimes, my friends, we pry too far into the mysteries of God, because of our familiarity. We need to be very careful and studious. We walk, as it were, in a vain show. There is uncertainty in everything in this life. We don't know where, when or how we die. There is so little substance or reliability in life, while there are some things that are settled and established. There is nothing more certain than God's Word. John says "I know," and Paul says "I know in whom I have believed. We walk by faith and not by sight. While we are here we are absent from the Lord. This is the season of the year when so many people are going to Europe. They are absent from their homes and yet their abiding place is at home. Home is the sweetest place on earth, but Heaven is far better with its companionship and joys.

"Our natural tendency is to tarry here and we do not like to sever the dearest ties on earth. Our highest hopes should be to be with the Lord. Our dead brother is now with Christ for he lived in communion with Him. Death was a great gain for him. I knew him for many years. Before my pastorate commenced in Plainfield I came here to preach on several occasions and on the occasion of my second visit to Plainfield I was a guest at the home of our departed brother's father. It was then that I first became acquainted with him. He had a true heart and he loved God, and on one occasion he told me that there was no place that he would rather be than in the House of God. On another occasion he said, "I cannot thank the Lord enough for His goodness to me," and that was his constant prayer. He was a true, generous and kind hearted man. He has now fought the fight, finished his course and has received the crown which the Lord had prepared for him.

"In speaking to the bereaved ones, there are no words adequate in comparison to the sorrow. The source is to find relief and consolation where the departed found it, in the Lord.

"It would certainly be a great omission if I should not speak to the unconverted ones present today, and thus interpret the faith shown in the death of our brother. Those who have not made it right with God should not lose the opportunity now offered."

At the close of Dr Yerkes' remarks he offered a fervent and comforting prayer which seemed to reach the hearts of all present. This was followed with another solo by E. E. Runyon entitled "Asleep in Jesus," after which those present viewed for the last time the face of one whom they loved and esteemed.

The floral tributes consisted of a large pillow bearing the inscription, "In God's Care," and a large bunch of white roses and palms. Both were from relatives.

Those who served as pall bearers were friends and neighbors, and they were Robert M. Cook, L. L. Manning, B. S. Braider, Samuel Wallace, W. H. Shotwell, Andrew Love and A. L. Force. Interment was in the family plot at Sampton.

The Trolley Off.

The trolley pole to one of the electric cars of the Plainfield Street Railway slipped from the wire near the corner of Front and Somerset streets, yesterday morning, and snapped two of the guard wires. The repair wagon of the company was on the scene soon afterward and the damage was repaired.

Horse Ran Away.

A horse belonging to Patrick Keely, and in charge of James Sullivan, ran away at the Grant avenue sand pits at noon, yesterday. The animal ran along West Third street to Arlington avenue, where it was captured by Daniel Galbraith before any harm resulted from its flight.

ACTED LIKE A CANNIBAL.

A Drunken Man Said He Would Chew Up a Colored Man.

The victim of "Jersey lightning" rolled off the bank and staggered to his feet.

"I'm going to do you. I'm going to chew you up!" he growled at a very frightened colored man, and started for the dusky passerby. The colored man begged for mercy.

"You're no good nohow. Gimme a drink or I'll kill you," and the big Swede continued his zigzag path toward the colored man. This all happened last evening at the corner of Watchung avenue and East Fourth street. The prospects for an exciting time were very good when Patrolman Saffron put in an appearance and dragged the swearing Swede away to the abode of the crawling things, known as the city jail.

This morning City Judge DeMeza heard the story and saw John Louis Kawalki, as he is known on the docket. All he had to say was that he was from Cranford and maybe he was drunk, last night.

The Judge was not favorably impressed and gave the offender his choice between paying a fine of $10 or going to jail for thirty days. He will go to Elizabeth and take the time.

KNOCKED OUT TWO FOOTPADS.

The Third Fled Rather Than Encounter Mr. Gulick's Fists.

Peter Gulick, a town committeeman, of Raritan, was attacked yesterday afternoon by three footpads while on his way home along Somerset street.

Mr. Gulick noticed the men sitting on a culvert near where he passed. One of them pretended to be asleep. Mr. Gulick paid little attention to them, but as soon as he had passed he saw a man's shadow approaching him from behind, and, looking over his shoulder, he saw the sleepy-looking tramp making for him. The committeeman is a powerful man. He swung his right arm around, and just as the tramp was within reach he landed a blow behind his ear which laid him unconscious on the pavement. By this time the second tramp came up, but Mr. Gulick was ready for him and landed a knock-out blow between his eyes, stretching him by the side of his companion. The third tramp was dismayed at this effective slugging and fled across the fields.

Mr. Gulick had about $200 in his pocket.

PEACH CROP IS ALL RIGHT.

In Spite of Frosts and Hail the New Jersey Output Will Be Large.

Conflicting statements have been published concerning the peach crop in Hunterdon, Warren, Sussex and Somerset counties. First it was reported that early frosts had ruined the crop, later that the fruit was not maturing properly, and a few days ago the alarming news was spread broadcast that a hail storm had visited the peach growing districts and pelted the fruit from the trees, and what remained was worthless.

In spite of all, the outlook for the peach crop is promising. Conservative estimates place the crop in Hunterdon this year at from three-quarters of a million to a million baskets. Warren will probably equal Hunterdon, while Sussex and Somerset will probably reach half a million each. The hail damaged only a few orchards in the vicinity of High Bridge, Fairmount and Cokesbury.

AT POINT BREEZE CAMP.

Jovial Borough People From Whom Piscatorial Stories are Expected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murray, Mr. Mrs. W. Journeay Roome and family, Henry D. Brewster and family, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and children, Mrs. James T. Scott and Master James T. Scott, Jr., and Mrs. W. L. Saunders and children, of Plainfield and North Plainfield, are all at Point Breeze Camp, N. H. William L. Saunders, James T. Scott and B. A. Hegeman, Jr., will join their families later in the month. Now that this party has all gotten together again in that beautiful New Hampshire Camp, it is expected that friends of the party will hear some of those wonderful fish stories which came with such regularity last season. Mr. Roome has a new rod and full line of the most alluring flies, and the story is that he is out this year to surpass the great record made by his most genial brother-in-law, Henry D. Brewster.

A Service of Prayer.

The Christian and Missionary Alliance will hold a service of prayer Thursday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock in the parlors of the W.C.T.U., Watchung avenue. In the evening, weather permitting, at 8 they will unite with Rev. George C. Needham in the Gospel tent meeting, Park avenue and Fifth street. J. D. Williams, of the New York Missionary Training Institute, will speak.

CYCLISTS HALED TO CADI.

Patrolman Cash Formally Arrested Thirty Offenders.

THEY ALL RODE ON THE SIDEWALK.

Only Eight Appeared in City Court This Morning—Each Fined $1—The Delinquent Ones Will be Looked Up—Cash Said That Many of the Cyclists Passed Very Uncomplimentary Talk.

The police made a haul yesterday afternoon that netted $8 to the city treasury and promises to more than double that amount before it is last heard of. The sufferers, or rather the offenders, were wheelmen and the trouble was that they were riding on the sidewalk.

The steam roller has been at work for several weeks on East Front street macadamizing it with the assistance of a gang of Street Commissioner Gavett's men.

During the last week the road beyond Richmond street was being repaired. The roadway for a distance of nearly 200 feet was unridable and many cyclists who passed took to the sidewalk in preference to walking. For several days complaints have been made to Chief Grant that wheelmen were tracking the mud all over the sidewalks in the vicinity. Yesterday afternoon Special Patrolman Cash was detailed to look for the wheelmen and went to the scene of action in his citizen's clothes.

The bicyclists began to appear and Cash began to capture them, one after another, to the great delight of the spectators. He proceed to enter the names of the offenders in a book and told them to appear this morning for trial. One wheelman from Trenton gave his name and then departed, remarking as he left that in the morning he would be fifty miles away. It is needless to say he did not appear this morning.

A young woman from Scotch Plains was stopped. Rather frightened and somewhat fearful, she still had courage enough to be indignant at the officer. She gave her name and departed and has not been seen since.

One wheelman declared that he did not believe that Cash was an officer; he did not look like one at all, he said. He made Cash show his badge of authority and then used uncomplimentary terms to the officer, at least so Cash claims.

A party of young men going swimming at the Feltville pond were caught and ordered up.

Some of the offenders escaped. Other wheelmen who had been caught yelled at them to ride away which they did and waved a farewell to Cash.

Cash remained there several hours and then departed considering that he had done his work well. He had stopped thirty wheelmen and ordered them up before the City Judge.

There was a small swarm of wheelmen about the City Judge, this morning, and he had eight on whom to pronounce judgment.

Harold Canfield and William Emmons, small boys, saw men ride by and declared that Cash made no effort them. Then the boys tried and failed. They pleaded guilty, and the Judge declared his sentence to be a fine of $1 or 3 days in jail, although he knew that the bicycyle ordinance does not provide for imprisonment.

William Jeffrey rode, pleaded guilty and was fined the same.

Henry W. Brower, Rhay T. Snodgrass and George A. Horne were going swimming when they were caught. They pleaded guilty, explained the circumstances, and put up the necessary dollar fine.

W. A. Phillips did not think Cash looked like one of the "finest," and paid his dollar.

There will be measures taken to arrest those who failed to appear, and they are likely to receive a much heavier sentence, for City Judge DeMeza is not inclined to deal lightly with those who fail to appear when ordered.

THE ACADEMY ENGAGED.

Spielgartenfest will Probably be Held in the Middle of November.

The committee from the Auxilliary and Board of Governors of the Muhlenberg Hospital held a conference with Charles H. Hand, the owner of the Pierce Cycle Academy, Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. D. T. Van Buren, of Central avenne. The object of the conference was to settle the terms for the engagement of the Academy for the Spielgartenfest, which is to be given this winter for the benefit of the Hospital.

$1,000 Less Than Reported.

The property at the corner of Watchung avenue and Second street, offered by Charles Hand and J. T. Vail as a city hall site, can be purchased for $13,000 instead of $14,000, as reported at the city council meeting last Monday evening.

VICTORY FOR TROLLEY.

Piscataway Officials Grant the Right of Way.

FAVORABLE ACTION LONG DELAYED.

The Ordinance Giving Them the Right of Way to Raritan's Line Was Adopted Last Night—Middlesex Freeholders Will Now Be Asked to Act—The Proposed Route—Will Have Many Advantageous Features.

After a long and determined effort, the Brunswick Traction Company has at last secured the permission of the necessary authorities to extend its tracks for trolley lines from New Brunswick to Bound Brook. It has been a long and hard fight on the part of the officials of that company and they have met with strong opposition from their rivals, the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company.

It has been the plan of the Brunswick Traction Company to run its lines on the east bank of the Raritan river from New Brunswick. After a sharp fight, the Raritan township committee granted the company permission to build its track along the river as far as that township extended. The remainder of the proposed route lay through Piscataway township. The township committee there made no permanent objection to the location of the trolley line along the river until the company proposed running their tracks all the way to Bound Brook by the river and going under the railroad bridge. The Bound Brook council absolutely refused to allow the trolley cars to pass under the railroad bridge and that scheme was brought to a sudden end.

Then the trolley prospectors proposed running the line away from the river, crossing the railroads near East Bound Brook on overhead bridges and then entering Bound Brook on that side. The plan was suggested to the Piscataway Township Committee and several conferences and inspections of the land resulted. An ordinance allowing the company to follow the last plan was introduced in the meeting of the Township Committee at New Market some time ago. It was passed on its second reading.

Last night, the Piscataway Township Committee held a meeting at New Market at which the ordinance came up for third reading. The necessary majority voted for the measure and it was passed on the third reading and adopted. The Brunswick Traction Company officials were jubilant, as they now have a clear road from New Brunswick to Bound Brook. All that is now needed is permission to enter Bound Brook and to cross the Albany street bridge at New Brunswick, and so reach that city.

The Freeholders of Middlesex county will hold a meeting at New Brunswick, this afternoon, when the question of allowing the Brunswick Traction Company to extend its lines over the bridge will be considered. The railroad men are very confident that the necessary permission will be granted by the Freeholders.

KEEPS BOUND BROOK AWAKE.

Garabed, the Salvationist, Heeds the Mayor's Notice to Leave Town.

Joe Garabed, known in the Salvation Army as Joe the Turk, received notice Monday morning from Mayor Coddington, of Bound Brook, to leave town as soon as possible or he would be in danger of the borough lockup. He soon left town, and as he was billed to be in town until August 9 his vacancy will be filled by some other member of the army.

Joe Garabed seems to have an ear for music and during the day he promenaded up and down the main street playing his cornet. When near houses in which lived men who worked nights his music disturbed their rest. They appealed to the Mayor and he gave Garabed notice.

DEATH OF MRS. BENNER.

A Well-Known Hotel Keeper Loses His Helpmeet in Life.

Elizabeth Fischer, the wife of John Benner, the proprietor of the wheelmen's rest on the county road between Netherwood and Fanwood, died at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon of a complication of diseases. Mrs. Benner had been ill for about two years. She leaves a large circle of relatives and friends who mourn their loss.

The funeral services will be held at the house at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the Rev. T. L. Murphy, of North Plainfield, will officiate. Interment will be in the Presbyterian cemetery in North Plainfield.

Justice Moffett's Court.

Summonses were issued from Justice Moffett's court today in the contract cases of McVey against Hale, and McVey against Robinson, returnable next Tuesday. Tomorrow afternoon the case of Rushmore against Addis will be tried.

A DROWNING BOY RESCUED.

Shirley Kinsman's Foot Slipped and in the "Big Six" He Fell.

Shirley Kinsman, aged 14 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kinsman, of Sherman avenue, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon while bathing in what is known as "Big Six," a swimming pool back of the Manning property on West Front street, near Green brook. With several companions he had been in the water for sometime, and had come out on the bank to dry off. Some of the boys were dressed, when young Kinsman slipped from the bank into the pool at a place where the depth is about twelve feet deep. The suddenness of the fall gave him no time to save himself and he was helpless and struggling when his companions noticed him. At first there was a hesitancy on the part of the other boys to jump in after Kinsman for the reason that they had on their clothes, but when they saw him go down the second time, they became frightened and decided that something must be done.

Thomas Chamberlain, aged fifteen years, a resident of the West End, happened to come along and hearing of the trouble jumped in the water as quick as a flash and rescued young Kinsman. When the boy was brought to the bank he was in a very weak condition and his lips were almost blue in color. The companions at once began to roll Kinsman about on the grass and in a little while he recovered from his shock and was able to return home.

LOVERS PART AND QUARREL.

Now the Beau is Haled Before a Justice of the Peace.

The course of true love has not been running smooth of late with James Saunders, the Beau Brummel of colored society circles in the West End. The trouble between James and his former sweetheart, Miss Lulu Bland came to a climax yesterday when she appeared before Justice Mosher and swore out warrants for the arrest of Saunders and Mary Walker, a young colored woman with whom he has been on friendly terms of late. Miss Walker is "the other woman" in the case. The charge was assault and battery.

At 3:30 o'clock all the parties concerned appeared before the Justice and told their stories.

Saunders averred that Miss Bland was a terror, that out of jealousy she had followed him and Miss Walker home from church Sunday night, and had attempted to choke him on the front stoop. He pushed her away in self-defense. Miss Bland, he said, had taken his necktie and a gold pin with her when she departed and he hadn't been able to recover them.

When questioned, Lulu admitted having taken hold of James' necktie before he offered any violence, and after a good lecture admonishing all the parties to behave better hereafter, the Justice dismissed the case.

LEGAL LIGHTS TO PLAY.

They Will Meet the Law Students in Baseball Wednesday.

If the efforts of the law students of this city are successful there will be a baseball game played in this city next Wednesday that will rival in interest any contest of the kind that has ever been held in Plainfield. It is to be a baseball game between the lawyers and the law student. The attorneys and counselors are to desert their cases and come out for a little recreation, chase each other and the ball all around the field and generally enjoy themselves.

The game has not been positively arranged, but there seems to be no doubt but that it will be successfully carried out. Neither team has announced its makeup, but that will be settled in a few days, when it will be properly announced.

The law students are the challengers, but they are not trying to make anything out of the game. It will be necessary to charge admission to pay for the rent of the Crescent's grounds and other expenses.

The Heywood-Dickson Wedding.

The wedding of C. E. A. Heywood, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., and a Miss Dickson, of Verbank, Duchess County, N. Y., took place at the bride's home at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Heywood will take an extended wedding trip, returning to this city about September 1st. They will then take up residence in the Jackson flats, on West Front street.

—Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe of Red Men hold a meeting tonight.

—A regular meeting of Iona Council, D. of P., will be held this evening.

—It was John Rittenhouse, of New street, who celebrated his birthday Saturday, instead of his wife.

DIED BY HIS OWN HAND

David W. Pond, Tired of Life, Commits Suicide.

WAS A PROMINENT PLAINFIELDER.

The Fatal Act Was Committed By the Side of His Bed at 6 o'Clock This Morning—Pistol Shot Awakened His Wife, Who Found Him in a Pool of Blood—Said to Have Met With Reverses.

In the stillness and serenity of the early morning hours today the life of David W. Pond, of East Front street, passed out of this world almost instantly, and presumably by his own hand.

It was about 5 o'clock when Mrs. Pond, who sleeps in an adjoining room, was awakened by a pistol shot. She hastened from her bed to that of her husband and there she found him lying on the floor, dead, with a revolver close by his side. From the left side of his head could be seen the bullet wound, from which was coursing a stream of blood. Mrs. Pond was terror-stricken, but attempted to awaken her husband. There was no response, as the heart had ceased to beat.

A messenger was hurriedly sent to Dr. J. T. Fritts, the family physician, who reached the house soon after and found life extent. The bullet entered the head on the left side not far from the temple and was well aimed, for the effect was instanteous.

As regards the reason for the deed, it is said that business reverses and financial troubles were the cause. Mrs. Pond says that her husband returned from New York yesterday afternoon rather early and seemed to be in excellent spirits and particularly jovial. One of his boys was not feeling well and he devoted considerable time to him. When Mrs. Pond returned she found her husband in a happy mood and everything was as pleasant as usual. At the dinner table there was the usual exchange of pleasantry, and at the proper time all retired for the night in the best of spirits. Mr. Pond occupied a room by himself and his wife's room was adjoining, while the son slept close by.

As might be imagined, when the pistol shot was heard this morning Mrs. Pond was terribly agitated. In her affliction she has the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. Pond, together with his family, moved to Plainfield about eight years ago. At that time the Pond Tool and Machine Works, of which he was the president, established their plant in the western section of the city. The plant is a very large one and employs many hundred men. The company was the outcome of a similar establishment in Worcester, Mass., which was for years conducted by Mr. Pond's father. It is said that the latter met with reverses, and to save the business the son took it up and conducted it successfully.

Between two and three years ago Mr. Pond retired from the company and the remaining stockholders purchased his interest in the business. During a portion of the intervening time Mr. Pond led a retired life, and during the latter he became engaged in the brokerage business on Wall street, New York. This he followed up with more or less success.

He was a man very reserved and of a quiet manner, but always easy to approach. He was strictly his own counselor and advisor, and never had the habit of imposing his tribulations on others. He was friendly to those he came in contact with and always had a good word for all.

Manning, Maxwell & Moore, an old firm, became interested in what is now known as the Pond Tool Machine Works, and of which Mr. Pond was the leading man. Eventually the above firm secured the entire plant and Mr. Pond sold his interest to them.

Mr. Pond was a Free Mason and a member of the Knights Templar, but was not an active member. He and his family were attendants at All Souls' Unitarian church on Park avenue, where they were identified with all of the interests of the church.

Mr. Pond was a native of Massachusetts and was about fifty years old. He was more closely identified with the business interests of Worcester, Mass., where he lived for many years and carried on the machine business.

During this morning Dr. Westcott, the county physician, was summoned to the scene of the suicide and after viewing the remains and making an investigation, he granted a burial permit. The result of his examination was that suicide was the cause of death.

Arrangements have not yet been made for the funeral owing to the fact that Mrs. Pond is waiting for the arrival of Mr. Pond's mother and relatives who live in Massachusetts and have been notified of the death.

PALMYRA ISLAND.

Great Britain's Right to It to Be Disputed.

IS CLAIMED BY SEVERAL PERSONS.

They Secured Their Right From the Pacific Navigation Company, Who Had Acquired It Through Discovery and Colonization.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—The steamer Belgic brings the news that the right of the British government to take possession of Palmyra island is to be disputed. Luther Wilcox of Honolulu declares that the island belongs to himself, Fred Wundenberg and William Kinney. They secured their right from the Pacific Navigation company, which purchased the island from the Hawaiian government. The government in turn acquired its right through discovery and colonization of the island by Charles Benton in 1862.

Edwin Dun, ex-minister to Japan, is a through passenger on the Belgic. He is en route for Washington, accompanied by his daughter, and expects to spend several weeks in the United States before returning to Japan, where he has resided since 1873. Mr. Dun believes in annexation, but is of the opinion that the present congress will never take favorable action on the treaty now before it. He does not look for any rupture that may disturb the friendly relations now existing between the United States and Japan, but he does believe that the government has a just claim against the Hawaiian government in connection with the immigration troubles, although she is not likely to enforce her claims in case the Hawaiian government refuses to recognize them.

"Annexation should have been accomplished four years ago," said Mr. Dun, "and then all of the present difficulties would have been avoided.

No Prospect of Trouble.

"There is no possible likelihood of trouble between Japan and the United States, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. They have enjoyed peaceful trade conditions that are constantly growing, and Hawaii is not of sufficient importance to bring them to an open rupture. Japan naturally protested against the annexation treaty.

"I believe that the Japanese government will act favorably upon the recent offer of arbitration made by your government. The Japanese of all classes feel very bitterly against your government, but I may venture the opinion that whatever the outcome of the present correspondence may be Japan will never attempt to use force of arms in enforcing her claim."

The German bark H. F. Glave has arrived in port direct from Germany. She has on board 116 men, 31 women and 14 children, all German immigrants, who will colonize in Hawaii.

A Mad Dog Creates a Panic.

Washington, Aug. 4.—A mad bulldog bit a colored man, a woman and a small boy. It subsequently gave three policemen a lively fight for 20 minutes and died only after it had been riddled with 28 bullets. Little Johnny Rawson, colored, was the first victim. The dog sprang on him while at play, tearing his foot horribly. Caroline Jackson tried to beat off the dog with a cart whip, but was in turn attacked and badly lacerated, and William Green, who tried to rescue the woman, had his arm almost chewed off. The police drove the dog into an empty yard, but emptied their guns into it several times before the brute was dispatched.

Central New York Volunteer Firemen.

Waverly, N. Y., Aug. 4.—The fifth annual convention of the Central New York Volunteer Firemen association met here with about 80 delegates in attendance. The districts embrace the counties of Broome, Cortland, Cayuga, Schuyler, Tompkins and Tioga. Madison county was added by request of the firemen of that county. Frank M. Baker, president of the association, presided. It is understood that Mr. Baker, who has been president of the association since its organization, will not accept a re-election. It is believed that Percy Lang of Waverly will be his successor.

Steamer a Total Loss.

St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 4.—The British steamer Baltimore City, Captain Matthews, from Montreal for Manchester, which went ashore on Flat island, in the straits of Belle isle, on July 20, has become a total wreck. The negotiations for getting her off the rocks and towing her to Halifax have been abandoned, as it has been found impossible to move her. Her abandoned hull will remain on the coast as a warning to other vessels.

Greek Red Cross Collections Discontinued.

New York, Aug. 4.—Countess Cora di Brazza, the president, and Solon J. Viasto, the secretary general of the national American fund in aid of the Greek Red Cross, request all the committees and individuals collecting money for the aid of starving, sick or wounded Greeks to call in their lists and make a closing report to the secretary by Aug. 10.

Accident to a Railroad Bridge.

Omaha, Aug. 4.—A section of the western approach to the Union Pacific bridge has slid out, leaving 220 feet of the east bound track without support. A heavy passenger train had just passed over. Traffic is not delayed, as all trains are being handled over the single track.

Assistant Chemists Appointed.

Albany, Aug. 4.—Fred D. Fuller of Geneva and Edward B. Hart of Ohio have been appointed from the civil service eligible list as assistant chemists at the state agricultural experiment station at Geneva.

Cheaper Gas For Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Aug. 4.—By a unanimous vote of the 17 members present the city council has passed the ordinance reducing the price of illuminating gas from $1.25 to 75 cents per 1,000 feet.

New Chief Postoffice Inspector.

Washington, Aug. 4.—George B. Hamlett of Ohio has been appointed chief postoffice inspector to succeed Colonel M. D. Wheeler of New York, reduced to inspector in the field.

ABANDONED THE STEAMER.

Tramp Vessel After Many Adventures Is Finally Set on Fire.

Boston, Aug. 4.—The British steamer Sagamore has arrived in port from Liverpool, having on board the entire crew of 21 men of the British tramp steamer Furtor, which was abandoned on July 27 in a sinking condition in latitude 50.50 north and longitude 35 west.

The Furtor was in command of Captain J. D. Jenkins and sailed from West Bay, N. S., June 23 with a cargo of deals for Barry, Wales. On June 27 she ran into an iceberg and was forced to put into St. Johns, N. F., for repairs.

The Furtor again put to sea July 22. On July 25 a strong southerly gale sprang up, and it was not many hours before the ship sprung a leak.

The water gained gradually, but the crew remained on board until 2:30 o'clock on the morning of the 27th, when, fearing that she would founder at any minute, four boats were lowered.

A fire was started on the deck of the steamer to attract the attention of any passing vessel, and soon the Furtor was in flames. The crew then put off in the boats, which were kept near together for 49 hours, when the Sagamore sighted them and took them on board.

The Furtor was a steel steamer, built at Stockton in 1889, and was owned by J. Holman & Sons of London. She was formerly named the Tynedale. Her registered tonnage was 1,404 net.

An Eminent Doctor Talks.

Gives His Experience with Capsuloids.

Dr. Oscar H. Weld, The Lodge, Fairmount Park, London, England, says, "Without iron there can be no color in the cheeks, no brightness or force in the eyes, no strength of pulse, no clearness of brain and no robust health. All doctors have been in the habit of trying many forms of iron. All these were acid preparations of metallic iron. Capsuloids, however, are entirely different, being composed of iron extracted from the blood of bullocks in its natural form. I have demonstrated in my practice that it is suitable for the weakest women and children. I know I have cured seven cases of anæmia of different kinds, and am confident that I will cure many more who are anæmic.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.
In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhœa. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlian's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERG, Allentown, Pa. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park & North Aves., Plainfield.

Miss Mary Brown, of East Fourth street, left last evening for Asbury Park, where she will remain for a short time.

"Let me give you a pointer," said M. F. Gregg, a popular conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad. "Do you know that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy cures you when you have the stomach ache? Well, it does." And after giving this friendly bit of advice, the jolly conducter passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this Remedy, which is the best cure for bowel disorders in the world. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Alvin TenEycke, of Woodhull & Martin's store, is enjoying his annual vacation.

Miss Maggie Kennedy, saleswoman at Boehm's dry goods store, will spend her summer outing with friends in Newark. She will start next Monday.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, always affords prompt relief. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Mrs. W. C. Hubbard, of this city, left today for Noyes Beach, Westerly, R. I., where she will enjoy an outing.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy, than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Mrs. W. L. Smalley, Jr., of the borough, and Miss Ida Randolph, of Brooklyn, spent yesterday at Boynton Beach.

Did You Ever
Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exercising a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholly, or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Randolph's Drug Store.

Mrs. W. L. Smalley, Sr., and her daughter, Miss Lizzie Smalley, of the borough, who are visiting in the west, have written home that they are enjoying themselves very much.

There is Nothing so Good.
There is nothing just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, so demand it and do not permit the dealer to sell you some substitute. He will not claim there is anything better, but in order to make more profit he may claim something else to be just as good. You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable, and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as is Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottle free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

Two Spaniards Are Charged With Being Gold Brick Men.

SOME EXPERT DETECTIVE WORK.

Representation Was Made to Swindlers' Victim That Gold Was Stolen From the Argentine Republic Government.

New York, Aug. 4.—Acting Inspector O'Brien has locked up at headquarters two supposed daring gold brick swindlers wanted in New Orleans for alleged swindling of a wealthy saloon keeper out of $7,000 and also suspected of being members of a gang which has operated extensively in South American cities and the large cities of this country.

The two persons under arrest are Juan Antonio Magan, 55 years old, who gives his residence as 734 Dolphin street, New Orleans, and Rogelio Guiterrez, 21 years old, who also comes from New Orleans, but whose address is not known. Both men are of the Franco-Spanish or Basque type so common in the South American countries. They said they left New Orleans five days ago.

The specific charge is that they swindled Pascal Lastell of New Orleans out of $7,000 on a gold brick swindle. It is said that Magan went to the saloon keeper on July 27 and represented himself as Ralph Diaz. He stated, it is alleged, that he and others were in the employ of the Argentine government and stationed at Buenos Ayres.

While thus employed by the government, it is charged, they said they had got hold of $100,000 in gold bricks.

Tried the Gold Brick Swindle.

Ralph Diaz, as he styled himself, displayed one of the gold bricks to Lastell and asked to have it analyzed and tested thoroughly. Lastell had the brick filed and was told that the filings were pure gold dust.

The next time Diaz called he had with him a young man, supposed to be the Guiterrez arrested and in custody here. The young man stated that the elder man was his father and that he had for a long time suffered from an affection of the heart. The reason for this was the great energy he had displayed in his early life in accumulating a fortune.

The young man stated that his father did not care to run any great risks and wanted some active man to share for a consideration in the gold brick fortune he had met with in Buenos Ayres. He further stated that it was the intention of his father to go to Tampa for his health as soon as the latter had disposed of his interests in the gold bricks.

Having tested the gold brick, Lastell was anxious to get a good share of it. He parted with his $7,000, but was not long in ascertaining that he had a lot of worthless gold bricks on hand.

He reported the matter to the New Orleans police. A man supposed to be a member of the gang died suddenly in New Orleans of heart failure, supposed to have been superinduced by the excitement attendant on this transaction with Lastell. His name was Jose Maria Mayano.

Acting Inspector O'Brien received a telegram July 28 from D. S. Gasper, superintendent of police of New Orleans. Gasper detailed the story of the gold bricks and stated that some of the baggage of the members of the gang who had departed had been taken by the Pennsylvania company.

Chief O'Brien received a later telegram that John Martinez, alias Gonzales, 45 years old, 5 feet 7 inches in height and with a gray beard, was supposed to be the leader of the gang. Gasper also sent a telegram that a man of whom he had no description had sent a postal card to Juan Antonio Magan in New York.

The Arrest.

That is all Chief O'Brien had to work upon. He detailed Detectives Rynders, Donnelly, Bonner, McCarthy and Haggerty to watch the postal delivery. Magan called at the general postoffice and asked for the postal card. The detectives followed him to 183 Lexington avenue. The man remained in this place for about an hour, when he came out, accompanied by a young man. They were about to part, when the detectives placed them under arrest and took them to the Central office.

On Magan was found $247, a draft on a London bank for £410 and a ticket for a first class passage on the St. Paul, which sails today. On the person of the young man was found $104, an ingot of pure gold of about an ounce in weight, diamond jewelry and a package of fake diamonds.

The detectives discovered two trunks at 183 Lexington avenue, which are supposed to be the baggage brought to this city by the Pennsylvania road. They contained the complete outfit for the gold brick swindle.

There were a pair of jewelers' scales, weights, etc., a box of jewelers' tools, a lamp, a crucible, two small boxes, containing gold and silver alloy, two bottles containing a yellow liquid used for painting fake bricks, six fake gold bricks and dies for making others.

Magan admitted that he knew Mayano, the man who dropped dead in New Orleans. He stated that Mayano was his friend, and he spent seven hours with the man before he died. He said Mayano had owed him $3,500 for a long time, and just before death repaid the money.

Both men were taken to the Center street court and have been remanded to the Tombs.

Farmers Becoming Discouraged.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 4.—With the thermometer recording 99 degrees in the shade and with no sign of rain farmers are becoming more discouraged. Reports received at the railway offices are more discouraging each day, and the outlook for a full crop of corn in many places is not bright. The backward spring and consequent lateness of planting makes the drought more disastrous.

Water Tank Falls Through a Roof.

Buffalo, Aug. 4.—A tank containing 20,000 gallons of water fell through the roof of Frank & Co.'s wood turning factory on the terrace, causing a damage of about $5,000. The shop was temporarily closed at the time of the accident. Ordinarily 30 men are directly in the line taken by the tank as it crashed through the building.

BIG STRIKE AT HAND.

Twelve Thousand Cloakmakers Threaten to Stop Work.

CANNOT LIVE ON PRESENT WAGES.

The Workers Say That to Continue at the Rates Now Received Would Result In Starvation—Strike May Become General.

New York, Aug. 4.—The first guns have been fired in the great battle that has long been expected between the 12,000 cloakmakers and the manufacturers.

A strike of 200 operators in the shops of 15 contractors employed by S. Rothschild & Bro. of Broadway and Howard street, the largest cloak manufacturing establishment in the city, went into effect yesterday afternoon.

The combined efforts of Barondess, who is to speak at the mass meeting of the cloakmakers of New York, Brooklyn, Brownsville and Newark, to be held Tuesday night in New Irving hall, and of all the other leaders of the immense body of workmen and workwomen will not be able to successfully combat the loud outcry for a general strike that is certain to result.

An example of the straits to which they are reduced is afforded by the case of Marcus Braff, the secretary of the United Brotherhood of Cloakmakers. During the past week he has been forced to return to work as a machine operator, and his place is filled for the present by Abraham Rosenberg, another workman. There are only a few hundred dollars in the treasury of these 12,000 people with which to conduct a general strike.

"It is not a question of our ability to stay out on the funds we have," Rosenberg said, "but of how long we can stay in and live. I would deplore a general strike, but the cry is loud on one hand for the strike, and the next few days may witness a general outbreak."

A committee composed of Abraham Cohen, Henry Fisher, Louis Rottman and Louis Mellach has been appointed to arrange for the mass meeting to be held Tuesday night. The workmen will be allowed to shape their own course, and a repetition of the stormy scene at Walhalla hall, when the tailors decided on their late strike against the advice of their leaders, may be expected.

Tried to Reduce Wages.

Rothschild & Bro., in whose shops the strike is in progress, employ about 2,000 men and women in the height of the season, but they have cut their force down to about 200 during the dull season, which is just drawing to a close. The strike of those remaining was brought about by an attempt at further reduction of wages, according to the statements of the men.

"No scabs will take their places," Rosenberg said. "In the approaching struggle there will be no unionism. It is a fight for life by every man and woman in the shops."

The 200 employees of Meyer Vessel at 41 Division street and the 250 of Shaff & Silverman at 83 Canal street have held shop meetings and will make their demands Friday. If refused, they will follow in quick succession unless the general strike forestalls them.

The 2,000 women working in the sweatshops of the cloakmakers are making $3 a week on the average, out of which many of them are struggling to support families.

Pants Makers Confident.

The striking pants makers are in high spirits over the fact that their forces as strikers have been increased by the "Never Rip" union of overall makers.

The "Never Rip" people number 150 and have never before joined with the pants makers in any of their struggles. The leaders of the strike consider the re-enforcement a great victory.

The "Never Rippers," as they are called, are a thrifty lot, furnishing their own needles, thread and sewing machines, and the fact that they kept by themselves caused much comment among the pants makers' unions in days gone by. It was never thought that they would join the pants makers until quite recently.

Gold Discovered In Siberia.

London, Aug. 4.—The Daily Chronicle says that a Russian expedition has discovered 12 auriferous regions along the banks of the rivers Artichs, Lautara and Nemooja and in other regions of the vicinity of the sea of Okhotsk, in eastern Siberia. An expedition is now examining the western shore of the peninsula of Kamchatka, and the government is about to send a second expedition to obtain further information as to the gold bearing regions in this part of the Russian empire, which promises, when opened up, to be a second California.

New Professor Elected.

Waterville, Me., Aug. 4.—Professor W. A. Rogers of Colby has been elected to the Babcock professorship of Alfred university, New York. This is a professorship of physics, which has recently been endowed by George H. Babcock of Plainfield, N. J., with $100,000. Professor Rogers is at present taking a vacation at the Azores. He will return to Colby and remain until March next and then go to his new field.

Big Stable Burned.

New York, Aug. 4.—The three-story stable at 429 and 431 West Fifty-third street occupied by the Edward Merrill & Co. ice concern and the Ormonte boarding stables, has been gutted by fire. Seventy-five horses which were in the building when the fire broke out were rescued before the firemen arrived. The loss to Merrill & Co. is between $40,000 and $45,000.

Death of a Bolivian Archbishop.

Lima, via Galveston, Aug. 4.—The archbishop of Sucre, Bolivia, is dead at Guayaquil, Ecuador. The steamer Loa, from Panama, has arrived here, reports all well and will proceed. New fever cases having broken out on the Santiago, she remains at Callao. The Puno is awaiting the orders of the company.

Hobart on the Way to the Adirondacks.

Whitehall, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Vice President Hobart and a party of friends on a special train bound for Hotel Champlain, stopped here for about 15 minutes. Former Congressman Burleigh and a delegation of citizens called on the vice president, who received them cordially.

AN ELIZABETH CANDIDATE.

Benjamin H. Hinds, of Elizabeth, yesterday applied to the U. S. Treasury Department to be appointed Assistant Appraiser of New York. His application is indorsed by Congressman Fowler and Senators William P. Frye and Eugene Hale, of Maine. Heretofore the President has in nearly every case required the indorsement of the Republican Senators from the State where the applicant resides, and if this is followed Mr. Hinds will have a hard fight to secure the appointment, although he is personally known to Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury Spaulding and Howell as an expert on customs.

NO SPECIAL SESSION.

Gov. Griggs ridicules the story that there will possibly be a special session of the Legislature in view of the fact that the special constitutional election falls on the first day for registration for the regular fall election in cities of over 40,000 population. Gov. Griggs said the coincidence was thoroughly understood at the time the bill was drawn, and that there was no doubt in the minds of the members of the Legislature and of himself as to the ability of the election boards to record the vote and also attend to registration duties.

ODD LAWS IN NEW JERSEY.

The complex and incongruous requirements of New Jersey laws were recently learned by a clergyman in Jersey City. He went before a justice of the peace to make a complaint against some Sunday ball players, but was informed that he had himself violated the same old blue law by walking to the office of the justice on a Sunday. A law that is violated by an effort to prevent the violation of another law is a violation of common sence.—Elizabeth Journal.

RETURNS FROM HIS VACATION.

And Makes a Humble Apology to the Widow Tracey.

When Patrick Heenan returned to his home in South Plainfield last week, after a visit to Atlantic City for his health, there was more than one person glad to see him. Perhaps the most delighted person was Mrs. Annie Tracey, widowed daughter of Mrs. Fitsgerald, of Fitzgerald's Hotel. About six weeks ago Heenan made unflattering remarks about Mrs. Tracey, in front of her mother's hotel. The remarks led Mrs. Tracy to come to Metuchen for a warrant for Patsey's arrest. When Constable Gedney reached South Plainfield with the warrant, Patsey had fled to another State to escape the avenging arm of the law. Patsey stayed away six weeks, and then thought it safe to come back. But he missed his guess, for like Lochinvar, he had time to "tread but one measure, drink one cup of wine," ere the injured Mrs. Tracey had him before Judge Wood, where she accepted his long deferred apology. He is now bound over to keep the peace, his father being his bondsman. Probably Patsey's father whispered in his ear on the way home to beware of the widows hereafter.—Metuchen Recorder.

THEATRICAL.

"The Midnight Express" was the vehicle of dramatic construction for the Kennedy Players to offer their efforts to the audience in Stillman's theatre last night. Somewhat familiarly known heretofore as "She Couldn't Marry Three," the melodrama was presented in a capable manner with John J. Kennedy in the leading role. The character of the uncouth, bashful country boy afforded plenty of opportunities for an exposition of Mr. Kennedy's humor and he had the audience laughing throughout the production. It is generally recognized as a very delicate and hazardous subject to mention an actress' age, but we feel that in saying that as the El More sisters grow older they grow better in their entertaining abilities that our serenity will not be ruffled. These little people make a great hit in the juvenile fancies. This evening "The Two Thieves" will be presented.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Mountain Chautauqua.

This famous Chautauqua, at Mountain Lake Park, Maryland, opens its session August 4th and closes August 24th. It is the most superb and sensible summer resort in America. Its height, 2,800 feet above sea level, means a delightful climate and unsurpassed mountain views. Five well appointed hotels and 250 cottages open their doors to tourists at from $5 to $12 per week. Twenty departments of important school work are in the hands of specialists. The best lecturers, singers and entertainers in the country appear three times daily. The programme is unequalled. Here is a chance to mix a little intellectual uplift with your vacation. Mountain Lake Park is located on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., and as all the fast trains stop at the Park during the summer, patrons have the advantage of their superb train service between the east and the west. Round trip tickets will be sold from all stations east of the Ohio river for all trains August 2d to 23d, valid for return trip until August 31st, at one single fare for the round trip. Plain Logic.

Our assertion that we save the Piano buyer Twenty Five to One Hundred Dollars is an entirely reasonable one. It is not "say so" unsupported by facts; the magnitude of our business makes it plain to all. As we sell five Pianos for every one sold by any other house in the State, it is evident that we can afford to sell at lower prices than any one else. It's simple figuring: the expense of selling five is not nearly so great proportionately as the expense of selling one. That's where the gain comes in for the purchaser who buys his Piano here.

WESTFIELD

BOARD OF EDUCATION PREPARES FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Injured While Dressidg Meat—Big Sunday School Excursion a Success—A Westfield Italian Arrested at Madison.

The Westfield Board of Education held a meeting in the Prospect street building last evening. The trustees present were Messrs. Green, Clark, Coger, Taylor, Reese and Knight.

The district clerk reported a balance in the school fund of $218.69. The committee on teachers recommended the employment of Miss Alice Dewey Wood, of Fort Plain, N. Y., as teacher of English and German in the High School at a salary of $600, and also of Miss Maude Brainerd, of Belfast, N. Y., as teacher of the fourth primary grade at a salary of $500. The recommendations were adopted. The Committee on Supplies reported having purchased a hundred new seats for the Lincoln school at a cost of $400.

The women of the Advisory Board submitted a report calling attention to the fact that the playgrounds of the Prospect street school are in bad condition, and that a quantity of rubbish which might cause trouble in case of fire, is stored on the third floor of the building. The report also recommends the hiring of an assistant in the Kindergarten grade, the introduction of town water into the Lincoln school building, and that a suitable room be provided in the building for the storage of bicycles.

L. G. Cohen appeared and asked that the district clerk be instructed to advise the Township Committee of the amount of money borrowed from February 15, 1895, to the present date, in order that the Committee could adjust the amount due the tax collecter in commissions. The request was granted. Two bills amounting to $7 were ordered paid.

Dudley Clark, a butcher in the employ of Archbold & Scudder, inflicted a severe cut in the palm of his left hand while dressing meat with a cleaver, yesterday afternoon. The wound was a deep one and the flow of blood was sufficient to weaken Clark. Dr. William Gale dressed the hand and the injured man was taken to his home.

The sixteenth annual excursion of the Sunday schools of Westfield, Fanwood and Scotch Plains to Ocean Grove, yesterday, was a success financially and socially. Twensy cars and fully 1200 people went to the seashore, and the weather was ideal throughout the day. No accidents are reported and no one was left at the seashore. The excursionists reached home at 8 o'clock.

Tony Francisco, the Italian who succeeded Nicola Collucci in the management of the notorious beer bottling establishment on Central avenue, Westfield, was arrested in Madison yesterday on the charge of peddling beer illegally. He was taken before a Justice of the Peace who after hearing the evidence held the prisoner in $200 bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

The case of A. H. Barnett against the Waltham Watch Manufacturing Company, of Waltham, Mass., is set for trial in Justice Collins' court this afternoon.

The Westfield Stars and a picked nine, captained by Harold Winsor, played a game of baseball on the North Broad street grounds this morning.

The young people's society of the East Third Street mission, of Plainfield, will have charge of the services at the Westfield Fresh air camp this evening.

PASSING COMMENT.

The time is now drawing near when the man with political aspirations labors with might and main to get the people to force a nomination upon him.

* * * *

The men who are planning to go to the Klonkike gold fields should think twice before they start. It is no laughing matter to venture into a region which is 15,000 miles from civilization and where beer costs fifty cents a glass.

* * * *

It is not an unusual sight now to see women bicyclists riding diamond-frame wheels. This pattern is lighter and stronger than the drop-frame machine, and the use of the divided skirt enables it to be ridden with no sacrifice of modesty.

* * * *

The mere fact that the law prohibiting prison labor in New York state has driven a number of convicts insane is not good reason for abolishing it. Think of the vastly larger number who would go crazy at the thought of being compelled to work for a living.

* * * *

Two colored pugilists, one of whom is known as John Perkins, gave an amusing sparring exhibition on Madison avenue, in front of the old engine house, one day this week. The sparring was for points and was very scientific as well as good natured. A large crowd collected to witness the exhibition, and did not disperse until one of the pugilists commenced to pass the hat for a collection.

* * * *

If you should chance to run across children in the streets with their hands and faces puffed out and spotted, do not flee from them under the impression that they are suffering from some contagious disease, for the chances are that they have merely come into contact with poison ivy while playing in the fields. This troublesome vine is constantly springing up in unexpected places at this time of the year, and is disagreeable, though not dangerous in its effects.

Famous Springs of Deer Park.

A million and a half gallons of the purest water on earth is the daily output of the famous Boiling Springs in Garrett County, Maryland. In order that nothing can contaminate the Springs, one hundred acres of land surrounding it are fenced in. In addition, a wire building covers the Springs so that leaves cannot fall into the water. It is from there extraordinary Springs that Deer Park Hotel receives its water supply, the water being piped direct to the hotel. The medical fraternity now concede that in the matter of health, the question of pure water stands at the head and front. No summer resort combines so many healthful features. The air is wonderfully pure and invigorating: cool nights, with absolutely no mosquitoes; the finest cuisine, with perfect sanitary arrangements, makes Deer Park Hotel the ideal resort. 8 4 4

Another Evangelist in Town.

Two of the Brothers Needham have been heard in the Glad Tidings tent, Park avenue and Fifth street. This evening a third brother, Rev. Thomas Needham, the sailor-evangelist, will preach at 8 o'clock. Those who attend the services in this tent are struck with the clear teaching of the Bible and the rich Gospel of grace which is proclaimed. Thomas Needham has had remarkable escapades in South America among the Spanish-Indians. He will narrate some of his thrilling experiences from night to night.

—Good weather is promised for Thursday, and the people who have promised to go on the Crescent Avenue church excursion are correspondingly happy. A splendid outing is afforded for the occasion.

SALE NO. 2.

Tuesday we commence the greatest sale of table linen, towels, napkins, handkerchiefs and wash goods that this town of yours and ours ever saw. Great because your dollar will do the work of two; great because the goods advertised were bought at half their value; some wet, but all as good as the day they were made.

The following lots are all from the steamer "City of Rome" and were slightly damaged by water during a fire on board and were sold by order of the fire underwriters—

On with the Story.

A JUST INSTINCT.

EVERETT HOLBROOK.

Fate was a cat, and Leonard Herrick was a mouse. There had been some rare sport, but Herrick was of the opinion that it could not last much longer. He had run this way and that way, and a thousand times he had fancied that the velvet paws, with the long, sharp claws springing out of them, had caught him just in time. So at last he lay still panting, not knowing which way to turn.

He was in a big city, all alone. The people who rushed by him were like the thoughts that whirled through his brain—they were shadows, and the everlasting train of them had no beginning or end. He could not distinguish the real men and women whom he saw from those whom he merely remembered. Now and again there appeared in the throng the faces of the dead. He did not mind those. But there were others that he shrank from.

He stood with his back against the iron fence in front of Trinity church.

Herrick's hands were in his pockets. He crumpled a crackling piece of paper, which meant that he could live several days longer if he cared to do so. As to a more extended future, he could not picture it. All the lines of his life seemed to end in a knot which could by no means be untied, but must merely be dropped. He remembered that there were miracles, but he could not think of one to wish for.

He crossed Broadway and walked down Wall street, slowly and with hesitation, for he had no errand. A voice cried, "Cab, sir!" almost in his ear. He turned and looked up at the man on the box.

"Is it possible," he said to himself, "that I still look like a gentleman?"

He felt toward the cabman as toward one who had given him a helping hand. Why not pay the debt? To do so would cost him only a day of his life. He had a five dollar bill in his pocket.

"Yes," he said. "Take me up to the Fifth Avenue hotel."

It was the first place that had come into his mind. He got into the cab and snapped the door. The cushioned seat and the comfortable support for his head were very refreshing. A fancy came to him that he would dine decently and then go to a theatre. The extravagance would be trifling, for it was really of small importance whether he starved to death on Sunday or the following Wednesday. He was in a mood to make a jest of it all.

A strong glare from an electric light struck down into the carriage and made visible to him a package in brown paper that looked as if it might be a sandwich. The object protruded from under the seat. He thought it must be the cabman's supper which had been hidden in some small locker and had fallen upon the floor. The idea that the food should be spoiled was disagreeable to Herrick, and so he picked up the little brown bundle.

It was smaller than he had supposed, and it did not feel like bread. But had it been food, and he at the last pang of starvation, the touch of it would not have sent such a thrill through all his frame.

He knew that the contents of that package was money. It felt like a mass of bills folded, awkwardly wrapped up and fastened with elastic bands. Through the brown covering Herrick could feel the crispness of the government paper. The amount might be a poor man's monthly wages or a rich man's profit on a great transaction.

As to his own conduct in this matter, Herrick had no doubt whatever. Fate had thrown this money into his hands, and fate might take it away, but not if he could hold on tightly enough. His fingers trembled as he picked at the elastic bands. Suddenly and without his knowing why the rubber strings vanished with a loud snap that startled him, and the package sprang open on his knees. He caught a flash of green color, and then the cab rolled out of light into shadow.

It seemed a long time before another light struck in upon him. At the moment when it did so he saw a face close to the cab door, and he dodged back, covering the bills with his hands. But the chance passenger on the street saw nothing. He was thinking of his own affairs no doubt and had no inkling of the strange thing that passed so close to his eyes.

Herrick was himself again in a moment, and he bent forward, eagerly scanning the bills in his hands and counting them feverishly. There were forty of them and each was of the denomination of $1,000.

Throughout the latter period of the young man's misfortunes he had had substantially but one wish—to rest. Rest has many forms, suited to a vast variety of individual tastes. To Herrick in his day dreams it had always taken the form of travel without care. All paths lie open for a man who has forty thousand dollars, and there is no reason why care should sit behind him as he rides.

He disposed the notes in his pockets in the best interests of comfort and safety. Then he folded up the brown paper and pocketed that also, with a dim consciousness that if it were left in the cab it might get the driver into trouble. The fellow was honest, no doubt, and Herrick did not wish that he should suffer wrong.

How to leave the cab was a question which concerned him nearly. He did not wish to confront the driver again, for there might be an investigation, and a question of identification might arise, in which case it would be well to have the man know as little as possible of Herrick's personal appearance. He reflected with satisfaction that the spot on Wall street had been rather dark.

The cab stopped suddenly, its path being blocked by a tangle of vehicles. Herrick softly put his hand upon the catch of the door. It yielded noiselessly; the door swung open.

Herrick stepped out. Turning back for an instant, he perceived the cabman sitting upon his box in entire unconsciousness of the fraud that was being practised upon him. He was a poor man and doubtless worked hard for all the money that he received. Still, it was reckless to attract his attention again, especially so after having left the cab in that strange manner.

There was a way to the sidewalk through the press of vehicles. Herrick saw it from the corner of his eye and was about to take advantge of it. Instead, to his surprise, he found himself turned toward the cabman, and immediately he heard his own voice saying,—

"I have decided to get out here. How much do I owe you?"

The cabman named his price, and Herrick paid him with a $5 bill which had been the sum of his wealth and the end of it, so far as he could see, so short a time before. He counted his change carefully, remembering that he would probably have to wait until the next day before he could break one of the thousands. Enough remained to him from the bill for a supper, a bed and a breakfast.

When he had found a restaurant he ordered a meal and ate it with relish. It was enchanted food. It was the fare on the Atlantic liner, the delicacies of European hotels and the fruits of the tropics.

He cared little for his bed. It would be no more than a place to lie and think of the future. It was many a night since he had really slept. Certainly with so much upon his mind he would not sleep this night, even if he should try. So when he had been shown to his room in a hotel he piled his pillows against the headboard of the bed and reclined against them, fully dressed. He was very happy. No question of right or wrong in what he had done or what he expected to do came to torment him. For a long time he had borne his life like a tremendous burden. This had suddenly slipped from his shoulders, leaving his natural powers benumbed.

In the midst of his first vision of a new life he was aroused by a knocking at the door. He started up; his legs would hardly support him; he had no voice with which to ask who was there. But one explanation was possible. He must have been watched by the police.

He tottered to the door, and gave utterance to a hoarse, inarticulate sound.

"Eight o'clock, sir!" cried a voice without. "You asked to be called, sir."

He rushed to the window and flung open the shutters. Day streamed in, strong and beautiful. The gas flame paled. He knew that he had slept as he had not slept before in years. In the mysterious depths of his life he felt a new strength stirring, but it was only nascent as yet.

A bath and a breakfast revived him still more. He felt the exhilaration of a busy day upon which he was entering. He scanned the papers, but so far as he could see they had no news of the money that had been lost. He was not conscious of any excitement in searching for that news. The fear of detection had quite left him. Of all stolen gods, money is the hardest to recover.

His pockets were bulging with money, but there was something in one of them that he couldn't remember to have put there. He pulled it out and found it to be the brown paper that had contained the money. As he held it in his hand it was concealed by his newspaper. No fellow passenger could see it, and it was doubly fortunate, because in plain sight upon the paper were the name and address, "Herbert L. Graham, 40 Wall street."

The train was just stopping at Rector street. That was the station nearest the steamship office. Thrusting the brown paper back in his pocket, he left the car and went with the throng down to the street. He was thinking about the accommodations he would choose on the steamer. He continued to think of that and kindred subjects, yet he turned north on Broadway instead of south. Presently he found himself asking an elevator boy in a big building if he knew where Mr. Graham's office was.

Mr. Graham happened to be in his outer office when Herrick entered. He was pouring a story into the ear of another grey haired Wall street man, and Herrick heard a few words of it—something about cabs and cash and carelessness.

"I have found the money that you lost," said Herrick. "Here it is."

"Zion!" cried the banker, clutching the bills in his fingers. "My dear fellow, tell me all about it."

"There's nothing to tell," replied the young man. "I merely found it in the cab."

Mr. Graham eyed him a moment in surprise.

"You take it coolly," he said.

"I couldn't take it at all," responded Herrick, with a feeble smile. "I don't know why. It was instinct, I suppose. My ancestors must have been honest men."

"Upon my word, you must take one of these notes," said the banker. "I've offered it in an ad., and——"

"I can't do it," said Herrick. "I don't feel it would be right."

"But, my dear boy," exclaimed the old man, kindly, "I must do something for you. I want to, believe me. At least come back and take lunch with me. Shall we say at 10 o'clock?"

"It will give me great pleasure," said Herrick, and, bowing, he turned away and walked out of the office.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

MRS. OLIPHANT NOVELIST.

She Was One of the Purest and Simplest Spirits in Recent English Literature.

Mrs. Oliphant was one of the most prolific and versatile authors of modern times, and her name is known wherever the English language is read. Her novels have been a recognized feature of the best English literature for many years, and, despite all the changes in standards of taste, they have succeeded in keeping an undiminished popularity. While it is upon them that her fame chiefly rests, she has also written books both along historical and biographical lines which have given her the highest standing in each of these spheres of literary activity.

Mrs. Oliphant's reputation as a writer is not merely a matter of the latter part of her life. Ever since her first novel was published, when she was aged 21, she has had a place in the hearts of a very large class of readers. She had special skill in delineating characters and scenes of the Scotch life with which she was best acquainted, and she was able to make the persons she portrayed stand before the reader in all the reality of life. She was less successfull in the construction of plots, but even on this side often accomplished most satisfactory results.

She was an exceedingly rapid writer, turning out with great regularity after she began to write a three-volume novel every year. She published over forty works of fiction, in addition to the numerous biographical and historical works. It would be very hard to find her equal in this respect, considering the high and even standard of style which she maintained.

Mrs. Oliphant was born at Wallyford, near Musselburgh, in Midlothian, in 1826, her maiden name being Margaret Oliphant Wilson. Her early attempt at writing for the immediate pleasure of her own circle of friends met with so much approbation that her first novel, called "Passages in the Life of Mrs. Margaret Maitland of Sunnyside," was given to the publisher. With this work her long career of activity was entered upon. Most of her novels were stories of daily life or were chosen from historical scenes. They were all noted for the exceeding purity of their tone, as she steadily and consistently refused to have anything to do with the criminal sides of life, whether among the higher or the lower classes of society.

Her death in June came to her as a welcome relief from pain. She was seventy years old and had always remained in England.

AN ODD DIET.

Men Among the Honduras Mines Who Eat Baked Clay.

One of the most repulsive instances of depravity of appetite is found among the Honduras miners, certain of whom are called Otomacs and "tores," because of their earth-licking proclivities.

This earth is a species of clay found in the mines, and is not only licked but frequently eaten raw or baked in flat cakes in the ashes of a fire. When eaten raw, it will dissolve in the mouth, and is pale yellowish pink in color, with a greasy taste. When cooked, it becomes crisp or crumbly, according to the amount of care bestowed upon the culinary operations.

The habit of earth eating, when acquired is rarely, if ever, shaken off, and some of its victims live entirely upon it, consuming as much as six or eight pounds a day, and varying their loathsome diet only by an admixture of sugar with the clay.

Earth eaters are known by their ghastly, livid features, and are usually killed by the practice.—Golden Days.

RESOLVED,

That the Clerk be directed to inform the parties protesting against the passage of the general sewer ordinance for enlarging the sewer area of the City, that the ordinance proposed is for the purpose of permitting work to be done under that ordinance whenever property owners take the necessary steps, and to save the expense of an ordinance for each street that property owners may petition to have sewered, and is not the intention of this Council to direct the construction of a sewer in any street except such as property owners petition for.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings make them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the materia, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

EXPERIMENT WITH LOCKJAW.

Interesting Tests Made With Antitoxine In the Disease.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The physicians [illegible] Emergency hospital have had their first chance to practically test the antitoxine of tetanus, or lockjaw. An interesting series of experiments with this poison and its antidote have been carried on for a year past at the army medical laboratory, but the disease in human beings is so rare that no practical test has been made in Washington.

The sufferer in this case was Richard Curtis, colored. He stepped on a nail several days ago, making a bad wound in the sole of his foot. All the symptoms of the disease developed. The muscles of the face and neck became rigid, and the patient could not speak. Nourishment had to be given by injection.

The antitoxine was injected in the patient's side, and he has since been kept in perfect quiet. The physicians state that the spasms, which are one of the features of the disease, have begun to subside, and the patient's condition is now quite encouraging.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

Interesting Data Concerning the Development of the Abnormal Tendency.

Albany, Aug. 4.—From statistics prepared by Charles N. Baker, chief clerk of the state superintendent of prisons, the fact appears that criminal tendency has its greatest advent at the age of 29 years. This is a singular fact, inasmuch as man is presumed to have reached the full development of his faculties at that period of life.

Mr. Baker is preparing an exhaustive table to demonstrate this fact and has already completed the statistics relative to criminals serving life sentences for murder. This shows that the most crimes of this nature are committed at the ages of 22, 27, 29 and 45, a peculiarity being that the average between 29 and 45 is considerably low.

The younger of these murderers was 15 and the oldest 70 when they committed the crimes. As far as the statistics show, no murders were committed at 51, 54, 55, 60, 62, 65, 66 or 69 years.

THE AUSTRIAN FLOODS.

Immense Damage to Life and Property Done—Waters Subsiding.

Vienna, Aug. 4.—The danger of serious floods here is averted, as the water is beginning to subside, but it is still necessary to take all possible precautions.

The reports of fatal casualties from the provinces are most deplorable. Eighty-five persons have been drowned in Silesia, 60 between Ischl and Dausson and 10 at Jungbuch, while nearly 100 persons are missing, most of whom are supposed to be drowned.

At Johannishad, Bohemia, there have been 17 fatalities, and from almost every district come reports of widespread destruction among crops and cattle.

Priest to Undergo His Sentence.

Auburn, Neb., Aug. 4.—Father Thomas Fitzgerald has gone to Conception, Mo., to enter a monastery and execute the sentence imposed upon him by Mgr. Martinelli for the part he took in the fight of three years ago on Bishop Donacum of Nebraska. He will remain in the monastery in entire seclusion for six months. This closes the famous case growing out of the rebellion of 25 priests of Nebraska against their bishop because of his alleged tyranny.

The Chaquello Case.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Further advices to the state department from Consul General Lee at Havana respecting the case of the American citizen Manuel Fernandez Chaquello are to the effect that he has not been sentenced to death on the charge of being found with arms in hand. His case will be referred to the supreme court of war and marine at Madrid in order that it may pronounce executory sentence.

Held For Murder.

Corning, N. Y., Aug. 4.—A coroner's jury here has held Horace Cook of Woodhull for killing his father-in-law, Solomon Adams, also of Woodhull. The shooting took place on Jan. 4, and Cook was indicted for assault in the first degree. Adams died on June 10. As a result of his injuries a warrant is now out for Cook for murder in the first degree. Family jangles and jealousy caused the shooting.

The Turkish Peace Conference.

Constantinople, Aug. 4.—The peace conference was in session three hours, and unexpected progress was made with the negotiations. It is said that everything has been arranged except the question of the evacuation of Thessaly, which is to be considered today. It is thought that a solution of the whole difficulty is now imminent.

Woman and Children Burned to Death.

Richmond, Aug. 4.—A negress, the wife of John Roberts, a small farmer, and her two children have been burned to death at Malvern Hill. Roberts was in the field at work at the time and came home to find it in ashes and his family burned. The victims are supposed to have been asleep at the time of the fire.

Government Duck Contract Given Out.

Rome, Ga., Aug. 4.—The Rome Cotton factory has obtained a government contract for 1,300,000 yards of heavy duck for mail sacks. The amount of the contract is $250,000. The mill has been forced to purchase new machinery and employ a large number of hands at good wages.

July Business In Connecticut.

New Haven, Aug. 4.—Bradstreet's mercantile agency reports the business failures in Connecticut during July to have been 32 in number, with assets of $76,350 and liabilities of $188,250. During July, 1896, there were 24 failures, with assets of $74,440 and liabilities of $262,300.

Banking Firm to Go Out of Business.

New York, Aug. 4.—The banking house of James G. King's Sons, founded in 1815 and formerly one of the principal banking firms of the city, is going out of business. The business has long dwindled. What remains will be taken over by Baring, Magoun & Co.

Mills to Shut Down.

Providence, Aug. 4.—Notice was posted in the Hope and Phenix mills in the Pawtuxet valley that the mills would be shut down during the coming week

INSURANCE REFUSED

Many Companies Will Not Take Risks on Gold Seekers.

CONSIDER THEM TOO HAZARDOUS.

Accident Companies Are Even More Particular Than Life, as They Say There Is More Danger From Accident Than Disease.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Inquiry develops that many of the principal life and accident insurance companies have issued positive instructions to their general agents in the United States and Canada against assuming any risks upon the lives of persons contemplating a visit to the Klondike. Many of the general agents representing eastern life and accident insurance companies in Chicago have received letters from the home office of a prohibitory nature against these risks.

Mr. Harris, the manager of the New York Life Insurance company in Chicago, has received no instructions that prohibit him from issuing a permit to policy holders in that company to visit the Klondike, but he says they have positive instructions to accept no applications for either an increase of insurance or new policies.

The Provident Life and Trust company has positive instructions not to take any insurance of this character hereafter, while at the office of the Equitable Life Insurance company they are refusing all such risks. The manager of the Equitable in Chicago is out of the city, but his assistant stated he had written the home office in regard to Klondike insurance. In the case of old policy holders an extra charge is made by the Equitable for a permission to visit Alaska. What this charge is the Chicago representative of that company is unable to say, but it will be at least an addition of $5 per thousand.

Will Refuse New Risks.

The Penn Mutual is another company that has no instructions from the home office against taking risks on the lives of those going to the Alaskan goldfields. Their representative has stated that it is their policy in the absence of positive instructions to refuse new business of this character. He said, however, that no action would be taken in regard to policy holders who desire to visit the goldfields. Many of the small companies, and especially the local companies, flatly refuse to accept business of this character. They say the risks are too great for the premiums.

The action of the life insurance companies is not nearly as surprising as that of the accident. The companies carrying accident risks are even more particular than many of those assuming life risks. They go on the theory that the trip overland to Alaska is fraught with more dangers to life and limb from accident than is possible from disease. The only thing that causes the accident companies to hesitate in canceling the policies is the extreme prudence that the policy holder has shown in the past. They do not care to assume a risk upon a daring young prospector who will not take even the precautions of carrying sufficient clothing and food with him to the Klondike regions. They estimate that the greater portion of those going to that country are persons unaccustomed to cold and are insufficiently provided with food and clothing.

Brooklyn Firemen For the Klondike.

New York, Aug. 4.—Seven or eight members of the Brooklyn fire department, attached to engine house No. 1, have been importuning Peter Hogan, an old California gold hunter who made several hundred thousand dollars in the period around '49, to lead them through the Chilkat pass into the goldfields of Alaska. He has consented, and the party will start for Seattle within a few days to connect with a steamer leaving there on the 20th inst.

Women Off For Klondike.

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—The steamer Noyo, which sails today with 140 passengers for Dyea, Alaska, has booked ten women, who will make the journey over the Chilkat pass to the Klondike goldfields. Two other passengers are Mayor Scott of Springfield, Ills., and his son. Mayor Scott has resigned his office to seek a fortune in the frozen north.

Truancy Officers to be Appointed.

Albany, Aug. 4.—State Superintendent of Instruction Skinner is preparing a circular letter to the supervisors and town clerks in the state calling attention to the fact that the town board of each town must appoint one or more truancy officers under the compulsory education law, whose jurisdiction shall extend over all school districts in their respective towns except that part of the town which is part of a village district. These appointments must be made annually, and trustees of school districts are not eligible for appointment, and the appointees may be removed by the state board of school commissioners.

Tramps Seize a Freight Train.

Aberdeen, S. D., Aug. 4.—Over 100 tramps and harvesters took possession of a freight train on the Northwestern. The train was side tracked and the sheriff and police called upon for assistance, and after an hour's delay the tramps were dislodged, and the train proceeded. Sheriff Rister was called to Groton to arrest tramps who were terrorizing the town. After a big fight they were all jailed. This county is now overrun with tramps.

Incendiary Fires In West Virginia.

Lewisburg, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Fire broke out in H. T. Bell's store, and before it could be checked it destroyed Stratton's hotel, two banks, two drug stores and ten other buildings. The Ronceverte steam engine was telephoned for and saved the town from total destruction. Loss about $75,000; insurance, $25,000. The fire was incendiary, and this is the second attempt within a week.

Old Establishment Destroyed by Fire.

Canton, O., Aug. 4.—The mammoth hardware establishment of C. C. Snyder, which has done business here for half a century, has been destroyed by fire, entailing a loss between $75,000 and $100,000. The fire started from an exploded lamp in the center of the store. The firemen could do little or nothing on account of the heat and smoke.

TWIN CITIES FIGHT KING ALCOHOL.

Crusade Against Liquor Traffic to be Inaugurated

The liquor traffic is agitating the twin cities of Asbury Park and Ocean Grove. In Ocean Grove the crusade against the traffic has been so far this season limited to Auditorium lectures, delivered during the sessions of enthusiastic temperance conventions, but in Asbury Park the war against the illicit sale of intoxicating liquors has become active. It promises to be even more energetic in the future, for the authorities have determined that the prohibition law shall be observed.

The law under which Asbury Park becomes a prohibition town is the one which protects camp meetings from the sale of alcoholic drinks by providing that no intoxicants shall be sold within a mile of the camp meeting. As no part of Asbury Park is a mile distant from Ocean Grove, the law serves as a prohibitory measure for the Park as well as the Grove. The members of the Board of Aldermen and Mr. Bradley, chairman of the police committee, are determined that the law shall be enforced.

BRINGS BACK ERRING WIFE.

Edward Fanning Goes to Boston Whence the Penitent Wife Wrote Him.

Edward Fanning, of Roselle, has heard from his wife, who two weeks ago eloped with Eugene Wood, their boarder, taking with her a sum of money which her husband had saved up. Wood deserted her at Boston, to which place they went from Roselle, and yesterday Fanning, who has been endeavoring to locate the pair, received a letter from his now repentant wife, begging his forgiveness and asking him to come and take her back. She told her husband of Wood's desertion of her, and her helplessness in a strange place.

Fanning, who blames Wood entirely, has left for Boston and will forgive and bring back his wife.

BELATED LEGAL ACTION.

Deed of 1864 Recorded and a Mortgage 20 Years Old Cancelled.

Two interesting papers were filed in the office of the County Clerk of Middlesex county by John H. Conger, of New Brunswick, yesterday. One was a deed of March 1st, 1864, which had not been recorded, although drawn up thirty-three years ago. The deed conveyed a tract of land from Lewis Thomas to Robert C. Vail, of Woodbridge. The other was the cancellation of a mortgage which had been paid off twenty years ago, but had not been cancelled.

Wm. Ferrier, of New Market, gave Samuel Smalley a mortgage in 1876 as security for borrowed money. He paid back the loan a few years later and was surprised recently to find that the mortgage had not been cancelled. Smalley had died several years ago, and when the matter was brought to the attention of Judge Woodbridge Strong yesterday he issued an order for the cancellation of the mortgage.

BICYCLES UNDER SUNDAY BAN.

Christian Endeavorers Pledged Against Sunday Cycling.

The Christian Endeavorers of Camden have taken a pledge against Sunday cycling. The credit for it belongs to the Endeavor Society of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, of which the Rev. Dr. Spooner, state junior superintendent, is pastor. This society adopted the pledge for itself and then asked its members and bicycle members of the church to sign it. The pledge in part reads:—

I promise that I will not ride my wheel on the Sabbath only as it will honor my Master, and I believe He would like to have me do. I also promise to exert all possible influence to discourage others in the use of the Sunday wheels.

More than fifty members of this church at once signed the pledge, and a committee has taken it in charge, and tonight began a tour of the country to get all the Endeavor societies to adopt it. The pastors support the plan heartily, and by next Sunday a big roll of signatures is expected from Camden's forty churches.

TITLE WILL BE PERFECTED

Then the Cranford Country Club Will Start Building Its New House.

The trustees of the Conntry Club, of Cranford, have found a flaw in the title of the lot, Riverside and Union avenue, upon which it was intended to construct a $30,000 clubhouse. The property belonged to Edward Bookhout, from whom it was purchased by Joseph Purcell, a prominent member of the club, who sold it to the club at a greatly reduced figure. It is said that the street, as accepted and laid out by the Township Committee, would embrace a portion of the ground claimed by the former owners of the land.

To settle all dispute and perfect the title the Road Board met to consider an application of property holders to vacate and abandon the old road, and the question will be decided Friday in favor of the claim of the owners.

TROUBLED BY HIGH WATER

Watchung Avenue Bridge Contractor Experiencing Trouble.

The contractor for the masonry work of the new Watchung avenue bridge is having considerable difficulty with his work. The heavy rains of last week washed away a part of the stonework, and all efforts to lay a new foundation have since failed because of the presence of water in the excavation, which has been flowing in faster than it could be pumped out. Efforts to remove the water will be abandoned and by the use of concrete it is hoped to advance the work without further serious delay.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Protective Conclave of Heptosophs will hold a regular this evening.

—A stage load of young people will go from Evona to Boynton Beach on Saturday.

—There was a rumor about town, this morning, which could not be verified, that an insane man had broken away from the guards at the New Jersey State Hospital and come to this city.

—The contract case of Bicknell against Randolph was tried before Justice Newcorn this morning, and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount and costs.

—J. J. Reason, of Barker's pharmacy, who some time ago received the degree of Ph.G from the New York College of Pharmacy, has also successfully passed the examinations of the New Jersey State Board of Pharmacy.

—A few young people were entertained last evening by Miss Eugenia Adleman, at her home on West Fourth street. The evening was passed in a pleasant social manner, and the serving of refreshments was not the least of the pleasing features.

—In the account of the sesqui-centennial of the Scotch Plains Baptist church yesterday, it should have been Rev. J. C. Buchanan, of Pemberton, a former pastor, who is to speak, instead of Rev. J. C. Pemberton. The church is thirty years old instead of twenty, as also stated.

Miss Cora Laire, daughter of J. P. Laire, of Park avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Annandale.

It Was Unearthly Nice.

I have a pretty story of old Dr. Lyman Beecher's second wife. Henry Ward Beecher's mother, says a writer in the Dubuque "Times," who came, when she married, from a home of taste and luxury to the bareness of a country parsonage. Her rich, artistic nature revolted against a sanded floor or striped rag carpet in her parlor, and she tacked down a canvas floor-covering, and then took out her oil paints and painted it with graceful sprays of flowers. After this work of art was done, one of the deacons came to see the pastor. He was shown into the parlor, but it was only after much persuasion and many assurances that he could be induced to set foot upon such magnificence. He sat and gazed at it till finally he burst out: "Well, well, do you expect to have all this and heaven, too?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Japanese Prison.

The prison, six miles from Tokio, seems to be a model in its perfect management. We approached a lot of handsome buildings, and asked if they did not belong to the university. "No; the prison where we are going," the guide said, and we entered the beautiful grounds, laid off artistically and planted with flowers. The buildings are of brick, one story high, and are filled with many comforts. Every prisoner saluted us.

In the shops all are required to work and are supplied with all necessary materials by the government. Some do exquisite cloisonne and good carving; others make useful articles, such as shoes, buckets, baskets, etc., until you can find almost any article you wish. The articles are sold for just what the material costs.

VARIETIES.

Foreman—I tell you, the editor is a man of resources.

Assistant—What's he been doing now?

Foreman—Why, he wanted a map to run with this article on the Turkish situation, and what do you think he did? He ran the cut that was in the old woven wire fence ad. I tell you, they've got to hustle if they get the start of the Morning Howl.—Truth.

Recently a young man wrote to William Dean Howells for his autograph. The novelist replied in a type-written line:

"Have you bought my last book?"

The young man answered:

"I have not. I want to sell your autograph in order to get money enough to buy it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Ethel—"Well, Jimmy didn't blow his brains out after all because you refused him. He proposed to Miss Golightly yesterday."

Maud—"Did he? Then he must have got rid of them in some other way."—London Punch.

THE FIRST COAL TRAIN.

STEVEN R. HOPE WAS CONDUCTOR AND TELLS OF THE TRIP.

The Train Consisted of 100 Cars and Was Divided Into Sections With Seven Brakemen—One Section Jumped the Track.

Several days ago, the story of the first telegraph from Washington to New York was told. Col. A. D. Hope's efforts in carrying the first message from Somerville to New York were also referred to. Steven R. Hope, of Richmond street, a cousin of Col. Hope, was in charge of the first coal-train that went over the Jersey Central Railroad from Phillipsburg to Elizabethport, forty-one years ago.

On that eventful occasion, an engine called "Asa Packer" with Sam Pangborn, as engineer, brought 100 coal cars from Mauch Chunk and dropped them on a siding at Phillipsburg. Then Steven R. Hope, a conductor, was put in charge of the train with seven brakemen to assist him.

The train was brought out on to the main track in sections with the engine, "Bloomsberg," run by Engineer in front. Three engines assisted to push the train as far as Junction and then two others went on with the train. Superintendent John O. Hern, Asa Packer and the Roadmaster accompanied the train. Going downgrade between Clarksville and High Bridge, forty of the cars jumped the track with John Waters and John Caffrey, brakemen, on them. They escaped without injury, however. The cars were cleared out of the way and the train of sixty cars contined, reaching Clinton at 6 o'clock the next morning. Then the officers of the road left the train and returned home.

At about 2 o'clock, the train stopped at a little town which Engineer Moore said was "Pinchgut," an old name applied to Plainfield, and the train waited while Conductor Hope, who had been there before, ran down to Jackson Pound's "bake shop," on West Front street, and bought some pies for the train hands. The rest of the trip was made without accident.

MRS. MANN'S FUNERAL.

Complimentary Words Spoken by a Former Pastor of the Deceased.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mann was held yesterday afternoon at 2.30 from Bethel chapel. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Tilden, officiated, and he was assisted by the Rev. W. A. Alexander, D. D., a former pastor of the chapel who now lives in Brooklyn. Mr. Tilden delivered a very impressive sermon, while Dr. Alexander spoke at length concerning the personality of the departed, whom he had known for several years past. She was a devoted Christian woman, and in the home and church circles she will be greatly missed.

There was a large attendance of friends and acquaintances, and the floral tributes were beautiful and expressive. Interment was in the Plainfield Avenue Cemetery.

Glad Tidings Tent.

The service at the Glad Tidings tent, corner Fifth street and Park avenue, was conducted last night by Rev. Thomas Needham, who has come to take charge of the work. This evening Mr. Williams and Rev. George C. Needham will speak Service at 8 o'clock. All welcome.

Iona's Team Had a Drill.

At the meeting of Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, last evening, the team had a drill in preparation for the trip to Carteret next Monday night when they will institute a new Council. In the good of the order several pleasant features were introduced.

Low Land to Be Filled In.

There is a strip of low land near Netherwood that was completely filled with water by the recent rains which was allowed to stand so long that it became a nuisance. The Board of Health notified the owners yesterday, and the land will be filled in with dirt.

Kicked By a Colt.

Frank Moffett, of Sterling, was leading a three year old colt by the halter strap a day or two ago when the animal became frisky and landed its hind feet on Moffett's face. One eye was closed and the skull laid bare. The injurses are not serious, however.

New Members Initiated.

At the meeting of the Heptasophs held last evening J. Fred MacDonald, William Tier, John Tier, Sr., and Mr. Green were initiated into the mysteries of the order. Five more persons were elected to membership and the charter was closed.

Judgment for the Plaintiff.

The case of Brown against Venizio, on contract, was tried by Justice Nash this morning and judgement was rendered for the plaintiff for $172 and costs.

A MISSING BOY.

Fifteen-Year-Old Lad May Be In This Vicinity.

On last Monday a bicycle was found lying in the road between Scotch Plains and Fanwood with the rear wheel broken, and the fact was mentioned in the Daily Press on Monday.

Yesterday, Mr. Evans, the head of the Evans Cycle Company, of 255 Morris avenue, Elizabeth, visited Scotch Plains to get a look at the wheel, hoping that it might throw some light upon the mysterious disappearance of his 15-year-old son, who left his home in Elizabeth on Saturday for a short bicycle ride, and has not yet returned.

It has been ascertained that the lad was in Union about sundown on Saturday evening last, and no other trace of him can be found. The father on hearing of the broken bicycle in Scotch Plains came to inspect it in the hope that it might be the machine on which his boy left home.

On seeing the wheel, however, Mr. Evans stated that it was not his son's.

It is feared that the boy has met with foul play, or that his mind has become deranged and he is wandering about the State.

COL. MOORE'S NEW BUSINESS.

At the Head of a Credit Insurance Coupon Company.

Always resourceful and original, Col. Charles K. Moore is now at the head of a metropolitan organization whose scope of business will take in the whole country. It is known as the American Trading Company, organized under the laws of New Jersey with a capital of $10,000. The offices are at 143 Liberty street. Its objects and methods of business are along the same lines as many other organizations conducted on the coupon system. In each town as fast as agents can be appointed selected merchants will give credit coupons to customers to the value of $100 when that amount of goods have been purchased and then these coupons can be sent to the Trading Company, together with a formal application, and a life insurance policy for $100, good for one year, in a responsible benefit association will be issued to the holder of the holder of the coupons. As a trade inducement it is one of the best things that has been devised. J. F. MacDonald, the uptown grocer, is the first merchant to take advantage of the system in Plainfield.

The officers of the Trading Association are Col. E. H. Austin, of New York, president; Col. Charles K. Moore, of Fanwood, vice-president and general manager; Charles S. Westervelt, of Jersey City, treasurer.

SMEDBERG'S CASE AN ALIBI.

His Lawyer Says He Has Witnesses to Clear the Young Man.

Alfred Kelsey, the Jersey City lawyer who appeared for Joseph Duncan Smedberg at his examination last Monday, claims to have a complete alibi for the accused. He said that when the time came he could bring forth witnesses that would prove an alibi for Smedberg. He could get the conductors of the trolley cars on which he rode, said the lawyer, and he also could get the people at whose house he spent the evening.

Whether Smedberg did pawn the ring and how he came into possession of it, the lawyer has nothing to say, except that he had been instructed not to put Smedberg on the stand at present, but that Smedberg could account for everything when he gave his testimony.

MRS. WHISTED'S DEATH.

Funeral Delayed Until Yesterday Pending an Investigation.

An investigation into the manner in which Mrs Kate Hasett Whisted died at Plainfield, last Friday, has shown death to have been due to accident and not suicide, says The Herald. The funeral, which had been deferred pending the inquiry, took place from St. Mary's church, Ballston Spa, yesterday.

Rev. Father McDonough satisfied himself that it was not a case of suicide, and the body was interred in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Whisted was visiting friends in this city and was asphyxiated by escaping gas. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hassett, live in New York city.

At Boynton Beach.

The Blaine Republican Club, of New York city, will hold their annual excursion this year at Boynton Beach on Saturday, August 7th. The excursion will leave the foot Twentieth street at 9 a. m. on a steamboat and two barges. A lively time is expected at the Beach when the excursion arrives. There will be races of all kinds, two different ball games and a shooting contest, for which gold and silver medals will be given as prizes.

MONEY DRAWER RIFLED

A CLEVER PIECE OF WORK ON THE PART OF SNEAK THIEVES.

While an Ostensible Customer Detained the Clerk Outside His Confederate Tapped the Till in Harry Werner's Desk.

A pair of clever sneak thieves plied their occupation in a successful manner in the store of Harry Werner, the clothier, on West Front street, last night, when the cash drawer was relieved of its contents.

During the evening a stranger, stylishly attired and of suave manner, wandered into the store and asked the clerk to show him some handkerchiefs

The clerk complied with the request but the stranger did not seem to like any that were shown him. Finally, after much hesitancy, he remarked that he noticed some in the display window as he entered, and he asked the clerk if he would go out in front of the store and tell him the prices of those that struck his fancy.

The clerk and the stranger walked outside and the latter seemed in no hurry as he pointed out here and there the handkerchiefs that he liked and asked the prices of. He generally admired the display of goods that Mr. Werner had arranged and entered into conversation with the clerk that detained the two outside for several minutes.

After much apparent indecision as to just what he should select, he picked out a couple of ordinary white linen handkerchiefs and returned to the counter where the clerk wrapped them up and received thirty cents in change for the purchase. The stranger, still maintaining his suave, unconcerned manner, left the store immediately.

The clerk went back to the desk in the rear of the store and was surprised to find the money drawer standing open. Immediately suspicious of some wrong doing, he found that the contents of the drawer were missing. There were only a few dollars in the drawer, however.

It is supposed that while the ostensible customer of nice manners detained the clerk outside in front of the window by his questions, his confederate went through the alley two doors below and slipped in the back door, which was left open on account of the oppresive heat, and rifled the money drawer of its contents.

There is no clew to the identity of the principal thief.

The crooks also tried to work Putnam & DeGraw's dry goods goods store, when Mr. DeGraw was alone in the store. The well-mannered man made the same request of him that he did of the clerk in Werner's, but Mr. DeGraw declined to leave the store alone and the scheme was thus foiled.

ALL PARTIES TO BE HEARD.

No Gag Law at the Picnic to be Held at the Hunterdon Fair Grounds.

The big annual farmers' picnic of Hunterdon and adjoining counties will be held this year on the Hunterdon county fair grounds, near Flemington, August 18 and 19. For seven years this picnic has been one of the most noted political gatherings in the State. It is a general political meeting, every party being privileged to state its beliefs.

W. K. Cesna, the farmer orator of New York State, will discuss the question of hard times, their cause and remedy, August 18. Then Mortimore Whitehead, ex-national lecturer of the National Grange, will uphold free silver. Hon. William D. Daly, of Hoboken, will tell of the evil results of Republican legislation, and J. P. Nichols, of New York city, will speak on reform in politics.

August 19, Farmer Martine, of this city, will speak against trusts and combines. Then Professor Dickey, chairman of the National Prohibition Committee, will tell of the horrors of the liquor traffic. Governor Griggs will probably deliver a speech. Hon. Mahlon Pitney, representative from the Fourth Congressional District, will defend his party on national issues. Senator Sewell will reinforce his remarks. Hon. W. A. Cutter, of Newark, will conclude.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease may be present. If so she will speak. William J. Bryan was invited, but had other engagements. The Beveridge family, of Nebraska, will be on hand and will enliven the proceedings with their songs.

Run Over by a Train.

While attempting to get on board a freight at Metuchen, yesterday morning, Otto Trubel, twenty-four years old, of Philadelphia, missed his footing and fell between the cars. Both of his legs were cut off by the train and he died in less than an hour after he received his injuries. With young Trubel was Christopher Brown of 2328 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, who got on the train in safety.

MIRROR, GUIDE TO DEATH

D. W. POND STOOD BEFORE A LOOKING-GLASS WHILE HE SUICIDED.

The Remains of the Dead Man Taken to to Worcester, Mass., His Former Home, Today—What Business Associates Say.

The remains of David W. Pond, whose own hand pulled the trigger of the revolver that ended his life yesterday morning, were taken to his former home at Worcester, Mass., this morning, for interment.

It appears that Mr. Pond committed the fatal deed in the children's playroom on tho the third floor, the circumstances proving a deliberate suicide on his part. When found he laid between a bureau and a bed, with his feet next to the bureau. It is thought he stood before the bureau mirror when he aimed the shot, and, guiding his hand by the reflection of himself in the glass, he placed the muzzle of the revolver at the exact spot on his right temple where he knew the bullet would take instantaneous effect. The course of the bullet caused the eyes to be badly swollen.

Throughout the city yesterday and in the business circles in New York where he was known there were general expressions of regret and sorrow over the suicidal act of Mr. Pond. Though he had appeared contented and happy in the eyes of his family it is known that he was despondent over the financial losses he had met with.

The New York Evening Journal last night published the following in connection with the death of Mr. Pond:

David W. Pond had a desk in Room E 27, in the Produce Exchange Building. In the same room with him was H S. Wade and James S Fries, brokers. Mr. Wade was astounded this afternoon when told that Mr. Pond had killed himself.

"He has had a desk here for about six months," said Mr. Wade, "but he has not done any business. He was here yesterday and seemed cheerful and happy.

"I don't know anything about his financial condition, but he was formerly a big stockholder in the Pond Tool Machine Company, of Plainfield."

Charles A. Moore, of the firm of Manning, Maxwell & Moore, said he heard that Pond had committed suicide at 10 o'clock this morning.

"Mr. Pond has not been connected with the company," he said, "for about three years. He was here a few days ago and I was remarking that he took things easily, and that he had sold out about the right time.

"There was no reason that I know of for his taking his life. On the contrary, he had everything to live for.

"I called up a member of our company in Plainfield and he said that he had just heard of the suicide. He said he had seen Pond working in the garden on Saturday. He asked him how he was, and he replied 'All right.' While he was there Mrs. Pond rode up on her bicycle. She, too, was in the best of spirits."

STAUNCH AND RELIABLE.

Advantages of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association.

Those of a venturesome turn of mind may look to the Klondike fields as the one place for fortunes, but those of a sensible and conservative inclination know that perseverance and economy will be proportionately rewarded right in Plainfield. And there is no better medium for investment—especially for the man of modest income—than the Plainfield Building and Loan Association, which is a local institution conducted by local people for the advancement of local interests. Combined with the fact that it is staunch and reliable its advantages should be quickly recognized. The first series of stock run the course in less than eleven years and was paid in full and the second series is nearing its end and the holders will also reap full value for their investments. Next month the association proposes to open a new series, making the sixth one. Young men who contemplate building homes for themselves, and are handicapped by a lack of sufficient capital, will find it to their advantage to look into this excellent institution and assist in exerting its further usefulness by joining. An advertisement in today's Press tells of the association's advantages.

To Improve Bound Brook.

Articles of incorporation for the Beechwood Heights Land Co., of Bound Brook, were filed with the Middlesex County Clerk Monday. The company has a capital stock of $50,000 and begins business with $1,000 subscribed by the following incorporators: William W. Smalley, and Lewis S. Cook, of Bound Brook, five shares each at $100 a share; Charles W. Cadmus, of Philadelphia, two shares. The object of the company is to improve and sell land in Bound Brook.

ASSEMBLY NOMINATIONS.

Some of the Republicans Who Are Anxious for Honors.

The Elizabeth Journal has this to say of the Republican Assembly nominations:

James W. Ferguson, of Cranford, Roger Murray, of Plainfield, Major Edgar, of Rahway, and Frank Bergen, of Elizabeth, are among those talked of as possible Republican candidates for the Legislature. These are all in addition to Messrs. Roll, Codington, Clauss, Codding, Squire and Patterson, who have been previously named in the list of candidates.

The naming of so many possible or probable candidates shows that the Republican voters of this county appreciate the fact that whoever are nominated and elected this year will, according to party usage, be nominated and elected next year, and will then have the right to cast their votes for United States Senator, to succeed Senator James Smith, of Newark, the Democratic incumbent.

Union county has had notable men to represent its voters in the Legislature. The records show that in former years such men as Chief Justice Magie, Amos Clark, J. Henry Stone, Benj. A. Vail, James L. Miller, Elias R. Pope, Moses F. Cory, George T Parrot and Wm. H Corbin represented the county in one or the other branch of the Legislature, and certainly Union county's influence in that body ought to be fully maintained.

The Democrats will undoubtedly make an effort to rehabilitate and reorganize their shattered ranks, but whether they make it or not the Republicans should act as if everything depended upon their best choice of candidates and their best efforts to elect their nominees.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL PICNIC.

A Pleasant Affair Arranged to be Held at Washington Rock.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Somerset County Sunday School Association, held in Somerville, last December, it was decided that the nine townships of the county be divided into three districts, in each of which there shall be held a union picnic and convention some time during the summer. The committee for the district comprising Bernards, Warren and North Plainfield townships has decided to hold its picnic and convention at Washington Rock on Thursday, August 12th. Music and speaking will be arranged for.

All the schools in these three townships, and others in adjoining townships, are invited to spend the day at the historic rock grove, near Dunellen. The elevation affords one of the grandest views in the state.

Refreshments will be sold on the grounds, and the proceeds over expenses will be divided among the schools pro rata, according to the amount expended. It is believed that enough will be realized from this lunch to refund to each school as much as it expended.

TEARS MELTED THE CADI.

Young Philip VanArsdale's Sorrow Was Enough Atonement for His Offense.

Confronted by a stern judge on one side and a disciplined officer on the other, a fifteen-year-old lad was awe-stricken in city court this morning and gave vent to his sorrowful feelings by letting tears trickle down his cheeks while he mentally pictured the awful punishment that he was to suffer. The boy was Philip VanArsdale. Philip had no intention of doing anything wrong, but he misjudged just what the city allows and rode on the sidewalk with his bicycle. A big policeman arrested him and this morning Philip had to appear before Judge DeMeza. The Judge considered that the troubled conscience of Philip was enough atonement for his offence, and so he suspended sentence.

Wm. Ridout, A. S. Loizeaux and Alfred Jennings were old enough to know better than ride on the sidewalk on a bicycle and so the Judge fined them each $1. They paid.

SHOCK BROKE THE SKIN.

Telephone and Electric Light Wires Cross and a Lineman Hurt.

Herbert Chamberlain, lineman for the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, met with an accident yesterday afternoon. He was repairing a broken telephone wire on Madison avenue, near the power station, and had asked the man in charge there to shut off the current in the electric light wires as the broken wire was crossed with them. The current was shut off, but Chamberlain received a severe shock that burst his fingers of his right hand. It is supposed that the wire was crossed with a power wire.

Chamberlain was taken in the power station and Dr. Adams was called. His injuries were slight, however, and he was soon able to be out again.

BAPTISTS CELEBRATE.

SESQUI-CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE OF SCOTCH PLAINS SOCIETY.

The Morning Ushered in With Rain, but About 600 are Attending the Services, Which Are of an Interesting Nature

Very appropriately, perhaps, but not in accordance with the wishes of those most interested, the 150th anniversary of the Scotch Plains Baptist church was ushered in this morning by a deluge of rain equal to anything of the kind that has occurred for several months. Later in the morning, however, the rain ceased falling, and it is doubtful if many were kept from attending the service for fear of the water.

Long before 10 o'clock, the hour set for the morning servicess, the visitors from out of town began to arrive. Those from nearby places came in carriages, while those from a distance were met at the Fanwood station by those composing the entertainment committee, of which Dr. F. W. Westcott was chairman, and transported to the church in stages. About three hundred visitors came from Piscataway, Stelton, Pemberton, Plainfield, Westfield, Newark and other distant points.

The church was well filled by an audience numbering about 600, when the organ voluntary began. The pulpit platform was artistically decorated with palms, wild flowers and potted plants.

At 10 o'clock the strains of the doxology floated from the big organ and the audience arose and sang the familiar words. The invocation was by Rev G. H. Winans, pastor of the Scotch Plains Methodist Episcopal church.

The choir then sang a hymn and the Rev. J. C. Buchanan, D. D., of Pemberton, N. J, offered an eloquent prayer.

The address of welcome by the Rev. James S. Braker, the present pastor of the church, was in exactly the right vein of feeling, and opened the way for those following him to speak with happier effect.

Rev. J. W. Willmarth, D. D., of Philadelphia, next spoke upon "The Congregation With Which We Are Identified." His remarks were listened to intently, and awakened much interest. After the singing of another hymn by the choir Rev. W. T. Dorward, pastor of the Piscataway Baptist church, from which the Scotch Plains church was organized in 1747, spoke upon "Our Mother Church," describing in brief the career of the Piscataway church and speaking words of kindly feeling for the Scotch Plains church.

The Rev. J. F. Brown, D. D., of Mullica Hill, N. J., the oldest living ex-pastor of the church, whose pastorate dated from 1854 to 1860, gave an account in writing of his labors in Scotch Plains. Dr. Brown is no longer in active service as a preacher on account of ill health, but is held in high esteem in the denomination. He was unable to be present in person and his address was read by Dr. Dorward.

The Rev. Joseph C. Buchanan, who was pastor of the church from 1867 until 1878, next gave an account of his pastorate. An important material work accomplished during Dr. Buchanan's pastorate was the erection of the present church edifice, at a cost including the furniture and organ of $30,000.

At the close of Dr. Buchanan's address Prof. A. Baylis, of Brooklyn, sang a solo which charmed the audience.

Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D, who was pastor for the eleven years from January, 1883, to April, 1894, gave an address in which he stated that the years he spent as pastor of the Scotch Plains church were the pleasantest pastorate of his forty years' experience as a minister.

Dr. Parks was obliged to resign his charge on account of ill health. He still resides in the town and takes an active interest in the affairs of the old church. The last speaker of the morning was the Rev. J. S. Braker, the present pastor, who accepted a call to the church in 1894, succeeding Dr. Parks. The address was followed by a hymn and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. N. W. Cadwell, of the Westfield Presbyterian church.

The morning service ended at 12:20 o'clock and after an exchange of greatings between old friends who had not met for many years, the visitors were invited to an ample tent erected on the lawn at the side of the church, where twelve large tables were spread with delicacies. About twenty five ladies of the church served the guests.

The services this afternoon began at 2 o'clock. They were devoted to the Sunday-school, celebrating its 68th anniversary. Several ex-superintendants will make addressess.

The service this evening which will begin at 7 o'clock will be devoted to the churches which have sprung from the Scotch Plains church.

MOORS OVERAWED.

Differences Between This Country and Marocco.

WARSHIPS ORDERED TO THE SCENE.

Difficulty Arose From Discrimination Against Americans by the Moorish Authorities—Presence of the Vessels Has a Salutary Effect.

Tangier, Marocco, Aug. 5.—A commission headed by Vice Consul Carleton, who recently participated in the demonstration made by the United States cruiser Raleigh at the principal ports on the coast of Marocco in consequence of the differences between the United States and Marocco relative to the rights of American citizens, has arrived at the City of Marocco with important instructions in connection with American claims.

It is reported that the commission has had an interview with the grand vizier.

The original difficulty arose over the discrimination of the authorities of Marocco against Americans in refusing to permit them to employ native help, a privilege allowed Europeans. There were many other annoyances in connection with this serious grievance, and all appeals to the sultan, the grand vizier and the foreign minister were ignored.

Warships Ordered to Tangier.

Early in July the United States government ordered the warships Raleigh and San Francisco from Smyrna to Tangier as the only way in which the authorities of Marocco could be brought to a sense of their duty. The Moors had assaulted and robbed the agent of an American firm at Tangier. In response to the energetic protest of Consul General Burke the offenders were arrested and punished. Mr. Burke then filed a claim for indemnity on account of the loss of the money and the personal injuries sustained.

The arrival of the United States warships at Tangier brought the local authorities to terms, and the subsequent demonstration by the Raleigh at the ports along the coast completed the lesson. The special commission headed by Mr. Carleton is now pressing the government to settle the above mentioned claims and others of a like character.

Assaulted With a Hammer.

New York, Aug. 5.—William P. Condit, secretary of the Duplex Typewriter company of Des Moines, came to this city to investigate the accounts of the company's agent, Peter McNims, who has his office in the store of the Lyndhurst Bicycle company on lower Broadway. McNims' accounts were found in a badly muddled state, and it is alleged that the agent had given a chattel mortgage on the $3,700 worth of the company's stock in his charge. During the examination of the books the men got into a wrangle, which ended by McNims striking Condit on the head with a hammer. McNims was arrested.

Nicaragua Canal Commission.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Admiral Walker has called a meeting of the Nicaraguan canal commission to meet in New York. The meeting will take place at the rooms of the Canal company, and the commission expects to spend some time in an examination of the data which will be supplied by the company's officers. It is not yet settled when the commission will visit Nicaragua to go over the route of the proposed canal, but it is not probable that the departure will be within a month at least, as one of the members of the commission is booked for a flying trip to Europe before going south.

Miser Dead From Shock.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Christopher Schrage, the miser who was robbed of $55,000 in bonds a year ago, was buried yesterday. The old man never recovered from the shock of losing his wealth, although the bulk of it was restored. During the past month he refused food and raved continually about the robbery. The Schrage bond robbery formed a sensational episode in Chicago police history. Sleepy Burke, an ex-convict, when arrested in connection with the case, confessed and implicated several prominent police officials and politicians in the affair. The accused men were not convicted.

Hurt by Powder Explosion.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 5.—William Sheridan, a workman in the Elliott iron mines at Clinton, has been probably fatally injured by an explosion of eight kegs of powder. The powder was old and supposed to be worthless. It was in the open air at the mouth of the mine, and Sheridan intended to burn it with a fuse. The fuse was a short one, and the powder exploded with unexpected force. The man's face and arms were terribly burned, and he was rendered unconscious by the shock.

Jeremiah O'Sullivan Recovering.

Salem, Mass., Aug. 5.—Jeremiah O'Sullivan, who has been at the hospital in this city since he was pardoned out of jail, has so far recovered that he will leave for some resort in New Hampshire. He is not yet recovered, but his physician considers him in such condition that it would be better for him to go into the country.

Lockout at Grant's Tomb.

New York, Aug. 5.—The lock which fastens the massive bronze doors of the Grant mausoleum in Riverside park got out of order, and the tomb could not be opened to visitors for a long time. Expert locksmiths, however, finally succeeded in getting the lock in proper working order.

Poisoned by Eating Supposed Mushrooms

Rockford, Ills., Aug. 5.—Albert T. Lamb, a salesman for a local furniture company, and his four children are dangerously ill from eating what was supposed to be mushrooms. Miss Uriana aged 20, died, and Etta, aged 14, cannot live. The others are in a critical condition.

Claim Damages For Canal Overflows.

Albany, Aug. 5.—Claims have been filed against the state by Henry S. Winne of Mindenville, Montgomery county, for $1,175 and by Charles B. Gibson of Sandy Hill for $4,127 for damages to their property by overflows of the Erie and Champlain canals.

STRIKE CONDITION.

Has Not Changed Materially and Everything Quiet.

THE MEN CLAIM NEW ACCESSIONS.

Some of Them Have Been Sent to Their Homes Partly to Lessen Expenses and Because They Objected to Obeying Orders.

Pittsburg, Aug. 5.—The miners' strike situation has not changed materially. Everything about the Turtle Creek mine was quiet, the only ripple of excitement being the hearing of President Dolan and the other officials of the miners for riot and unlawful assemblage. The strikers claim 20 new accessions to their ranks. A careful estimate of the men now at work in that mine shows 215 out of the usual total of 285. No work was done at the Oak Hill or Sandy Creek mines.

The camp has been reduced in numbers by 300 men. They were sent to their homes for two reasons—to lessen expenses and because these men were not inclined to respond to the numerous marching orders imposed on them. The camp has been costing $300 a day to keep it provisioned, etc., being at the rate of 7 cents per man per day, as against 19 cents per day in the National guard encampments.

The camp is now under strict military discipline, and everything is moving like clockwork. The customary march will be made to Plum Creek in the early morning and will be continued daily, the miners' officials say, until the suspension in the De Armitt mines is complete.

At the hearing in the case of President Dolan and others for riot and unlawful assemblage before Justice Semmes a number of witnesses were heard, but the justice has reserved his decision.

The hearing of the four miners arrested last week at the Cover mines, near Cannonsburg, for trespass has been concluded. No evidence connecting the defendants directly with the song, "We'll Hang Black Sheep to a Sour Apple Tree," or with the use of opprobrious epithets was produced. None of the defendants appeared at the hearing, and they were held in contempt. Attachments were issued for their arrest.

Secretary Warner paid his compliments to President De Armitt of the New York and Cleveland company in no choice terms. The reason for this was the publication of the story that Mr. De Armitt had said that $10,000 had been sent into the Pittsburg district by the West Virginia operators in order to bring about a strike of the miners in this district and thus force the price of coal up. Both the secretary and President M. H. Carrick of the Painters and Decorators' union characterized the story as a canard.

Secret Meeting at Fairmont.

Fairmont, W. Va., Aug. 5.—A secret conference of the miners of this district has been held, at which all the miners were represented. Organizer Rea said it was very important but refused to give an account of its doings.

Rea and Woods have gone to Clarksburg, where a mass meeting is to be held. Rea says:

"I am greatly encouraged. The conference makes it evident that the Fairmont men will come out, and as Clarksburg is already tied up it looks like the strike is nearly over, if it depends on the men of this district."

Indiana Men Pugnacious.

Princeton, Ind., Aug. 5.—The striking miners of Davies, Pike and Gilison counties have taken the marching fever and have begun an attempt to close every coal mine in southern Indiana.

The Davies county miners invaded Pike county and closed the mine at Rodgers and the Wooley mine at Petersburg. It is reported here that the strikers entered another mine and drove the men at work out like cattle.

The strikers threatened to seize a Louisville and St. Louis Air line freight train and take it to Huntingburg.

Strike For an Advance.

Ardmore, Mo., Aug. 5.—Two hundred and fifty diggers in the Missouri and Kansas Coal company's mines here have gone on strike for an advance from 40 to 50 cents for mining. The company discharged all other employees and closed the mines.

Illicit Still Raided.

New York, Aug. 5.—Internal revenue agents have raided an illicit distillery in the basement of the tenement house 39 Willet street and arrested Mrs. Bertha Eisenberg, who lived there, as a witness. She said that her husband and a boarder, who escaped, were responsible for the still being in operation. The still seized had a capacity of 50 gallons. Six barrels of mash were found in the place and some correspondence implicating other east side "moonshiners." The still had been in operation about a month.

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

Tired, Weak, Nervous,

Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Primitive Painters ground their paint with a slab and muller. This laborious and imperfect process was superior to that of the poor painter of today who stands over a tub with a pine slab and tries to secure uniformity of color and consistency of body which can be obtained only by the scientific appliances of the modern factory. Yet many continue in the old rut because it enables them to "know their material."

This is all wrong—find the big "H."

Harrisons' Town and Country Ready-Mixed Paints are composed of white lead, zinc white, pure colors and linseed oil only, and ground and blended to fit the requirements of the most exacting painter. Will stand unlimited brushing out and keep its uniformity

J. Kirkner and family, of West Eighth street, have gone to Stamford, Delaware county, N. Y., for the balance of the summer.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.

In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhœa. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlian's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERG, Allentown, Pa. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park & North Aves., Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. P. Northrop and family, of Rockview avenue have gone to Mushoppen, Pa., for a few weeks vacation.

The family of Mr. Stan, of Mercer avenue, returned from Beach Haven last week, where they have been for rest and change.

"Let me give you a pointer," said M. F. Gregg, a popular conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad. "Do you know that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy cures you when you have the stomach ache? Well, it does." And after giving this friendly bit of advice, the jolly conducter passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this Remedy, which is the best cure for bowel disorders in the world. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Miss Messler, a nurse at the hospital, has returned from her vacation and is again on duty.

Did You Ever

Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exercising a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholly, or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Randolph's Drug Store.

Miss Mary Brown, of East Fourth street, has returned from her outing at Asbury Park.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy, than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Miss Gould, one of the hospital nurses, started Tuesday evening on her annual vacation.

There is Nothing so Good.

There is nothing just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, so demand it and do not permit the dealer to sell you some substitute. He will not claim there is anything better, but in order to make more profit he may claim something else to be just as good. You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable, and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as is Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottle free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

John C. Whiting, lay assistant at the Old First Presbyterian church in New York, has given up his rooms in New York and will commute from this city the rest of the summer. He will reside at his home on East Sixth street.

TRAGEDY IN PHILADELPHIA.

Foreman In a Factory Shoots a Woman Employee and Commits Suicide.

Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—Charles Dietz, aged 45 years, a foreman in the candy factory of Philip Wunderle at 115 Pegg street, shot and fatally wounded Kate Scollou, aged 38 years, and committed suicide. The woman was also an employee of the place, and unrequited love is said to have prompted the shooting. The foreman persisted in his attentions, but with no success.

During the lunch hour Dietz and the woman were seen talking together, and after work had been resumed he called her to a small room near that in which they worked. A few moments later two pistol shots were heard, and when the employees entered the room Dietz was lying on the floor dead, with the revolver in his hand. Miss Scollou was still alive, but unconscious. She was sent to the Pennsylvania hospital, where she died a few hours later.

THE WAR IN INDIA.

Report of a Charge of Natives Upon Fort Chakdara.

London, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to The Times from Camp Malakand, in the Chitral, says that Fort Chakdara, which was relieved Tuesday by Colonels Goldney and Meiklejohn of the British force under General Blood, was invested by large bodies of Pathans on the evening of July 26.

The natives made repeated charges simultaneously on all sides of the fort, advancing right up to the walls and giving the garrison no rest day or night.

When finally relieved, the garrison, according to the dispatch, was beginning to run very short of food and ammunition.

A GOLDFIELD SURVEY.

Officials Looking Into the Klondike Boundaries.

NO DOUBT AS TO ENGLAND'S TITLE.

Say That They Lie East of the One Hundred and Forty-first Meridian and Are Within British Province by About Thirty-five Miles.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Incited by the newspaper publications recently, tending to throw doubt upon the ownership of the Klondike goldfields, some of the high government officials who would naturally be expected to deal with the question if it comes to a practical issue, have been quietly looking into the matter, with a view to prepare themselves for the controversy that may arise. Their views are in substance that there can be no valid objection advanced to the title of Great Britain to this territory.

A careful examination of all of the reliable charts and maps made far enough back in date to be free from suspicion of influence of the recent heavy gold finds has convinced these officers that, so far as the Klondike fields as defined by the latest reports are concerned, there can be no question but that they lie east of the one hundred and forty-first meridian, which defines the boundary line, and so are within British territory by about 35 miles at least.

As for the meridian itself, it is said that it has been so closely located by the surveys of the Canadians and our own coast survey that there is not at any point a difference of more than 700 feet in the claimed boundary, which of course would not substantially affect any controversy that might grow out of the title.

Sir Wilfred Laurier on the Boundary.

London, Aug. 5.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Mail has had an interview with Sir Wilfred Laurier, the Dominion premier, on the subject of the opening up of the Klondike regions, and he represents Sir Wilfred as declaring that the reports of the inrush of miners must be greatly exaggerated.

Sir Wilfred Laurier would not say whether there would be any trouble over the matter between the Dominion government and the United States, but at any rate there could be no difficulty on the score of frontier, as this was precisely marked, and the goldfields lay within Candian territory.

There was no doubt, however, he said, that they ran into Alaska and gold would be found over a vast extent of those regions. For the next 15 years the locality would be in his opinion the great gold mining center of the world.

More Going to the Fields.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 5.—The steamer George E. Starr left here for the Klondike with 90 passengers and 20 horses. On Aug. 9 the steamer Queen goes north. She will carry between 500 and 600 passengers.

Prince Henri's Seconds.

Paris, Aug. 5.—Prince Henri of Orleans has telegraphed to The Figaro that Colonel Leontieff, a Russian officer in the Abyssinian service, and M. Raoul Mourichon, his seconds, will be at the disposal of General Albertone of the Italian army immediately upon his arrival in Paris. Prince Henri adds that he is receiving threatening letters from Italians in Alexandria in consequence of his criticism of the Italian campaign in Abyssinia.

Against Extradition Charges.

London, Aug. 5.—A special dispatch from Sydney says that the attorney general, the Hon. John Henry Want, Q. C., has issued a minute protesting against the excessive and unwarranted charge to the colony of £6,000 for extraditing Frank Butler, the Australian bush murderer, from San Francisco. Mr. Want says, "It would be better to let criminals remain abroad than to pay such enormous costs for their extradition."

The American Dental Association.

Newport News, Va., Aug. 5.—The principal business transacted by the American Dental association and the Southern Dental association was the discussion of committee reports upon the desirability of merging the two societies into one, to be known as the National Dental association. It is expected that the proposed amalgamation will be brought about today. Several technical papers were read.

Convention of Liquor Dealers.

New York, Aug. 5.—The National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association of America has sent out invitations to the wholesale wine and spirit trade throughout the United States to attend the second annual convention of the association, which will begin Aug. 17 at Manhattan Beach. The convention will close on Aug. 19 with a banquet at Delmonico's.

To Reorganize the B. and O.

New York, Aug. 5.—Alexander Shaw and George C. Jenkins of Baltimore, have sailed for Europe on the White Star liner Majestic. It is said that the object of their trip abroad is to confer with the principal bondholders of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, now in receiver's hands, looking toward a reorganization of the company.

New Inspector of Engines.

Albany, Aug. 5.—William Keogh of New York has been appointed by State Superintendent of Public Works Aldridge an inspector of engines and boilers under the inland navigation law passed by the last legislature. The salary is $3,000. Mr. Keogh is president of Eccentric Engineers' association, No. 1, of New York city.

Ex-Minister Made a Governor.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—Herr von Koeller, former Prussian minister of the interior, who resigned his portfolio as the result of differences with General Bronsart von Schellendorf, former minister of war, has been officially gazetted governor of Schleswig-Holstein.

Wilhelm to Visit Nicholas.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—A dispatch from Kiel says that Emperor William and the empress have started for Cronstadt on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern for their visit to Emperor Nicholas.

MILK INSPECTION.

In view of the effort being made by the local health officials to control and inspect the milk supply, the following will be of interest:

A novel form of milk inspection is about to be instituted by the New Orleans Board of Health, aided by the New Orleans Dairymen's Association. The plan is to have the regular Health Board milk inspectors accompanied on their tours of inquiry by additional inspectors selected by the Board of Health from a list of persons recommended by the Dairymen's Association, and paid from its funds. The adoption of the plan was brought about at the instance of the dairymen, who put in a petition and were granted an extended hearing before the Board. They contended that their interest in purifying the milk supply of New Orleans was identical with that of the city, with the addition that it was necessary for the prosperity of their business that milkmen outside of the association should be compelled to sell pure milk, the competition with the sellers of the adulterated article being ruinous to their business. They offered, therefore, to pay for as many inspectors as the city employed to assist in enforcing the law, obedience to which the association voluntarily imposed upon its members. The Board of Health accepted the offer, although not without opposition from some of the members and at the same time drew up a new ordinance for the more stringent regulation of milk dealers, which is to be recommended for adoption to the City Council.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

William Townley, driver of Alert Hose wagon, will start on his vacation tomorrow.

William Lorick, of New York city, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. Carty, of Orchard place.

Porter Johnson, of the City National Bank, will leave Saturday to spend two weeks in Virginia.

Cashier W. F. Arnold, of the City National Bank, is spending today at Asbury Park with his family.

Driver George Feiring, of the fire department, who has been enjoying a ten days vacation, will return to duty tomorrow.

John Manly, one of the Metropolitan Insurance solicitors, is receiving the congratulations of his friends. It's a little boy.

Miss Henrietta Bonnell, of Manning avenue, left the city today for the Catskill Mountains where she will spend the month of August.

Rev. Dr. W. A. Alexander, now pastor of Siloam Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, is visiting former acquaintances in Plainfield. He was called to Plainfield to assist at the funeral of Mrs. Mann, who was buried from Bethel chapel yesterday.

FEAR MANY DAMAGE SUITS.

Elizabeth's City Fathers Start to Build Drains Too Late.

Fearing that half a hundred damage suits would be shouldered on Elizabeth, the Board of Aldermen have decided to commence immediately to have exhaust drains and extra culverts laid throughout the city.

The recent flood was partially caused by the poor sewerage plan, and $100,000 damage was done. Many property owners are preparing to sue the city for damages, and there is likely to be a bitter fight over the question of liability.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

—A number of the local Sons of Veterans went to Rahway last Tuesday evening to attend the State camp-fire. They report having had a good time.

—The removal of the fence from the property owned by Mrs. Day, corner of Park place and Duer street has effected a marked change and, in the eyes of most people, is a decided improvement.

—Next week Thursday the members of the Trinity Reformed church and Sunday-school will enjoy their annual outing at the seashore. They will go to Asbury Park and all who accompany them will have a good time.

—The train which leaves Asbury Park at 12:05 noon has a through car attached for Plainfield and way stations up the road. It arrives in Plainfield at 2:11 p. m. The usual through car to the Park leaves Plainfield at 2:07 p. m.

CAN CROSS THE BRIDGE.

The Brunswick Traction Company Gain Another Strong Point.

The Board of Freeholders of Middlesex County yesterday afternoon adopted an an ordinance giving the Brunswick Traction Company the franchise to lay its tracks over the Albany street bridge, which crosses the Raritan river and connects New Brunswick with Highland Park. The ordinance was passed by an unanimous vote. The Traction Company agrees to become liable for all accidents on the bridge during and after construction. The franchise will enable the Brunswick Traction Company to run a continuous system from South River, in and through New Brunswick, Highland Park and Bonhamtown to Metuchen.

CAN'T FIND THE GOOD TIMES.

Second Reduction Made of Employes at the Tube Works in Garwood.

The good times which have been looked for do not seem to have reached Garwood, where in the Hercules Drawn Tube Works there has been again a reduction in wages which has placed the pay of the ordinary workman at $1 a day, while his more skilful co-worker at the bench has been reduced to $1.75.

WOMAN ENCOUNTERS FOOTPADS.

Masked Men Attempt to Hold up Mrs. Yost, of Rahway.

Two masked men attempted to rob Mrs. Theodore Yost, in Rahway last night, as she and her daughter were going to visit a friend. The cries of the women frightened off the would be highwaymen, one of whom knocked John McCue senseless for trying to intercept him.

Republican Idea of a Fall.

The Plainfield Press says that in electing a majority of the members of the next legislature the Democrats will "have the counties of Union, Somerset, Cape May, Passaic and Salem to fall back upon." If the Democrats—that is, the Bryanites—fall back on Union county they'll get terribly hurt by the fall.—Elizabeth Journal.

Crop Report.

The following is John Neagle's report of the condition of crops for the past week:

About 80 per cent. of rye has been housed, and the remaining 20 per cent. is worthless; oats, only from 5 to 8 per cent. loss; hay and wheat mostly gathered before the rains; potatoes are rotting in some places and in others are sprouting.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

The cases of Bicknell against Randolph, on contract, and Sternberg & Co. against Frazee, in tort, were tried in Justice Newcorn's court this morning and in each case judgment was rendered for the plaintiff.

Floating Hotels.

"Floating Hotels" is the title that is given the magnificent Hudson river night boats, the Dean Richmond and the Adirondack, that leave New York and Albany every week night. The boats are fitted out in a sumptous manner with the finest service in every detail. On summer nights the steamers are delightfully cool and comfortable. The finest scenery to be found in America is that viewed from the Hudson, and a novel feature of a trip on one of these boats is the search light exhibition that is given for the amusement and pleasure of the passengers. The scenery is thus brought out in patches in a splendidly pecturesque effect. Special rates for large and small parties can be obtained by addressing M. B. Waters, People's Line, Albany, N. Y., or J. H. Allaire, People's Line, New York.

Popularity

in any calling in life is not gained without effort. This Piano business is no exception to the rule. The unique position we occupy in the public confidence has been secured by our decision at the outset to deal fairly or not at all; and by literally "nailing our colors to the mast," we have reached the Pinacle of piano-fame in Jersey.

On Tuesday, the day of the big Sunday-school excursion, the following Westfield young men rode on their bicycles to Ocean Grove: Louis Davenport, William Goltra, John Goltra, Charles Manning, Newton Goltra, Howard Manning, Albert Lightburn and Roderick Dallas. The start was made at 5 o'clock. The first five reached the seashore at 10:20 o'clock and the others an hour later.

The two 12 pound bronze howitzers which the United States Bureau of Ordnance has presented to Winfield Scott Post No. 73, G. A. R., for the soldiers plot in Fairview cemetery, have been thoroughly overhauled and the carriages upon which they are mounted have been repainted. The guns are valued at $500 by the department officials. At an early date they will be placed in position on the plot with appropriate ceremonies.

Percy Clark, the twelve-year-old-son of Matthias Clark, of Broad street, Westfield, amused himself Monday afternoon by firing at stray cats in the neighborhood. The sport became exciting after a time, and young Clark grew careless and fired a shot which crashed through a kitchen window in the house of Mrs. Wallace Cox, who lives next door. The bullet passed near to Mrs. Cox who happened to be in the kitchen at the time, and lodged in the wall opposite. She received no injury other than a severe fright. The boy was severely reprimanded by his parents, and it is probable that he will not be permitted to carry firearms for some time to come.

PASSING COMMENT.

Big, wholesouled, generous County Clerk Somers, of Somerset county, was a poor newsboy years ago, and probably some of the cares, privations and small pleasures of that time have made a lasting impression upon his mind. To-day he takes all the newsboys of Somerville to Coney Island for a day's outing and pleasure. It will be hard to determine who will enjoy it most—the 20 or 30 boys or Frank's gratification over their happiness.

* * * * *

It is generally admitted that Plainfield has the best fire department to be found in any city of its size in the State. The system of a paid chief and drivers, with the rest of the department composed of volunteers, known as call men, was in operation in the city of Newark until about fifteen years ago. The present system in Plainfield is a very economical one, and until the city shall have grown to several times its present population it without doubt is the best that could be devised.

* * * * *

An amusing incident happened the other evening, in which a hackman, a prominent Plainfielder and the latter's coachman played the several parts. The commuter arrived as usual, and, not seeing his coachman with his team and wagon, engaged a hackman to drive him home. In the meantime the coachman arrived and quickly decided what to do. He drove rapidly to the corner of Park and North avenues, where he attracted the attention of his employer. The latter opened the cab door, jumped out and entered his own wagon without the knowledge of the hackman. When the latter reached the home of his supposed fare he drove up to the front door and waited several minutes for the man to get out. Not hearing any noise or indication that his passenger was present he looked around and discovered that he was all alone. He returned a sad but wiser man. It is said that he also lost his fee.

Famous Springs of Deer Park.

A million and a half gallons of the purest water on earth is the daily output of the famous Boiling Springs in Garrett County, Maryland. In order that nothing can contaminate the Springs, one hundred acres of land surrounding it are fenced in. In addition, a wire building covers the Springs so that leaves cannot fall into the water. It is from there extraordinary Springs that Deer Park Hotel receives its water supply, the water being piped direct to the hotel. The medical fraternity now concede that in the matter of health, the question of pure water stands at the head and front. No summer resort combines so many healthful features. The air is wonderfully pure and invigorating: cool nights, with absolutely no mosquitoes; the finest cuisine, with perfect sanitary arrangements, makes Deer Park Hotel the ideal resort. 8 4 4

SALE NO. 2.

Tuesday we commence the greatest sale of table linen, towels, napkins, handkerchiefs and wash goods that this town of yours and ours ever saw. Great because your dollar will do the work of two; great because the goods advertised were bought at half their value; some wet, but all as good as the day they were made.

The following lots are all from the steamer "City of Rome" and were slightly damaged by water during a fire on board and were sold by order of the fire underwriters—

On with the Story.

Strong Linen Logic.

You know what the new tariff will do with linens, advance them from 25 to 40 per cent; these lots fresh from the great Scotch and Irish makers, cold as a stone. Flax! yes, every thread of them, not a half-cotton substitute; good time to buy; good place to buy them here.

HER HUSBAND'S MANNERS.

They Do Much Toward Making or Marring a Woman's Social Success.

I feel sorry for the woman whose husband is a sort of social millstone around her neck. Wherever she goes, whoever she meets, whatever the charm of her own personality, the disagreeable mannerisms of this husband are sure to prove a drawback to her happiness.

Sometimes, studying the married couples at a hotel, I have marveled to see so many refined, sensitive women mated to perfect boors of men. What possible affinity of thought or fancy could account for their union? What strange caprice of fate could have brought together natures so little in sympathy? Was there ever a time when the loud-voiced, snarling man was a tender, thoughtful lover, or the cowed woman, wincing under his discourtesies a cherished sweetheart whose lightest wish was sacred?

I often wonder why the woman who is saddled with a churlish, uncivil husband should ever leave the blessed privacy of her own home. Surely she cannot extract any pleasure traveling around with a man whose captiousness and lack of consideration serve as a perpetual soul scourge for her in public.

It seems to me, if I were tied to a man whose chivalry and courtesy had vanished with the honeymoon I would house him and his tempers as closely as I could and seldom let the world get a peep at them. Assuredly the most delightful environments would have small charm for me if I were continually keyed up, as so many women are, in anticipation of some husbandly outbreak.

Not long ago my neighbors at a hotel table were an uncongenial pair—the wife a delicate little creature, who seemed to sit uneasily upon the edge of her chair, while she cast furtive glances at her moodish mate; the husband, a man who offered all his polish and good nature to strangers, and gave the husks to his wife.

How that poor little woman's digestion must have suffered from the atmosphere in which she took her three meals! There was always a storm brooding. The ugliest traits of her husband's character seemed to crop out at the table. Although he was scrupulously polite to strangers, he never lost an opportunity of snubbing his wife. She bore it very patiently, very meekly, with a resignation which proved that it had become a part of her daily life.

I wish every husband could realize how much his mental and moral stamina is gauged by his manner toward his wife. All the suave pleasantry he may devote to outsiders goes for naught once they catch the surly answer, the pettish retort, the numberless small discourtesies directed to the woman who should receive the best and most chivalrous of his attentions.

People may be inclined to guy the attitude of the newly made benedict toward his bride, but no man or woman yet ever felt anything but admiration for the husband who late in married life gives to his wife that tender solicitude, deference and gallantry which mark the gentleman as well as the lover.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

Somewhat Lengthy Names.

Drimtaidhvickhillichattan is the name of a small hamlet in the isle of Muil containing not more than a dozen inhabitants. How they pronounce it is a mystery only to be solved by some one acquainted with Gaelic, but the fact that the Scots are a nation of a few words seems easy to explain if they have many such words as the above in their language.

Perhaps, however, the Germans may be fairly said to carry off the palm in word coining. How is this for a specimen, Constantinopelscherdudlesackpfeifer? or this one, Jungfrauenzimmerdurchschwindersuchtoedungs?

The first means a Constantinopolitan bagpipe player, and the last is the name of a young 'adies' club which adorns the brass plate of the door of a house in Cologne to this day.—Harper's Round Table.

A Youthful Preacher.

John Edward De Merrit, of Newport, Neb., although only thirteen years old, is attracting general attention by his ability as a preacher. He has preached at Fort Scott, Kan., Nevada, Mo., and many other Kansas and Missouri towns. He was licensed to preach by the Baptist Church of Fort Scott last year, since which time he has been travelling in the rural districts. He is not yet out of knee-breeches, and has all the airs of a child except his delivery as a pulpit orator. He is said to have read the Bible through a number of times, and, though having attended school but little, to be well read in theological and general literature. He preaches in churches of all denominations.—New York Tribune.

New England and Scottish Hills.

When first I saw the crumbling crofters' huts of the Scottish Highlands, says Alvan F. Sanborn in the Atlantic, I felt that I could never see anything sadder. I had not then seen the deserted farms of my own New England hills. When I visited them I recognized instantly a sadder sight than the crofters' huts, decay in a new country being as much more appalling than decay in an old country as the loss of faculties in youth is more appalling than the loss of them in age.

THE QUEEN'S SERVANTS.

She Never Discharges One and Gets Along Very Well With All of Them.

American housekeepers, who are forever wailing about the servant question, will find it interesting to know how Queen Victoria, who keeps four times as many domestics as any one here, manages them.

No servant is ever dismissed from a royal palace. This is probably the reason why we hear so little gossip of any kind about Her Majesty's household arrangements. The Queen early made up her mind that much of her comfort and peace depended on the attitude taken by her toward those with whom she could not but be brought constantly into contact.

Accordingly, no domestic is ever engaged without the strictest inquiry being made into her private character and general qualifications for the post about to be filled, and, should a mistake appear to have been made, the person in question is not sent away with a more or less good character, as would be the case in most establishments, but he or she is simply moved down a step and given a position of less responsibility.

Matrimonial engagements are not discouraged, providing the contracting parties are considered thoroughly respectable. When a marriage is imminent the Queen sends for the young woman, and after a few kindly words of advice, presents her with a large Bible, which, it need hardly be said, soon becomes what is generally called a family Bible. Also, if the prospective bride has been in the royal service some time, and has been distinguished by good conduct, her trousseau is provided, and she is often provided with a small post, carrying with it a residence. Most of the royal lodges are occupied by couples who were once in service at the castle.

A SAGACIOUS MULE.

Wouldn't Catch That Animal Sacrificing His Noon Hour.

I once spent some months on a cotton plantation down in Mississippi. Fastened to the top of the ginhouse was a large bell. It had been the custom on this plantation, even before the war and up to the present time, for all hands to go to work and quit work by the sound of this bell. The bell rang at 6 a. m., 12 m., 1 p. m., and 6 p. m. There was on the plantation a mule who had constituted himself a self-ordained and independent "labor organization." This cuss of a mule would not go to work until the bell rang. At 12 o'clock he would quit work at the first stroke of the bell, would not go to work again until the bell rang, and would quit in the afternoon the moment the bell sounded. This may seem strange, but it is true as gospel. The mule would not tighten his traces after the bell sounded at noon. No matter if he was in the middle of a cotton row in the field, or pulling a wagon, he struck the moment the bell sounded. All the whipping and abuse you could heap upon him only made him more determined. He would stand and bray, and kick at you as fast as his hind feet could fly, and finally wind up by kicking himself out of harness.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Wind Free in Kansas.

According to the American Field, a bicycle company recently received the following letter from a Kansas man: "Deer sirz: "I live on mi farm near Hamilton, Kan., am 57 years old and just a little sporta. My neffew in Indiana bot hisself a new bisicle and sent me his old one by frate, and ive learned to ride sume. Its a pile of fun, but my bisicle jolts considerable. A feller came along yesterday with a bisicle that had hollow injun robber tires stuffed with wind. He leet me try hissen and mi, it run like a kushin! He told me you sell injun robber just the same as hissen. How much will it be to fix mine up like hissen? Mine is all iron wheels. Do you punch the hollow hole threw the injun robber, or will I have to do it myself? How do you stick the ends together after you got it done? If your injun robber is already holler will it come any cheaper empty? I can get all the wind I want out here in Kansas free.—Eberneezer Y. Jenson. P. S.—How much do you charge for the doodad you stuff the wind into the robber with and where do you start?"

An Odd Fish.

In the Pacific Ocean, among the islands of Santa Barbara and in the seas of California, a queer fish spends a lazy life, floating on the surface for the most of the time, and basking in the sunshine, with part of his body out of the water. It is called the molamola by the natives, and the mole or moon fish by the whites. Unlike other fishes, it has no tail in the proper sense of the word, only a kind of fringe acting as a rudder. It is sometimes over ten feet across the fins, and round as a bladder. Strange to say, it serves as a floating island for large numbers of sea birds, especially gulls and cormorants, to rest upon and preen their plumage. When chased, the indolent moonfish dives like a duck, to reappear further off. Nevertheless, it would be easily caught, were the flesh good to eat, but its toughness renders it only fit to dry in the sun as a substitute for india-rubber balls.

A MYSTERIOUS WHITE RACE.

For 300 Years They Have Lived Unknown In Their Mountain Homes.

That white races of mysterious origin and of an advanced grade of civilization exist in certain of the as yet unexplored plateaus of Africa has long been a matter of tradition among all those who have devoted their attention to the ethnographical and geographical science of the Dark Continent.

But no attention has been drawn as yet to the fact that in the interior of San Jago, the largest of the Cape Verd Islands, there exists a strange people known by the name of the Cantadas, who for 300 years past have been absolutely cut off from all intercourse with the outer world, and who are fair-haired, light complexioned and blue eyed, whereas the remaining population of the Cape Verd Islands consists of negroes, and of Portugese, who are almost as swarthy and sombre in color as full-blooded Africans. Distrustful, apparently of the gaze of strangers, these people of the mountain seldom leave their habitations during day time, and on the slightest alarm of visitors they seek the shelter of the rock. But by hiding on the opposite cliffs until evening, and with the aid of glasses, it is possible to get a good view of them when they begin at sunset to gather on the grassy meadow which fronts the opening of the caves and extends down to the water's edge.

Beautiful fair-haired, white-skinned girls, clad in flowing white linen garments, which scarcely conceal the sinuous beauty of perfect grace and form, come out to wash linen in the lake and to sport on the cool green grass. The men, too, are simply dressed in much the same way, their white linen garments being admirably suited to the tropic climate. Many other signs of a high degree of civilization appear, and from certain points near the summit of San Antonio it is possible, with the aid of strong glasses, to catch glimpses through fissures here and there in the wall of rock, of sheep and cattle grazing, of green fields and trees, and of white flat-roofed houses, running parallel with one another.—New York Journal.

HEIR TO A THRONE.

One of the Brightest Pupils in an American College.

So-Mayou, a native African, and presumptive ruler of a great tribe, has graduated from Cobb Divinity School, Lewiston, Me., this year. He is probably the first heir to a throne who has ever been graduated from an American college.

His career at the Maine college has been pursued with the greatest ambition and perserverance. Now that it is all over he is entitled to preach as a minister of the Free Baptist Church, a denomination to which all colored people are partial. He proposes to spend the next year traveling all over the United States under the auspices of the church whose faith he has adopted. Then he will return to the Bassa tribe, on the west coast of Africa, near the Gulf of Guinea, and devote his life to the welfare of this barbarous and superstitious people.

The first effort So-Mayou made after his arrival in this country was to change his name, taking that of Louis Penick Clinton.

His uncle, the present ruler, usurped the throne, and the younger heir to it was compelled to escape to Liberia.

All through his college career he has been able to keep pace with the American students in all his studies, and now feels satisfied that he can enlighten his tribe in the English language and religion.

When he returns to Africa he intends to remove his uncle's jealousy by telling him that he does not want the throne which rightfully belongs to him, but simply desires to found schools and institutes for the people where they may be educated and enlightened.—New York Journal.

BEN BUTTERWORTH'S RUSE.

Scene at Which Several Prominent Men Assisted.

About a year ago President McKinley, Commissioner of Patents Butterworth and one or two other gentlemen were traveling and occupied the same smoking apartment, according to the Washington Star. The conversation turned to the Patent Office, and one of the strangers inquired whether any of the others had known ex-Commissioner of Patents Butterworth.

"Oh, yes," promptly replied Major Butterworth; "I knew Ben Butterworth when he was a boy. I have often seen his father give him a sound licking."

"But that can't be the one I mean; his father was a Quaker."

"Yes, he was a Quaker. But I simply testify to what I have seen. I have frequently seen Ben get a licking. His father licked him once or twice a week regularly."

"How did you happen to be on hand when he got licked?" inquired the stranger.

"Oh, I played with Ben and I was generally around." At this point in the conversation a friend of Major Butterworth joined the company and called him by name.

The stranger heard it, and, coming over to him, remarked:

"Being a Quaker, I thought the old man did wrong to lick Ben, but now I am satisfied the boy richly deserved it."

CONVENT IN CATACOMBS.

The following extract taken from a chapter in Baron de Baye's book on the convent in the catacombs of the Cathedral at Kiew describes perhaps the most unique institution of its kind in Russia, we might say, in the world:

—"This subterranean convent is also called Laura. In Russian Laura is synonymous with 'convent;' in modern Greek it signifies 'little cells.' This catacomb monastery, made illustrious by the virtues of its first founders, Theodore and Antoine, preserves in its immense subterranean passages the incorruptible bodies of its ascetics and its miracle workers. Here is shown the tomb of the monk Nestor, the first Russian historian.

"There are fifteen hundred monks at the Laura of Kiew. He who would study the ethnography of Russia is at liberty to dwell for a certain length of time in this monastery, which forms a little city in itself. Here will be met representatives of every race in Russia, for pilgrims flock here from every part of the Empire. Nothing can be more picturesque than their encampments in the courtyards and gardens surrounding the old Cathedral.

"When I entered this temple for the first time evening vespers was being celebrated. The walls of the edifice were completely hidden by the plaques of gold and silver covering them and by the gorgeously bejewelled golden frames surrounding the images, before which were burning hundreds of multi-colored lamps, held by so invisible a wire that they resembled more a golden glittering shower of raindrops than sanctuary lamps. Through the clouds of incense and the glimmer of thousands of candles, more brilliant and luminous than any I had ever seen before, the saintly images had the appearance of being off in the great distance. On the main altar the figure of the patron saint scintillated in its aureolas of diamonds.

It was impossible to approach the sanctuary, the distance which separated me from it seemed impassable. The tiling had disappeared entirely under a multitude of prostrated humanity, pressed closely one against the other, rising sometimes to make the sign of the cross, and prostrating themselves to the ground again to kiss it. They resembled a human ocean, now calm, now agitated, from the bosom of which prayer arose in the form of a long sigh or the vibrating song of faith.

"And deep down, under all this gorgeousness, stretched corridor after corridor of subterranean cells, catacombs in which only the dead have been thought to dwell, and deprived of light, air, ventilation—fifteen hundred men lived this death in life existence. It is true they have spacious gardens in which to roam at certain hours, but their devotions, their duties, are all performed in these living graves; they sleep and eat there, and before them is the constant image of their certain 'death,' around them are the mumified bodies of their former associates."

TELEPATHY WITH A DOG.

The Exhibition Given by Mr. Davis Before the Boston Scientific Society.

W. E. Davis of Boston possessess a dog that does things which his master thinks are the result of telepathy. He gave an exhibition of the dog recently before the Boston Scientific Society that aroused an immense amount of interest.

Among the score or so of performances by the animal was one that necessitated the exercise of something that approached very closely to human intelligence. Mr. Davis first spread out red, blue, salmon and yellow handkerchiefs in the order prescribed by the spectators. The dog picked them out as suggested by those who witnessed the test at the mental commands of Mr. Davis. The dog apparently paid no attention to the commands of the spectators and Mr. Davis never repeated the order, but simply said: "You heard what the gentlemen said. Bring it." The dog brought it in each case.

Similar experiments were made with four numbers on blocks, five silver pieces, and numbers on a slate. Several times the number was not spoken, but simply written on the slate or indicated with the fingers. Mr. Davis was blindfolded several times during the test, but it did not seem to make any difference, as Dodgerfield, the dog, had some way of understanding his master's wishes.—New York Sun.

SEDAN CHAIR COMES AGAIN.

It is Reported that Fashionable Women will Try to Make Them Popular.

While New York is trying to accustom itself to the novelty of the horseless carriage, there has commenced in London a demand for the sedan chair as a vehicle of fashionable travel. One firm, according to a newspaper paragraph, is busy in the manufacture of these relics, which of recent years have proved useful only as ornaments or on the stage.

The new chairs are not to be decorated as of old with paintings or gilded mouldings, but the colors popular for the decoration of ordinary vehicles will be used. They will be painted black, dark green, blue or maroon, with light yellow, green and red for trimmings. The chairs will be very light, and the promoters of the scheme are said to expect their profit from the use of the vehicles for evening parties, dinners or other gatherings where the distance to be travelled is not great.

Other passengers will not be carried, and the interior of the chairs will in this way be kept perfectly clean, and wraps or dresses of light color are not likely to be soiled.—New York Herald.

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings make them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the materia, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? An Old, Old Story.

The Moral of This Old, Old Anecdote Will Save You a Heap of Trouble and a Pile of Money.

Something had gone wrong with some simple part of a stationary engine and the stocker could not fix it. After spending a day or two on it, he was forced to ask the aid of a more confident workman. He failed also and someone suggested the employment of a local celebrity—a sort of tinker of any mechanical job. There is generally one in every locality. He gave two or three raps with his hammer and touched up a rod or two, when the pounding or whatever aided the machine ceased. When asked to make out his bill, it read as follows: Fixing engine, 50 cents, knowing how $10.00, total $10.50.

This anecdote has nothing earthly to do with Thomas Leffingwell, Jr., of No. 2 Engine House, Centre street, opposite Division place, Newark, N. J., but it serves to introduce him to the reader, and at the same time shows the close relation between a tinker's work on the engine and the average humanity's when they tinker with the kidneys. Mr. Leffingwell, Jr., tells you how he cured his. Read his statement: To use the expression of the boys about the engine house when speaking about something good or first class, Doan's Kidney Pills "are as fine as silk." This may not cover the ground exactly but from my experience with them I can say they are the best kidney remedy I ever used. I had had backache at times, for six or seven years, it bothered me mostly when working about the engine, and at such times it interfered with my stooping, straightening up or lifting anything. If I caught a cold it always settled in my kidneys and then it was about all I could do to get around for every move caused twinges in my back. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They completely cured me, and I have no backache or other symptoms of kidney disease since then, and I naturally give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for straightening my back.

AMERICAN GLUCOSE COMPANY.

The President Denies Allegations Made Against It.

PEORIA, Aug. 5.—Mr. William Hamlin, President of the American Glucose company, of Peoria, Ills., says he has not yet received a copy of the injunction restraining the company from disposing of its property. "If," said Mr. Hamlin, "the allegations stated in the dispatch are contained in the application for the injunction, I say emphatically that they are utterly false and malicious."

These allegations were to the effect that the proposed transfer is a scheme of Cicero J. Hamlin, his sons and associates, to turn the company's stock over to the combination, making money for themselves instead of for the stockholders; that the profits of the American Glucose company have been eaten up by enormous salaries, drawn by C. J. Hamlin, his sons and associates, and that if the management of the company's affairs had been businesslike large dividends would have been paid to stockholders. It is charged that fully $100,000 a year has been diverted in this way for several years.

MONTREAL FAILURES.

Several Firms Are In Financial Difficulty In That City.

Montreal, Aug. 5.—Michael Lefebvre & Co., vinegar manufacturers, have filed consent to assign. Their liabilities will exceed $200,000.

No list of creditors is yet obtainable, but they are nearly all Canadians. The firm lost heavily on the Berthier Beet Root factory a few years ago. Alderman Lefebvre will lose his seat in the city council in consequence of the failure.

Robert Linton & Co., wholesale dry goods merchants, failed with liabilities of $50,000 in Canada and Europe.

Tens, Wilson & Co., importers, are in difficulties, and a meeting of creditors has been held and adjourned. The liabilities are about $30,000.

AMERICAN FLOUR IN CHINA

Restricted to Foreigners' Use—No Opportunity to Extend Its Importation.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Consul Read at Tientsin reports to the state department that the importation of American flour at that point is restricted solely to the needs of foreign residents and that the standard of living among the Chinese and cheap labor affords no opportunity to extend the importation of flour for their use.

American flour controls the market. California and Oregon flour retails at $3, Mexican, per 50 pounds.

Mr. Read says the Chinese live upon a flour made from an inferior quality of wheat called shantung. Samples of this wheat have been sent to millers in the northwest.

Chinamen to Be Deported.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 5.—Thirty-one Chinamen have left here in charge of United States Marshal Richard Ware for San Francisco for deportation to China. Large numbers of Chinamen are landing at Guaymas and expect to break into the United States by the Sonora railroad. A strict surveillance is kept on all Chinamen along the Mexican border awaiting an opportunity to enter the United States.

Sale of an Historic Building.

Albany, Aug. 5.—Fort Cralo, the old historic Van Rensselaer mansion on the Hudson river in East Greenbush, has been sold under the auctioneer's hammer for $4,300. It is supposed to be the oldest building in the United States, having been erected in 1642 as a manor house and place of defense. It was at one time General Abercrombie's headquarters.

Mutilated Body Found.

Buffalo, Aug. 5.—The mutilated body of a man believed to be James K. Egan of Sacramento has been found on the Lake Shore railroad near Lake View. There was a small sum of money on the body and a check on the Bank of Sacramento payable to John W. Keating and signed by Egan. It is believed the man was struck by a train.

Not a Senatorial Candidate.

Harrisburg, Aug. 5.—Governor Hastings has denied the published report that he was to be a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Quay. He did not discuss the story that there was a breach between him and the senior senator, contenting himself with the statement that he had no plans beyond his present office.

French Marquis Crushed to Death.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The Marquis de Bouthillier was crushed to death between a moving tram car and the palisading around the new building in process of construction for the Paris exposition of 1900. The marquise, his wife, was one of the victims of the terrible fire which destroyed the charity bazaar last May.

Hot Kentucky Weather.

Louisville, Aug. 5.—The thermometer reached the century mark at 11:30 yesterday morning, but dropped back to 99 by noon. There has been a good breeze blowing, and the intense heat was not felt to the degree that it has been felt during the past three days. There are many prostrations, but no deaths.

Escaped From a Quarantined Vessel.

BROWN UNIVERSITY.

The Trustees' Treatment of Their Late President Defended.

THE QUESTION IS A NATIONAL ONE.

A Representative Says That Professor Andrews Gave Utterance to Views Which Were at Variance With Those of the Corporation.

Newhampton, N. H., Aug. 5.—Representative Joseph H. Walker of Worcester, who is a member of the board of trustees of Brown university and to whose opposition to the public utterances on the subject of free silver of President E. Benjamin Andrews of that institution the recent resignation of Dr. Andrews is attributed, admits that he started the agitation about the matter and states that in his opinion there is no chance that Dr. Andrews will be permitted to remain or to reconsider his resignation.

In answer to queries Mr. Walker, who is spending the summer at his stock farm here, stated that he personally started the trouble at Brown at a meeting of the corporation of the university last June. This was done because the utterances of President Andrews were at variance with the views of the corporation on the question of a national financial policy. On this point Mr. Walker said:

"To illustrate, it is within my knowledge that the president of one of the leading educational institutions of New England is an atheist. He makes no concealment of the fact of his views on proper occasions. Should he enter upon the propaganda of atheism and denunciation of Christianity, how could the corporation, unanimously Christian, keep him in his place for a single day?

"Had a president of a college during the late civil war taken pains publicly to teach the doctrine of the right of the individual states to secede it would have been an offense to keep him in his position.

The Question of National Importance.

"It is the unanimous opinion of the corporation of Brown university that the question upon which Dr. Andrews is at variance with it is far more vital to the well being of the country than were the questions upon which the civil war was fought—in fact, that this question is fundamental to the continued progress of Christian civilization."

Continuing, Mr. Walker said: "Nothing was said or done at the meeting of the trustees of Brown in June that was not clearly within the line of duty upon the part of every member of the board, and everything was said and done with a feeling of the warmest friendship for Dr. Andrews. There was not in the mind of a solitary member of the board the least idea of abridging President Andrews in thought or private utterance on silver or any other question.

"The corporation did not demand Dr. Andrews' resignation. It sought a friendly conference with the chief executive officer. That is all. In turning from the corporation, every one of whom was his friend, to the public and taking the position he has by himself, and by the position of the faculty, I cannot see how by any possibility the relations which must necessarily exist between the president of a university and the corporation can be re-established."

Mr. Walker declared in closing the interview that Dr. Andrews had taught other things than silver which were thought to be detrimental to the progress of the university. His position upon the wage question, Mr. Walker said, was bad.

American Lumber Free.

Boston, Aug. 5.—Formal notice has been received at the custom house to the effect that lumber manufactured in New Brunswick from logs cut in the state of Maine, upon the St. John river and its tributaries, owned by American citizens and sawed or hewed in New Brunswick by American citizens, shall continue to be admitted to the United States free of duty under such regulations as the secretary of the treasury shall from time to time prescribe. The same conditions affect the produce of the forests of the state of Maine upon the St. Croix river and its tributaries.

Ex-Prisoners of War Association.

Buffalo, Aug. 5.—National Commander Stariff of the ex-Prisoners of War association has issued a general order calling the annual convention in this city during the national encampment of the G. A. R. Aug. 23 to 27 inclusive. The annual parade will take place on the afternoon of Aug. 23, and members are called on to make it the "crowning one of our association." Joseph Stevens of Buffalo will be marshal. The national convention will meet Tuesday, Aug. 24, at 3 p. m.

The New East River Bridge.

New York, Aug. 5.—At a meeting of the new East river commission it was announced that all the working ground necessary for the anchorages of the structure on both sides of the river had been acquired. Engineer Buck submitted a preliminary draft of the specifications, showing that the anchorages will take up a block each on both sides. The contracts for the anchorage are likely to be let within a month.

To Prevent Turkish Complications.

Khania, Island of Crete, Aug. 5.—On the receipt of the news that the Turkish squadron from the Dardanelles was coming into these waters the foreign warships got up steam, and the international troops on shore have taken measures to anticipate any possible complications. The report and these preparations have greatly excited the Mussulmans.

Steamer Goes Ashore.

St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 5.—The Dutch tank steamer Rotterdam, bound from New York to Rotterdam, with oil, went ashore on Mistaken point, near Cape Race, in a dense fog. She has been towed off by the steamer Barcelona, and an examination showed that her bottom was badly damaged.

Held For Infanticide.

Gouverneur, N. Y., Aug. 5.—At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing in the case of Miss Jackson, charged with murdering her infant, Ed Powers, Mrs. Maria Jackson, Lillian Jackson and Lena Jackson were held to await the action of the grand jury. Powers was arrested in the woods.

AROUND THE BASES.

On Saturday afternoon, August 14th, the lawyers of Plainfield will play the law students a game of base-ball on the LaGrande avenue grounds. A great game is expected.

A game of baseball was played on Wednesday afternoon on the Crescent grounds between the St. Mary cadets and the Plainfield Grammar School, which resulted in a victory for the Cadets by a score of 9 to 7. The batteries were, for the Cadets, M. Dumont and Barry, and for the Grammar School, Unis and Ammons.

The Crescents were scheduled to play the Y. M. C. A. team of Elizabeth on Saturday afternoon in this city, but the Elizabeth boys have telegraphed that they will not be able to fill the date. Manager Mumford is now trying to arrange a game for Saturday with the Volunteers or any other first-class team from Elizabeth.

"Tom" Keller umpired the game Saturday very satisfactorily to the audience and the players. It was his first appearance in that capacity this season and everybody was glad to see him there. His strong voice took the grandstand by storm, and he was given a small sized ovation by his many friends there. His decisions were very good, for what "Tom" does not know about baseball is hardly worth knowing.

Never did the Crescents make such a poor showing at base running as they did last week. Twice Symons lost his head and deserted his bag on a fly ball only to be caught on the throw in. Cooney nearly fell asleep between first and second and nearly stopped when the Williamsburghs threw the ball. He then made no effort to slide to the base. Heretofore, they have done very good work in that line and received much deserved commendation.

Life Savers Must be Sound Men.

The 252 men of the 42 life-saving stations along the New Jersey coast went on duty Saturday night after a vacation of two months. For a week the crews from stations between Bay Head and Beach Haven have been passing through the ordeal of a physical examination at the hands of a physician of the Marine Hospital service. Crews from below Beach Haven have been going to Philadelphia for examination, while those living north of this point have been going to New York. Besides the physical examination, the men are subjected to a modified civil examination, and a number of the men have taken it.

Thomas Hughes is remodeling his residence on East Second street.

ALTERATIONS FOR TRINITY CHURCH

Contracts Will be Awarded for the Work in a Short Time.

E. W. Gayle, architect, brother of H. E. Gayle, Plainfield's builder and contractor, yesterday delivered the plans for Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school rooms, and last evening the building committee met at the residence of B. A. Hegeman, one of the committee, and made a thorough inspection of the plans submitted. It was unanimously agreed that they were far superior to the former plans in many respects, particularly as the steps leading up into the sanctuary are all inside the church instead of on the outside, as originally proposed. Specifications are now being written and estimates will be received for doing the work, and it is hoped that by next Thursday evening another meeting of the building committee will be held and bids examined and contracts awarded to the lowest bidder.

TORTURED A MAN FOR $23.

Robbers Put Hot Irons to a Farmer's Feet to Make Him Tell Where His Money Is.

John Kennedy, an eccentric farmer who lives alone on a large farm near Phillipsburgh, and is said to be wealthy, was attacked in his house last night by five masked men, who bound him and tortured him with hot irons applied to his feet to get him to tell where his money was.

He resisted at first, but finally told the burglars where they could get all he had in the house. They searched the house and got only $23. Kennedy refuses to talk about the robbery.

St. Joseph's Picnic.

The members of the Sunday-school of St. Joseph's church, of the borough, to the number of fifty, enjoyed an outing in Hyde's Grove yesterday. It was about ten o'clock when the party arrived at the grove and from that time until late in the afternoon everyone had a thoroughly good time. All sorts of games were played and interspersed with sociability the event was one long to be remembered. There was plenty of good things to eat and Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Farlee, Mrs. Ryan, Miss Smith and Father Miller, who composed the committee, made it a point to see that everyone enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

New Counterfeit Bill Discovered.

Secret service officials have given notice of the discovery of a new counterfeit $10 silver certificate. It is of the series of 1891, check letter D, with the small carmine seal, and the portrait of Hendricks and the names of Messrs. Tillman and Morgan as register and treasurer respectively. The counterfeit is described as apparently a wood cut production very poorly executed, the seal being light pink instead of carmine, the numbering irregular and the printing and engraving bad.

Body of a Well-Dressed Man Found.

The body of a well-dressed man was found yesterday afternoon lying along the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad near Bellemead Station. County Physician Wagoner found a severe bruise on one shoulder. Otherwise the man was uninjured. He decided that the man had been struck by a fast train while walking on the track. The man was seen in Bellemeade during the morning, and he seemed demented. The body is at the undertakers.

Unsafe Buildings to be Looked After.

The Elizabeth Board of Health has commenced a systematic course of throwing disinfectants over the entire flooded district of Elizabeth, and has recommended the burning of sulphur in the flooded cellars as a sanitary precaution. They will strongly advocate the appointing of a building inspector to the City Council Monday night, who will be instructed to condemn the many buildings whose foundations were damaged by the water.

Splinter in a Finger.

Mrs. Schermerhorn, wife of Charles H. Schermerhorn, today went to the office of Dr. Long to have a splinter extracted from the under side of the fleshy part of one of her fingers. It has given her considerable pain and trouble and has been lanced once with a view of getting rid of the splinter, but without avail.

Miss Grace Rowland, of East Second street, is entertaining a relative from out of town.

NO CHECK, NO WASH.

Hop Lee was Obdurate with Reilly, Who Lost His Laundry Ticket.

M. Hop Lee, of Mongolian descent, is the proprietor of a laundry on West Front street.

Mr. Reilly, of the Celtic descent, lives in the West End and is a patron of Hop Lee.

Messrs. Hop Lee and Reilly had a misunderstanding yesterday, and the latter, provoked because the former wouldn't give him satisfaction, sought out Mr. Morris Higgins, one of the blue coated finest of Plainfield, and demanded, in the name of the municipal government that was protecting Mr. Hop Lee, that he be given his wash. As an arbitrator of the differences the patrolman found an obstinate man in the person of Mr. Hop Lee.

It seems that in the course of time Mr. Rielly had deposited a bundle of dirty clothes with Mr. Hop Lee and in turn been proffered a check on which was several cabalistic signs. He accepted it but did not care for it. As a matter of fact, he lost it. Last night Mr. Rielly wanted his laundry and wending his way to the laundry of Hop Lee he endeavored to explain the circumstances of the missing check and thus secure his clothes.

Hop Lee stopped wielding the flat iron long enough to tell Mr. Rielly:

"No checkle, no laundlee."

Mr. Rielly argued and argued and explained and explained, but the Chinaman was impervious to his pleas.

Then it was that Mr. Rielly called upon Morris Higgins, policeman, who accompanied the former to Hop Lee's wash shop. Hop Lee showed a little more consideration for the officer's presence, but he was determined not te give up any of the packages reposing on his shelves without the return of a check whose correctness he alone could affirm.

Mr. Rielly departed in wroth, but without his wash.

Mrs T. B. Macintyre and family are at Asbury Park.

Miss Ethel White, of Flatbush, L. I., is visiting friends in this city.

James Murphy, of West Front street, is spending a week at Rockaway Beach.

Miss Kate Daily, of East Second street, is spending her vacation at Patchoque, L. I.

George Irene, of Craig place, will leave on September 1st for Newburg, N. Y., where he will join a theatrical troupe.

Walter Manning will go to Brooklyn tomorrow to superintend the erection of a monument in the Cypress Hills cemetery.

Marion T. Ackerman and family, of Crescent Avenue, left today for Shelter Island, where they will spend several weeks.

The many friends of Mrs. J. H. McVey, of North avenue, were much pleased to see her out today for the first, after a long and critical illness.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Day property, corner Park place and Duer street, is undergoing a thorough renovation, including painting, taking down of side and front fences, etc.

—A train of ten cars from Somerville, carrying excursionists, passed through Plainfield this morning on their way to Asbury Park, where they will spend the day.

—A calf with three legs and minus a tail was born on the farm of Robert Sutton, near Burlington, recently. The animal misses the tail more than the other leg on account of the flies. Hundreds of people have visited the freak.

—Dr. L. S. Pocock, of North avenue, drew the handsome oil painting yesterday which was the work of Paul Breem, of Brooklyn, father of Driver Fred Breem, of the Plainfield Fire Department, and represents an ocean scene.

—Beware of the fellow who peddles or privately offers you a silver dollar of 1804. He is a fraud and so is the dollar he offers. If the coin was genuine the owner would advertise its sale widely and it would bring $1,000 to $1,500, instead of being offered privately for from $25 to $50. A spurious coin was sold in Middletown last week for $50. Sussex Independent.

Oddities of Composers.

Haydn always dressed himself in his best clothes when he wished to compose had his hair freshly powdered, and placed upon his finger a diamond ring given to him by Frederick II. He used to declare that, if at any time the ring was off his finger, he had not an idea in his head. Mood and beautiful surroundings were everything with Gluck. He used to order his piano to be moved into a lovely field when he felt genius burn, and there, amid scenery upon which his delighted eyes could feast, with a bottle of champagne at his right hand and left, pour forth his soul. In contrary conditions the composer Sarti discovered inspiration, seeking, in a large and solemn room lighted dimly by one melancholy lamp, surroundings in keeping with the gloom of his nature. Paisiello composed Il Barbiere di Siviglia in bed; Cimarosa, Il Matrimonio Segreto, a once favorite opera, under the influence of noisy mirth, himself the centre of a large circle of merry friends.

KILLED BY DYNAMITE.

Horrible Fate Of Frank Samu at New Orange.

COMRADES ENRAGED OVER HIS DEATH

No One Saw the Fatal Accident, Which Was Not Discovered Until the Victim Was Missed at Lunch Hour—An Investigation Resulted in Finding His Body—His Remains Were Interred in This City.

Frank Samu, a laborer in the new town of New Orange, near Roselle, and the victim of a dynamite explosion, was interred in St. Mary's cemetery in this city today.

New Orange is the name given to a large tract of ground in Union township, owned by the new Orange Industrial Company. The company for several years has been preparing the property for a manufacturing site, and workmen have been busy there felling trees, blowing up stumps, laying out and grading streets and also making a grade for a railroad.

Wedneday about 100 workmen, mostly Hungarians, were busy hewing ties and blowing up stumps with dynamite. No one witnessed the accident, and the fact that Samu had met his death was only learned when he failed to show up at the lunch hour. His son noticed his father's dinner pail unopened, after the others had finished eating. This exeited the suspicions of the unfortunate man's fellow-workmen, and all united in a search for the missing man.

While it was thought that Samu had met with some accident, it did not occur to anyone that a fatality had taken place, and when Samu's mangled corpse was discovered the searchers were horror-stricken.

Upon investigation it was found that the accident which had befallen him must have resulted in instant death. His right arm shoulder and back were broken, and there was a great gash in his neck, which extended up to the skull, and through which his brains protruded.

It was evident that he had been killed by an exploding dynamite cartridge. He was probably going to his lunch when the accident occurred, as a cartridge had had been shot off in a stump at about 12.05 o'clock.

Samu's body was found 162 feet distant from the spot where the explosion occurred.

The death of Samu greatly enraged the other Hungarians, who claim that the accident was due to the carelessness of the foreman, Frank Williams, in not giving notice that he intended to light the fuse of the cartridge.

They gathered together and talked and gesticulated in an excited manner, and Williams, fearing bodily harm, started for Roselle. A large crowd of the Hungarians shortly afterward followed him to Roselle, and threatened to kill him if they found him. The excited Huns were still looking for the foreman yesterday, but Williams has probably left the neighborhood, as they failed to find him.

It was learned that Williams denies that he was in any way to blame for the accident, as, he said, that Samu was not working near where the explosion occurred, and had no business there. The workmen, however, say that the dead man must have been passing the spot on his way to lunch, and blame Williams for not keeping a more careful watch for approaching workmen and give them warning.

Samu's home is in Wilkesbarre, Pa. He leaves a wife and five children, the youngest only six months old.

County Physician Westcott was summoned and gave a permit for burial.

Cows Killed by Lightning.

Two valuable Holstein cows belonging to Mrs. Warren Ackerman, of Scotch Plains, were killed by lightning in the heavy storm of Wednesday night. At 6 o'clock yesterday morning, when the men went into the field to attend to the cattle, two of the finest milch cows in the herd were found lying dead. There were marks upon the bodies of the animals, which showed unmistakably that that they been killed by lightning. The animals were registered, and were of the finest Holstein stock.

Mayor Said to Favor Arc Lights.

The Daily Press is informed on good authority that at the next meeting of the city council the eleven arc lights asked for by the business men will be granted. It is understood that Mayor Fisk's communication to the council at the last meeting favored the arc lights, and that the council will follow out the recommendations.

Married at Glen Gardner.

The marriage of Miss Lizzie C. Bowlby and John B. Patterson, both of this city, was celebrated July 30th at the home of the bride's parents, Glen Gardner. Rev. W. J. Henderson, of the latter place, was the officiating clergyman.

STRIKER WON'T STRIKE

The Story of Trouble Caused by the Town Clock.

DROVE MORPHUES AWAY FOR A TIME.

The Clanging Sound of the Bell as it Recorded the Hours Nearly Drove Nearby Residents to Distraction—They Protested and the Tick Tock of the Old Clock is the Only Sound Heard Nowadays.

No longer does the loud clang of the town clock strike out the hours twenty-four times a day, and many people have wondered thereat. Though a cherished, but sometimes neglected, institution from time immemorial, at periods the town clock has not been cared for in a manner befitting its lofty position and long standing in the community. True, its black dial with gold figures and hands, the big and little, have always stood ready to perform the functions for which they were designed, but for a long time it stood silent for lack of the nurturing care of a man who understood its numerous cogged wheels and long swinging pendelum.

Missing its familiar recording of the time, a citizens' petition found its way to the Common Council two years ago asking that the town time-piece once more be put in active service. For a whole year the document laid buried in a Councilmanic committee and then some considerate solon resurrected it and the Council decided that the town clock should be restored to its dignity.

In due course of time, Messrs. VanEps & Son ascended the belfry of the Methodist church and after much tinkering the tick tock of the clock was once more heard in the land. As regular as the hour hand moved from one figure to another in its twelve-hour journey around the dial the big metal striker, with which the clock is equipped, fell with a resounding rap upon the bell in the tower and forthwith a great clanging sound was sent anear and afar, even unto the agriculturists of Piscataway who listened and reminiscently remarked:

"Well, darn the dinged thing, if that aint like old times"

But there was yet another element to be heard from in connection with the resumption of duty by the town clock. But they were a patient lot and for months and months they bore their trials in stillness of their own councils, mentally deploring that the public clock was in their neighborhood. And the reason for this condition of affairs was this:

From its lofty perch up in the church tower the venerable town clock looks down on either side to flat buildings in which people live, eat, work and sleep. One of the demands, of course, of nature is that sleep shall come to the people. Now it can be readily understood that after its long vacation, the town clock was very frisky from its readjustment and oiling up, and whenever the minute hand reached the cabalistic character of XII, the striker fell with a clang an even dozen times. The noise was enough, so the occupants of the flat said, to raise the dead from the graves. Sleep was utterly impossible, as Morpheus evidently took fright and flew away on wings everytime the bell rang out the hours. And yet the clock, as if conscious of its great importance and service to those without time pieces, continued its stentorian tones as regularly as the hours passed.

Patiently it was endured by the nearby residents in the hope that the habit of the clock striking would become second nature to them after awhile. But the clanging, ear piercing sound of the bell was not lessened as it recorded the flight of time.

Sleep becoming either infrequent or impossible, the afflicted became irritable. They regretted the time that the time measuring machine had ever been called upon to do duty again, and their lamentations finally took the form of a declaration that the town clock was a nuisance, and its striking apparatus should have the prohibitive ban put upon it.

Sexton Kennedy, seeing the storm that was brewing, did not wind the apparatus that does the strike duty and then peace once more reigned and Morpheus came back. Then it was that VanEps & Son, not being aware of the exact condition of affairs, hied themselves to the belfry and wound the striker. Again the community was almost distracted. The agony of the people finally came to the ears of the official board of the First M. E. church, and the board, as custodians of the town clock, ordered that the striker go on a strike forever; that is, a strike that allows no striking of the striker.

And once more the dove of peace, harmony and serenity hovers over the community, 'een though the people in far off sections may miss and deplore the failure of the town clock to speak. But it ticks as yet and anyone desiring the time can walk to the Methodist church and secure it free of cost.

REV. J. S. BRAKER, present Pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist Church.

A PLEASANT SOCIABLE.

Degree of Pochohontas Enjoyed Music and Recitations.

The sociable and entertainment given last evening in the Sons of Temperance rooms, on West Second street, under the auspices of Paughcaughnaughsinque Council, No. 31, Degree of Pocohontas, was in every way successful.

The programme opened with an organ solo by Miss Minnie Martin, followed by a vocal duet by Henry Ackerman and Fred Bowden. A dialogue, entitled "Aunt Jemima's Money," was presented in an excellent manner by Miss Mamie Devine, Miss Lucy Caspar, Miss Sophia G. Wilson and Miss Ethel Kinsey. This was followed with a recitation, "The Crow's Children," by Miss Ethel Kinsey, and a vocal duet by the Misses Martin. Another dialogue, "The Red Chignon," was given by Miss Anna Doeringer, Miss Kate Huff, Miss Bertha Netherwood, Miss Gertrude Netherwood, Miss Lillie Sutton. The next number on the programme was a tableau entitled "Faith, Hope and Charity." Miss Gertrude Netherwood took the part of "Faith," Miss Retta Nash that of "Hope," and Miss Nellie Riker that of "Charity," while Miss Bertha Netherwood took the part of the "Sister of Charity."

After the rendition of the programme a collection was taken. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Andrew Cox, Miss Wilcox, Miss Leland and Mrs. Devine.

SOLD BEER ILLEGALLY.

That is the Charge on Which Leo Keller Was Arrested.

A pair of Weary Willies were caught riding on a Central Railroad coal train and were arrested by Roundsman Frederickson and Patrolman Myers, at an early hour this morning. When arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the City Court they gave their names as Edward McDade and Patrick Buckley, and stated that they had no fixed place of residence. They were given the choice of paying a fine of $3 each or spending ten day in the county jail. They went to jail.

Leo Keller, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of illegal beer selling, was remanded until tomorrow. He will be given a hearing at 9 o'clock a. m.

The Watson case, which has been fully reported heretofore in The Press, also came up, and was postponed for two weeks.

Death of Solomon Saunders.

Solomon Saunders, aged 70 years, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Langford, 322 East Fourth street, after an illness of three years with kidney trouble. His wife died about nine months ago, and he leaves seven sons and three daughters. The deceased is a relative of Patrolman Saunders, of the police department. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Mount Olive Baptist Church.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

In Justice Newcorn's Court, this morning, summonses were issued in the contract cases of Duryea Company against Kersting, Ahrens' Sons against Scheireneck, and Murphy against Smith. All are returnable next Thursday. The case of Lawson against Bunn, on contract, was adjourned until next Friday.

Justice Moffett's Court.

The case of Smalley Bros. against Isaac R. Giles, which was set for trial in Justice Moffett's Court this morning, was adjourned for two weeks. The case of Rushmore against Addis which was set for trial yesterday afternoon, was amicably settled before the time of trial, and was withdrawn.

Justice Mosher's Court.

Justice Mosher today issued summonses in the landlord and tenant case of Preat against Burke, and Frey against Worstley, on contract. Both are returnable on next Thursday.

AN AUGUST WEDDING.

Popular Young Couple Joined in Wedlock Last Night.

A very quiet but pretty home wedding was celebrated last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kingston, of East Second street, when their daughter, Miss Anna Amelia Kingston, was united in marriage to Harvey H. Thorn, a valued employee of the City National Bank. The officiating clergyman was Rev. H. J. Johnston, pastor of Grace M. E. church. Only the families of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony.

The bride was prettily gowned in a dove color cloth dress trimmed with white satin, chiffon and lace, and she carried a boquet of white China asters. The bride and groom were unattended and following the ceremony there were congratulations and a wedding supper.

Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Thorn were taken to Netherwood, where they took a train for New York. They will go to Newburg-on-the-Hudson, where they will remain until Saturday. On their return they will reside for the present with the parents of the bride. They were the recipients of many useful and costly presents from their many friends and acquaintances. The bride is a most estimable young woman, while the groom is very popular in a large circle of friends. Both have the best wishes of their friends for a happy and prosperous journey thr ugh life.

A DESTRUCTIVE FLIGHT.

Two Carriages and a Bicycle Damaged on Park Avenue.

A horse and carriage from the stables of J. W. Rheinhart, of Netherwood, and driven by a coachman, took a destructive flight through Park avenue at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The rig was driven at a fast pace in the direction of Front street. It struck the hind wheel of a carriage belonging to S. C. Baker, of 444 West Fifth street, which was standing at the curb in front of Demarest's grocery, and completely overturned it, smashing the dashboard and otherwise damaging the vehicle. A bicycle belonging to Frank Neal, coachman for E. L. Finch, of 1106 Park avenue, was standing against the curb a little further down the street. It was also struck by the Rheinhart carriage. The front wheel and the handlebar of the machine were damaged. The rig which caused the damage was slightly injured, and was at once driven away.

Who Stole the Whiskey?

When Matthew Schwinefurth's house on South avenue, near Westfield, was burned a week ago, he managed to save half a barrel of whiskey, which he locked up in his smokehouse for safe keeping. On Tuesday night some one went to the smokehouse and pried it up, then rolled out the whiskey and took it away. It was some time before Schwinefurth discovered how the whiskey was stolen without opening the smokehouse door.

A Change in Name.

John Dalziel, of Plainfield avenue, who has been conducting what is known as the Plainfield Manual and Training School, has associated with him several well known instructors and hereafter the school will be known as the Plainfield Academy. Advanced studies will be taught and the usefulness of the school increased.

Woman's Position.

Evangelist Geo. C. Needham will preach this evening in the Glad Tidings Tent, Park avenue and Fifth street. As there has been much controversy over the question of woman's preaching, Mr. Needham will give an exposition address on the subject. Rev. Thomas Needham will also take part in the service.

Thomas Quinn, of Judge DeMeza's office, has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at Washington Park on the Delaware River.

OF A REMINISCENT TURN

Closing Services Of The Baptist Sesqui-Centennial.

CHURCH HISTORY WAS REVIEWED.

The Afternoon and Evening Sessions Marked by Pleasant Weather and Large Audiences—Sunday-school Anniversary in the Afternoon—Evening Devoted to Churches Organized From the Society.

The services in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Scotch Plains Baptist church were continued yesterday after all the guests had been served with dinner on the lawn, by a service at 2 o'clock devoted to the Sunday-school and commemorating its 68th anniversary.

The session opened with a service of song led by A. Baylis, of Cranford. "Lead Me, Saviour," "Awake, Awake, the Master Now is Calling," and "More About Jesus Would I Know," were sung, and Rev. W. W. Case, of Rutherford, offered an opening prayer. The present pastor of the church, Rev. J. S. Braker, presided, and introduced the speakers.

Anson F. Grant, of Westfield, superintendent of the Sunday-school from 1863 to 1867, was the first speaker. His talk was partly reminiscent and partly an exhortation to greater effort in Sunday-school work.

H. E. Needham, of Plainfield, who was superintendent of the Sunday school from 1868 to 1876, gave the next address, telling the history of the school under his leadership.

The hymn "The Summer-Land" was sung by the congregation and George H. Krause, of Roselle, recording secretary of the Union County Sunday-school Association, was introduced and made the address of the afternoon on the importance of Sunday school work. The address was an inspiring one, setting forth the various phases of the work and the rewards that accompany it.

Another hymn was sung by the congregation, and then C. A. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday-school from 1876 to 1879, was introduced and make a few appropriate remarks, disclaiming any desire to make a speech and saying that he only came to answer to his name in the roll call. Mr. Smith gave some interesting facts in connection with his services as superintendent of the school and as a trustee and treasurer of the church.

Deacon David Hand, of Plainfield, who was superintendent of the school for twelve years, was the next speaker. His talk was an extremely witty one, abounding in anecdotes and amusing sallies. R. G. Silvers, R. C. Treadwell and George L. Colgate, three former superintendents of the school who were expected to make addresses were not able to be present. The hymn "God Bless Our Sabbath-school," was sung in closing, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. George A. Francis, of the Westfield Baptist church.

Early in the afternoon the clouds broke away and the sun shone forth gloriously. The grateful warmth had its effect upon the spirits of everybody, and helped to make the afternoon and evening sessions brighter and more cheerful if possible than the morning service had been.

After the close of the afternoon session supper was served the guests on the church lawn. About 500 partook of the tempting good things which the ladies had prepared. The committee in charge of the refreshments was made up as follows: Mrs. Charles Haberle, Mrs. Norman Dunn, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. David Hand, Mrs. Dennis Crane, Mrs. Stites Parse, Mrs. William Johnston, Mrs. Miller, Miss Louise Barr, Miss Laura Bornman, Miss Sarah Drake, Miss Jennie Marsh and Miss Lydia Townsend.

The waitresses in charge of the tables were Mrs. W. E. Collins, Mrs. William Noble, Mrs. Charles Frentz, Mrs. William Buckley, Mrs. E. L. Hand, Mrs. Mills, Miss Emma Clark, Miss Kittie Buckley, Miss Ivy Marsh, Miss Nina Hosinger, Miss Sarah Hand, Miss Lulu Robinson, Miss Etta Cook, Miss Florence Allen, Miss Trantman, Miss Josie Banks, Miss Millie Hovell, Miss Edna Nicholl, Miss Florence Randolph, Miss Lizzie Nichell, Miss Addie Johnson, Miss Reignette Marsh, Miss and Lill Fancher.

The evening session, which began at 6:50 o'clock, was devoted to the churches which have been constituted or organized from the Scotch Plains church. The session began with a ten minutes' song service led by A. Baylis, of Cranford. A number of hymns, including "Take the Name of Jesus With You," "How Firm a Foundation, Ye Saints of the Lord," were sung.

At 7 o'clock, Benjamin F. Allen, of Cranford, gave a cornet solo, which was merged at its close into "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," in which the audience joined. The general

HELD BY A LIVE WIRE.

Charles Hand's Son Suspended, Writhing, in Midair.

CLIMBED AN ELECTRIC LIGHT POLE.

Grasped a Live Wire and Unable to Let Go for Several Minutes—Boy Who Went to His Assistance Also Slightly Shocked—The Injured Lad Will Recover Without Any Serious Results.

"Oh, I can't let go! Take me down, somebody! Take me down!"

Richard Perrine, of 338 East Fourth street, heard a boy's cries at 7:30 o'clock last evening, and running to the electric light and telegraph pole at the corner of East Fifth street and Franklin place, saw a small lad dangling from a live wire at the top of the pole. The boy was writhing in agony and trying in vain to pull his hand away from the wire.

Perrine with no thought of the danger to himself made an attempt to pull the little fellow from the place of danger. As soon as he touched the boy's feet, however, he received a shock which caused him to drop to the ground. The boy above writhed about for the space of a minute and then fell and lay as if dead on the ground. It was then seen that he was Herbert C. Hand, the eight-year-old son of Charles Hand, of 451 East Fifth street.

At first those who gathered about the small prostrate form thought that life had gone out entirely, but an examination showed that the heart was still beating. The lad was carried to his home and Dr. Zeglio administered the proper restoratives. The right hand which had clutched the wire, was burned by the electric current, and the back was also found to be injured, either by the electricity or by the fall to the ground. The boy suffered during the night, but was much improved this morning and will probably recover fully with a few days.

It is the habit of the young boys in the neighborhood where the accident occurred to climb poles and handle the wires.

Perrine, the young man who was badly shocked in attempting to pull the boy from the wire, soon recovered, and laughed off his part in the affair when questioned by a reporter.

NOISY DANCERS.

Complaints About the Social Affairs at Trolley Terminus.

Mrs. F. B. Reed, who resides in the vicinity of the terminus of the Plainfield trolley line, is trying to have the Dunellen authorities put a stop to the dances held Thursday and Saturday nights there and attended by a class of persons who make the night hideous to those residing near by, it is claimed. All Summer these dances have been going on. An enterprising man named Jacob Johnson, having obtained a lease on the grounds, erected a dancing pavilion and placarded the cars on the evening of the dances, which brought plenty of patrons both to the trolley company and his pavilion.

"JOE, THE TURK," GOING BACK.

Says He Was Not Ordered Out of Bound Brook.

Ensign Joseph Garabed, of the Salvation Army, denies that he has been notified to leave Bound Brook. In a letter, dated August 4th, he says:

During my sixteen years as an American citizen, thirteen years a Salvationist, visiting cities and towns from the Atlantic to the Pacific, I have never once, either in Bound Brook or elsewhere, received notice to leave town.

I have just concluded two weeks' revival meetings in Bound Brook, farewelled last Sunday night to an immense crowd in our hall and in the park, and expect to hold another series of meetings there in a few weeks.

It is signed Ensign Joseph Garabed, or "Joe the Turk."

OLD WAGES RESTORED.

Raritan Woolen Mills Give Notice to Their Employes.

The Raritan woollen mills and the Somerset Manufacturing Company have posted notices in their building at Raritan that the reduction of 10 per cent. in the wages of their employes which was made four years ago would be restored. This has been done without solicitation on the part of the men and because of the increase of orders.

There is great rejoicing among the 1,200 employes who are benefitted by the increase.

Lightning Strikes a Barn.

A barn on the property of Wilhelm Bornehern, on the old post road between Piscataway and Bonhamtown, about three miles from New Brunswick, was struck by lightning at 12 o'clock last night. The barn was totally destroyed, together with a large crop of hay. One horse was killed. The loss will amount to $2,000, partially covered by insurance.

—A largely attended dance took place at Emery's pavilion, near Dunellen, last evening.

A GRANDSTAND FALLS

Persons Injured at a Lancaster Race Track.

HUNDREDS BURIED IN THE DEBRIS.

The Men, In Endeavoring to Save Themselves, Trampled Upon the Helpless Women and Children—The Stand a Very Weak Structure.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 6.—Information has reached this city that during the races at the White Horse track, in Salisbury township, the grand stand collapsed, fatally injuring five persons and seriously injuring two score of men, women and children.

The races were of a local character. There were fully 5,000 present, including an unusually large gathering of women and children from all sections of the country. The advent of such a large crowd was fully anticipated by those who had the management of the races in charge, and in order to increase the revenue a temporary grand stand, with a seating capacity of 2,000, was erected.

The grand stand was an improvised a[illegible] constructed of planking and b[illegible], in addition to the tent equipage o[illegible] traveling medicine show that was [illegible] neighborhood. Unskilled labor w[illegible] alled into service, and the stand w[illegible] at up in less than two hours.

When the gates opened, there was a great rush for the grand stand, and when the first heat of the first race was called fully 2,000 men, women and children were on the stand. As the horses neared the last quarter on the home stretch those in the grand stand became excited, and amid the stamping of feet and shouts of the men the stand gave way with a deafening crash just as the winning horse passed under the wire.

Hundreds Buried.

Hundreds of shrieking women, crying children and frightened men were buried in the debris. There was pandemonium for a time.

Strong men, in their eagerness to get beyond danger, trampled upon the frail ones, hurling and striking women and pushing children, even going so far as to hit defenseless women in the face. It was a brutal scene.

When the excitement had abated and the wounded had been removed, it was found that fully 200 persons had been injured. Ex-Poor Director Benjamin Weaver of this city and an unknown young man will die, and two children are also mortally injured.

All the doctors available were summoned, and as the injured and maimed were found they were cared for and then sent to their homes, making it impossible to secure a complete list of the injured.

Hundreds of persons have visited the scene, going there in carriages and awheel. From one woman who was in the grand stand when it collapsed it was learned that men actually hit and trampled upon women and children, never as much as assisting those whose cries for help were heartrending.

As soon as the excitement had abated and the wounded removed the races went on as though nothing had happened.

The young man, who is believed to be mortally injured, was impaled on a long pine splinter.

Canada May Retaliate.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—John Bertram, president of the Collins Inlet Lumber company, suggests, to meet the operation of the restrictive clauses of the lumber schedule of the Dingley act, that the Dominion government should not impose an export duty on logs and pulp wood, but that the government of the province of Ontario, which has sold many thousands of acres of timber limits to Americans, should enact an order in council that all logs cut under license from the government of Ontario shall be sawed in that province. This provision would, he believes, destroy any benefit the Michigan mills might have under the Dingley act, if it did not cause their ruin.

Injured Sanitarium Patients.

Liberty, N. Y., Aug. 6.—The whole topic of conversation in this village at present is the runaway accident in which the Loomis sanitarium patients were injured. Those who were removed to the sanitarium are well on the way to recovery. Miss Spaulding of Montclair, N. J., who had her skull trephined, is still very weak, but Dr. Stubbert, the physician in charge, has now some hopes of her recovery. Miss Mary Carmody of New York is still very low, and only slight hopes are entertained for her recovery. Mrs. White, wife of Dr. L. J. White of Franklin, N. Y., has been removed to the sanitarium. She is somewhat improved.

Warrant For New Orleans Swindler.

New York, Aug. 6.—A letter has been received at police headquarters from Superintendent of Police Gosper of New Orleans containing a warrant for the arrest of Juan Antonio Magan, the alleged gold brick swindler arrested here a few days ago. The letter stated that requisition papers would be forwarded as soon as they could be prepared. No mention was made in the communication of Regalio Guitterrez, who was arrested with Magan, and inquiry has been asked by wire as to what action should be taken in his case.

End the Uruguayan Revolution.

London, Aug. 6.—A dispatch from Montevideo says that a great popular meeting has been held there and addressed by well known speakers, who advocated the conclusion of peace with the revolutionists. Resolutions to this effect were carried by a large majority, and the opinion of the meeting will be brought formally to the attention of the government.

Trains Blocked by Washouts.

Denver, Aug. 6.—Trains in both directions on the Kansas Pacific are blocked by another and more extensive washout near Strassburg, where train No. 3 from Kansas City was wrecked on Tuesday. No. 3 has been reported indefinitely late.

Dead Body on Track.

Corry, Pa., Aug. 6.—The body of a man, believed to be William H. Middleton, a member of Cigarmakers' union, No. 261, of Knoxville, has been found by some boys on the Erie tracks at this place.

A SUSPECTED BURGLAR.

He Turns Out to Be a Demented Theological Student.

Boston, Aug. 6.—A special to The Globe from Providence says the suspect who is in Kingston jail on the supposition that he had something to do with the burglary at the residence of R. G. Dunn recently has been identified as William Collier, a theological student from Memphis, and a letter received from his father conveyed the information that the young man is crazy.

It has also been learned that young Collier had come to Rhode Island for the avowed purpose of assassinating Rev. Edward Everett Hale, the well known Unitarian clergyman of Boston, whose summer home is at Matunuck. Collier declares that he came here to kill Dr. Hale because he has been teaching a false religion. He also claims to be the second Messiah, saying, "I'm Christ, who has come into the world to shed the blood of sinners, even as Jesus Christ shed his blood for us."

SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Newark Lawyer Charged With Cruelty and Continued Intoxication.

Newark, N. J., Aug. 6.—Ellwood S. Leary, a lawyer, has been made defendant in divorce proceedings instituted by his wife, Susannah Leary. The husband is charged with neglect, cruelty and continued intoxication. The petition filed contains a copy of an agreement entered into by Leary on March 16, 1895, in consideration of his wife refraining from instituting divorce proceedings at that time.

The agreement stipulates that he shall cease the use of spirituous and malt liquors, spend all his evenings in his wife's company at home or elsewhere, at her pleasure, and contribute to her maintenance and comfort as much money as he can earn in the practice of his profession.

The wife claims that this exemplary behavior lasted about four months, after which he was brutal to her and rarely sober more than one day a week. Alimony is also prayed for.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Three men and one woman perished from suffocation in a house at Elm and Charles street, Cincinnati, which had caught fire.

The Lone Hill life saving station reports that the large German ship Otto is ashore at Macox, on the Long Island coast, below the station.

The necessary funds having been assured, the steamship Belgica, which is being fitted out at Antwerp, will sail on Aug. 15 on an expedition to the south pole.

A collision has occurred at Jamestown, N. Y., between trains on the Dunkirk, Alleghany and Pittsburg road and the Jamestown and Chautauqua Lake railroad. Several persons were seriously hurt.

A disaster has occurred at Krementchug, Russia, owing to the high stage of the water on the river Dneiper. A woman's swimming bath, occupied at the time by 400 women, was swept away, and 200 of the women were carried away and drowned.

The British ship Cumbermere, coal laden, was on fire at Oakland. The fire is believed to have been started by friends of Near, the East Indian who stabbed Captain Bernard. The flames spread rapidly and did great damage, almost destroying the vessel.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea.
In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhœa. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlian's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle; and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, HENRY STEINBERG, Allentown, Pa. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park & North Aves, Plainfield.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Dr. Pocock, of North avenue, was called out of town on business yesterday. He returned home this morning.

Former Mayor B. A. Hegeman, Jr, of the borough, has just returned from Point Breeze Camp, Wolfboro, N. H., where he was spending a few days with his family.

"Let me give you a pointer," said M. F. Gregg, a popular conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad. "Do you know that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy cures you when you have the stomach ache? Well, it does." And after giving this friendly bit of advice, the jolly conducter passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this Remedy, which is the best cure for bowel disorders in the world. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Cor. Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Miss Laura J. Runyon, of East Fifth street, will leave the city tomorrow for Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, where she will visit friends.

Did You Ever
Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all Female Complaints, exercising a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, or are Nervous, Sleepless, Excitable, Melancholly, or troubled with Dizzy Spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and Strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at Randolph's Drug Store.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, of West Seventh street, left town yesterday for Saratoga, where he will remain for a month.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. "There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy, than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy," writes Dr. R E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and as he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should certainly know. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, Park and North Aves., Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuming, of Putnam avenue, have returned from their annual vacation.

There is Nothing so Good.
There is nothing just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, so demand it and do not permit the dealer to sell you some substitute. He will not claim there is anything better, but in order to make more profit he may claim something else to be just as good. You want Dr. King's New Discovery because you know it to be safe and reliable, and guaranteed to do good or money refunded. For Coughs Colds, Consumption and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs, there is nothing so good as is Dr. King's New Discovery. Trial bottle free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00.

Frank Flannery, of Washington street, is now enjoying the pleasures of his annual vacation.

SUES FOR INDEMNITY

An American Citizen Arrested In Havana.

IMPRISONED AND THEN DEPORTED.

Says That In Order to Manufacture Evidence a Spanish Soldier Slipped an Insurgent Paper Upon a Table In His Room.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The papers in the case of Alfredo H. Hugnet, an American citizen imprisoned in Cuba, which were called for from the state department prior to the adjournment of congress, have just been printed. The case is a claim for $75,000 for damages for imprisonment, and some important points are involved. Hugnet resided in Havana and was arrested on the 6th of September, 1896, on the suspicion that he was connected with the revolutionary junta of New York.

It is asserted on behalf of Hugnet that no evidence was found in the house against Hugnet, but that the Spanish police, in order to make a charge against him, slipped an insurgent paper upon a center table in his residence, doing the work so awkwardly as to be detected by Hugnet's daughter. He was taken to prison and kept in close confinement for 17 days, when he was expelled from the island, coming to the United States.

His liberation was the direct result of a protest on the part of Consul General Lee, replying to which General Weyler made the point that the imprisonment was justifiable as an act of war regardless of treaties. The captain general's language on this point is as follows:

"The country being in a state of war and therefore all constitutional guarantees suspended, there has been no violation of any precept of the Spanish fundamental code nor of the law of criminal procedure in proceeding to make the arrest and prolonged incommunication of said person."

After he landed in Florida Mr. Hugnet filed his claim for damages, his attorneys asserting that it is more urgent than an ordinary claim for the loss of property. The last of the documents was dated July 17, and it did not appear that the state department had then decided to press the claim upon Spain.

To Arbitrate Between Japan and Hawaii.

Washington, Aug. 6.—No official notice has been received here of the reported selection of the king of the Belgians as arbitrator of the dispute between Japan and Hawaii, but generally the selection is highly commended. The officials say that King Leopold's reputation for fairness and liberality is so well established that there could be no possible objection to the exercise by him of the powers of arbitrator, provided a choice is to be made from among European rulers. It is not believed that our own government will be called upon to advise as to the selection, and it is highly improbable that it will interefere in the matter so long as the wishes of Hawaii are met.

An American Released.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The United States consular agent at Freiburg, Germany, reports to the state department that he has secured the release of Harry Silberberg, alias John C. Drayton, of Little Rock, who was condemned on Jan. 30, 1896, to 2½ years' imprisonment, and that he was placed aboard a steamer bound for Baltimore on July 22. The German government required an escort for Silberberg to Bremen and a bond of 1,000 marks as guarantee that the gentleman of dual names shall keep away from the Fatherland. Silberberg's offense was that of resisting one of the petty German police, which is regarded as a most serious offense in Germany.

Yellow Fever Suspects Recaptured.

Washington, Aug. 6.—The surgeon general of the Marine hospital service has been informed by wire of the capture of three Cuban refugees at Punta Gorda, on the coast of Florida, who are suspected of having yellow fever. The capture was the result of the coast inspection service of the state and the national government. The suspects were sent to the quarantine station at Charlotteville harbor for detention.

Chief Clerk of Railway Mail Service.

Washington, Aug. 6.—John W. Hollyday of Ohio has been appointed chief clerk of the railway mail service. He has been employed in the service some years and succeeds Alexander Grant of Michigan, appointed assistant general superintendent.

The Cretans Will Accept Autonomy.

Khania, Island of Crete, Aug. 6.—The chief of the Cretans that Djevad Pasha, the new military commandant, is really charged by the sultan with instructions to wreck the autonomy scheme has had at least one very important result. The deputies representing the principal provinces have sent to the foreign admirals an official declaration accepting autonomy and expressing a desire that the Turkish troops should be withdrawn from the island. This is the first document of a unanimous character which has been submitted to the powers in response to their proposition of an autonomous regime.

More Than a Century Old.

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 6.—Rebecca Van Zendt, who was 103 years old yesterday, has arrived in this city from her home in Auburn, N. Y. She came alone on the cars and is celebrating her birthday with old friends. Mrs. Van Zendt is known as the mother of the secretary of the Army of the Potomac. Mrs. Van Zendt is very averse to publicity and turns her back on all reporters who wish to see her. She is supple and bright beyond the average centenarian.

Portuguese Troops Capture Rebel Chief.

Lisbon, Aug. 6.—A dispatch from Lourenco Marquez says that word was received there on Tuesday that the Portuguese troops had again routed the rebels in Gazaland and captured two of the principal chiefs. The report, however, lacks official information.

France and Canada.

Paris, Aug. 6.—The Gaulois points out that under the commercial treaty concluded between France and Canada in 1893 France will benefit by any advantage which Canada gives Great Britain.

A BIG ESTATE FIGHT

The King Will Contest D[illegible] by Surrogate Arnold.

CLAIMS MADE BY AN ALLEGED NIECE.

The Fortune Was Amassed In China by the Testator, Who Afterward Became Demented and Died In a Hospital.

New York, Aug. 6.—Surrogate Arnold has handed down a decision in the King will contest. In it the application for letters of administration made by Mrs. Eugenia Ross, alleged niece of deceased, was denied, and ancillary letters will issue to George Gordon King and Sarah K. Birckhead, nephew and niece respectively of the testator.

William H. King, the testator, went to China some 40 years ago. He was successful in that country and amassed an immense fortune. He returned to this country some ten years later and went to live in Newport, R. I., his old home.

King's actions became peculiar after his return, and during the last 28 years of his life he was confined in private sanitariums. He died last March in the Butler hospital in Providence. At the time of his death King's fortune was variously estimated at from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000. During the later years of his life Mrs. Ross endeavored through the Rhode Island courts to establish her relationship to the testator. After King's death a long list of alleged relatives set up their claims to a portion of the estate.

Mrs. Ross' petition admits that the man's real name was Gordon and not King. That he accumulated a fortune in China, however, is admitted. Mrs. Ross' contention rested entirely upon a question of identity.

Mrs. Ross further intimated that the testator was not really insane, but was placed in asylums by the King family in order that a marriage which he contemplated might be thereby prevented. Upon the death of King applications were made by Mrs. Ross and George G. King and Sarah K. Birckhead for letters of administration, all setting up claims to being next of kin.

Rhode Island Courts Against Her.

The Rhode Island courts, when her application was first made, decided against Mrs. Ross. The latter then came into the New York courts and sought letters of administration upon the property in the state, valued at about $1,000,000. The hearing was heard by Surrogate Arnold. In his decision just handed down the surrogate in part says:

"She (Mrs. Ross) does not give the real name of her uncle, whom she seeks to establish as the decedent, nor does she furnish any proof that he ever went to China. She simply says he disappeared years ago and was supposed by his family to be dead. The courts also took the latter view.

"I have gone through all the affidavits presented by Mrs. Ross very carefully, but I fail to find that she was in any way related to the decedent."

Surrogate Arnold said that so great a time elapsed between King's departure for China and his return and the present action that it is a hard matter to obtain good evidence as to identification. Most of those who knew King well prior to his departure and saw him after his return, says the surrogate, are dead.

"Whatever evidence of identification is produced," said Surrogate Arnold, "is by the King family. Mrs. Ross offers no evidence holding her claim to the alleged substitution of persons.

"The alleged evidence of a deceased uncle of Mrs. King, who identified the decedent as all that Mrs. Ross claims, is not produced. The character of the proofs presented by Mrs. Ross supporting her claim are too vague and unsatisfactory to warrant my granting her application.

"Nor do I believe that there should be any further delay in disposing of these applications in the expectation that other evidence be produced by her."

Surrogate Arnold says that the Rhode Island courts have found in favor of Mrs. Ross' opponents and that he will not interfere in the matter. He says she may fight in an appeal in King's native state.

Released From Quarantine.

Toronto, Aug. 6.—Captain and Sailing Master John McGraw of the steamer Passport, which has been in quarantine on account of a case of smallpox on board since last Sunday, has been liberated by Dr. Sheard, the health inspector. He had been fumigated and vaccinated, and the doctor says there is absolutely no fear of infection. Dr. Sheard has examined the passengers, and he found that vaccination had taken so well in 18 cases that they will be liberated immediately.

Death From Excessive Smoking.

New Haven, Aug. 6.—Stephen M. Canty, an electrician, was found dead at the residence of his brother-in-law here. The medical examiner gave a certificate of death caused by heart failure, brought about by excessive smoking. He was 36 years of age and was well known as an electrical expert, especially in Connecticut and New York. He was the inventor of a storage battery bicycle lamp and a telephone bell. His wife and daughter live in Hartford.

Iron Plant to Start Up.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 6.—The Reading Iron company will start up their plant at Danville next Monday and give employment to 700 hands. The establishment was obliged to shut down some time ago, owing to a reduction in wages, which caused the men to strike. Since then the employees in all departments have expressed their willingness to go to work at the company's figures.

Committee to Investigate Land Titles.

Rochester, Aug. 6.—Speaker O'Grady has announced the following committee to continue the investigation into the titles in the state lands in the Adirondacks: Assemblyman Gorham of Otsego, Brady of Onondaga, Marshall of Kings, McEwan of Albany, Gott of Monroe, Benham of Ontario, and Finn of New York.

Minister Drowned.

Winnipeg, Aug. 6.—The Rev. Alexander Grant, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, was drowned while canoeing on the Nepigon river. The body has not yet been recovered.

REVIVAL OF THE TUNNEL PROJECT.

The great project of tunneling the Hudson river between Jersey City and New York, which was suspended in 1892 because of the death of its principal financial backer when two thirds of it had already been completed, is about to be resumed. It is proposed to foreclose the mortgage, that the stockholders shall bid in the property, recognize the company and proceed to the completion of the work. About $4 000,000 has already been expended upon the enterprise, and it is estimated that it will cost about $1,000,000 more to complete it. The only change in the original plans contemplated is a relocation of the New York terminus, which will decrease the cost and at the same time prove more convenient to the public. The enterprise is regarded as a very important one to the interests of both the municipalities interested as well as to those of the public at large. If the average rate of progress is made as was maintained when the work was suspended, the work can be completed in less than a year from the time that it is resumed.—True American.

SAVE THE ROADS.

The cry goes up everywhere. "Save the roads." Why are not the roads properly cared for? They have cost enough; they have proved excellent and well paying investments. Why are they taken care of? The reason in most cases seems to be because Freeholders are not road repairers, but road tinkers. The advice and supervision of good road engineers are just as essential to the proper repairing of a road as to the proper building. Mr. Owen, of Essex, one of the leading authorities on road repairing, says "don't patch," but mud patching and gravel patching or mixture of both seems to be the rule. The reason the roads are not cared for in Hudson seems to be downright dishonesty; but in some other places it is a lack of experience or of knowledge of the best methods of repairing.—Elizabeth Journal.

UNTUTORED FARMERS.

Plainfield's scheme of raising and selling produce from the sewage farm has not proved a success. Possibly the City Fathers are untutored in the art of agriculture.—Unionist-Gazette.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

ITEMS BRIEF AND BRIGHT

GATHERED ALL ABOUT THE TOWN BY ALERT PRESS REPORTERS.

News in Short Paragraphs That are Interesting to Read During the Spare Moments of Many Busy Plainfielders.

—The macadamizing of East Front street is progressing finely and will soon be completed.

—Men are now employed repairing the upper part of Somerset street damaged by the recent storm.

—A portion of the gutter pavement on Park avenue between Front and Second streets, is being relaid.

—Yesterday employes of the city were busy opening up the gutters on Grant avenue near Front street.

—A number of improvements are being made at the First Baptist church, including some repair work, also.

—About 250 people was the number that visited Jacquett's pants' sale. You must come now if you want a bargain.

—Special Marshal George Wise, of the borough, is now doing duty while Chief Marshal Wilson is off on his vacation.

—The work on the foundations for the new Watchung avenue bridge has again been started and is now being pushed rapidly.

—Men have been employed about the grounds surrounding the City Industrial Home and they present a much better appearance.

—It is not expected that at the meeting of the borough council there will be any regular marshal appointed. The present plan seems to work very satisfactorily.

—Paughcaughnaughsinque Council, No. 34, Degree of Pocohontas, has decided to hold a fair during the second week in September. The place has not yet been selected.

—Last Wednesday night lightning struck a large tree on Grove street, near Greenbrook road, and almost split the same in half. This is the only damage reported in the borough.

—Tomorrow at White's they will put on sale 50 pieces of 54 inch ladies' cloth in 50 different shades at a remarkably low price—they are just right for separate skirts and bicycle suits.

—It is confidently believed that next Thursday will be a clear and pleasant day, so that the members of Trinity Reformed Church and Sunday-school, together with their friends, can go to Asbury Park and have a jolly good time by the ocean.

A. O. H. A REUNITED BODY.

Rival Factions, Through Their National Officers, Agree to Again Unite.

At a secret meeting of the national officers of the rival factions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, held at Atlantic City, the breach between the factions was closed and the two societies will again unite.

The split in the organization occurred in 1884 and was caused by the late John Nolan, who at that time was chief national officer of the order, trying to establish a national headquarters of the organization in New York city. When the proposition was defeated he withdrew, taking about 50,000 of the 140,000 members with him. The seceders formed "The Board of Erin branch." Nolan succeeded in having the parent organization in Europe recognize his organization and cut away from those remaining in the old order, which was led by President Wilhere.

The terms by which the two factions were brought together are as follows: That the National Board of Officers of the Board of Erin branch will resign and formally transfer to the national officers and the national directory of the American branch absolute jurisdiction over the 35,000 members of the Board of Erin branch. By the terms of the transfer the members of the latter branch become entitled to all the rights and privileges of the 160,000 members of the American branch. The united organization will then be known as the Ancient Order of Hibernians and will resume affiliations with the parent branch in Europe.

THEATRICAL.

It is really suprising the large audiences that the Kennedy players are drawing to Stillman's theatre this week, and attests better than anything else the popularity of the company. Last night the theatre was well filled to witness "A Celebrated Case," which was produced with a wealth of scenery and costumes and fine acting. Tonight "The Boy from Boston," affording plenty of opportunities for John Kennedy's humorous turns, will be given. The Vail Brothers will appear tonight in their illustrated song.

GET APPETITE.

IF YOU DON'T, YOU WILL NEVER BE STRONG OR HEALTHY.

Appetite is one thing that you can't afford to be without, for without it your health, strength and comliness flies out of the window.

Poor appetite means weak stomach, starved body, sick individual. Good appetite the opposite.

Poor appetite is a sign that your stomach is too weak for digestion. You can aid it with Shaker Digestive Cordial.

When your stomach is able to digest all the food that your body needs, you will have a good appetite Not before.

Good food, well digested, means strength and a long, healthy life. Undigested food creates poison which effects the whole body, and may give you headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation flatulence, languor, weakness, mental depression, stomachache, fever, nervousness, offensive breath, anæmia, rheumatism, etc.

All these disorders will be relieved if you will take the Shaker Digestive Cordial.

It is a pure vegetable digestive and natural invigorator, which aids the stomach purifies the system of the poisons of indigestion and makes you strong, fat and healthy

Shaker Digestive Cordial does not act on the liver, but on the undigested food in the stomach. It cures indigestion or biliousness without irritating the liver or any of the internal organs.

Piano Prices.

Other things being equal, the price is the clinching argument in buying a Piano. When you are satisfied as to the equal quality of any two pianos, the question of cost becomes paramount.

Our prices are lower than anybody's else in the State; we sell Pianos at Twenty-five to One Hundred Dollars cheaper than our competitors. We are able to do this because we sell five times as many as any one of them. It's easy to satisfy yourself; make comparisons. Don't come to buy until you're quite sure that what we say is true.

WILL BLOW GREAT GUNS.

De Voe Predicts Troublous Weather for September and Offers to Save Millions.

A. J. De Voe, the prophet and seer of Bergen county, is the author of a proposition by which he asserts that Uncle Sam could save many millions of dollars.

The renowned amateur forcaster of weather says he will furnish the United States Government with a complete and carefully complied batch of weather prophecies of the 1896 model, all high geared and pneumatic tired, chainless and without string tied to them, for the small sum of $1,000,000, C. O. D.

By accepting this offer, Mr. De Voe points out, the Federal Government would be enabled to discharge its entire staff of high priced meteorologists all over the country and sell or pawn their barometers, thermometers and all the other troublesome 'ometers whereby, the Bergen county prophet says, they make bad predictions all the year 'round for the people of this Republic.

Mr. De Voe suppliments this proposition with a statement, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith, showing exactly what is going to happen in the way of weather next month. From this statement it would appear that a violent electrical storm is due on the 3d of the month, reaching its height on the 5th, and raging most severely over Western Virginia and the southern part of Pennsylvania. Another big storm will follow on the 10th and will sweep across the Atlantic to ravage the coasts of the United Kingdom. But worse yet, according to Mr. De Voe, will be a storm from the 25th to the 30th, developing a tornado in Ohio and heavy gales with cold rain on the middle Atlantic coast. Destructive tides are predicted for the 28th and a counter storm in Italy, with floods in Austria and Turkey.

Famous Springs of Deer Park.

A million and a half gallons of the purest water on earth is the daily output of the famous Boiling Springs in Garrett County, Maryland. In order that nothing can contaminate the Springs, one hundred acres of land surrounding it are fenced in. In addition, a wire building covers the Springs so that leaves cannot fall into the water. It is from there extraordinary Springs that Deer Park Hotel receives its water supply, the water being piped direct to the hotel. The medical fraternity now concede that in the matter of health, the question of pure water stands at the head and front. No summer resort combines so many healthful features. The air is wonderfully pure and invigorating: cool nights, with absolutely no mosquitoes; the finest cuisine, with perfect sanitary arrangements, makes Deer Park Hotel the ideal resort. 8 4 4

Balm for Her Injured Feelings.

Patrick Heenan, of South Plainfield, who returned home from Pennsylvania a few days ago after leaving to escape arrest on the complaint of Mrs. Tracy, says that he did not have to offer an apology to the widow for his conduct nor did he give bonds for keeping the peace. He says that Mrs. Tracy accepted $10 as a balm for her wounded feelings and let the matter end there.

IT WAS A DESPERATE CASE.

Thought His Good Generalship Won Him His Wife.

They were two college boys, gray-haired and retired from business, yet boys for all that, as they laughed over the memories that are ever green or turned their faces from each other and maintained the fiction of secrecy while hastily disposing of a few irrepressible tears.

"There's no harm in telling you all about that night now, Tom," mused one of them. "You know that it was a close race between Dick and myself as to who should drive her over to the big hop at the beach. I was the lucky one, because I hired a sprinter as messenger boy and had my bid in five minutes before Dick's.

"We had a glorious ride over. She was the prettiest girl at the ball, and as I was the strong man at college we were not a couple to be overlooked."

"You were stunners, Bob."

Bob, being a boy again, had to rub his hands and chuckle before he proceeded, "On my way back, having blind faith in the intelligence of the horse, I did not give my attention to the route. You know, Tom, that there is no end of alternatives in country roads. Left to himself, the horse took a green lane, where he should have followed the beaten highway. When he trotted over some scattered rails, through a gap in a meadow, I realized that we were lost. For an hour I drove like mad, and by some trick of fate, brought up at the gap again. In the midst of another trial to find our way, the east was streaked with gray, the birds began to twitter, and as she was in a state of desperate despondency, I found a cabin and left her in charge of a kind old woman."

"But I thought you had a runaway?"

"Wait. I drove half a mile behind a hill, unhitched, made a wreck of the buggy, even tearing the top to pieces, turned the horse loose, giving him a parting cut with a switch, and then walked back to college, hastening to inform her folks that she was not seriously injured; only badly shaken up, you know. She was brought tenderly home, I made a liveryman happy, and I guess my generalship is what won her."

"Why, you old rascal!"—Detroit Free Press.

A NEW MILITARY ORDER.

An Organization Formed for Defense Against Foreign Aggression.

The Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States is one of the many organizations which have come into existence in recent years as the result of a sort of revival of patriotic pride. While some of them incidentally afford opportunities for the display of genealogical records, they all tend to strengthen patriotic interest in our national past and to bring all sections closer together in the present. The Military Order of Foreign Wars "stands for the needed and honorable principle of national defense against foreign aggression," and "covers the period of American history since national independence." Companionship is limited to participants in actual warfare, or to direct descendants, in the male line only, from commissioned officers who took part in a foreign war of the United States. The order includes in its officers and membership many of the most distinguished men of all sections, and should form another patriotic bond of union between the different parts of the country.

An Object In View.

"Here are your slippers, my dear," said the husband of the Emancipated Woman, as the latter came in, weary with the cares of the day. "As soon as you have put them on and rested a bit you will find dinner ready, and I hope you will enjoy it, for I have cooked one of your favorite dishes. Mr. Tiff was in this afternoon, calling, and I just told him that I had the most indulgent wife in the world, as well as the handsomest woman in the city. I am so proud of you, dear."

At this the sweet little husband bent over and kissed his wife fondly. It was easy to see that they were deeply attached to each other.

"That's all right," replied the Emancipated Woman, patting her spouse on his neck. "You are a dear, good boy, and you shall have that new silk hat you have been wanting so long. Now let us have dinner, for I'm as hungry as a hunter."—New York World.

The Food.

The toad cannot endure a high temperature, hence is not often seen in the daytime, except when the air is full of moisture. It does not take dead or motionless food. Its tongue, the organ for seizing its food, is attached in front and free behind, and is covered with a gelatinous substance, which holds fast to the food seized. The motion of the tongue is so rapid that only careful watching can discern it. Fishworms often prove too large to be swallowed at once, and the forelimbs are used to push the food into the gullet.—Philadelphia Ledger.

QUEER LIBRARY FREAKS.

Funny Requests for Books that Amuse the Employes.

Once in a while the clerks in the public library get hold of a good joke through the ignorance of people who come there to take out books. It was not long ago that a woman who was anxious to join the Daughters of the American Revolution came there to look up her family history and get her facts and claims ready to submit to the Committee on Membership. She went about it in rather a queer way. After looking about aimlessly through the index for a time she discovered "Lossing's Family History of the United States." She wrote her request for the book on one of the cards provided for that purpose, and was quite indignant with the clerk who handed it to her because it did not contain what she wanted.

It was not long after this incident that another woman, who, from her dress and appearance, the clerks thought might be literary, wrote on one of the cards a request for "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

"'Holmes's Autocrat,' do you want?" politely asked the clerk.

"Oh, I don't care whose it is," was the reply. "I only want to find out if it is proper to use toothpicks at the breakfast table."

Another request for a magazine which the applicant said was called "Brain" kept one of the clerks busy hunting half an hour before he discovered that what was wanted was the magazine called "Mind." Still another clerk was shocked the other day by a request for Washington Irving's "Alabama." The clerk mildly suggested "Alhambra."

FIREMEN WATCH FOR EACH OTHER.

Habit of Vigilance That Prevents a Comrade's Danger Being Overlooked.

There is a system in the Fire Department by which the men can keep track of one another. The rule is for the men of each company to look out for the men of that company. This makes it comparatively easy for the men to keep track of one another, for there are rarely more than a dozen men in a company, and each man in it knows about where his comrades are working at a fire. The custom among the men is to keep constantly inquiring for one another. If Jones hasn't happened to see Smith for some time, he immediately asks the first man of his company that he comes across where Smith is. If that man can't tell, the inquiries go on, and so a man can't be missing for very long without his comrades knowing it. Then it is an easy matter to trace Smith to the last task he was ordered to do, and as a rule he is hauled safely out of danger. From constant usage the system has become almost perfect, and the cool courage that it has developed has made the department one of the finest in the world. The men will risk everything, and go against the most tremendous odds to save a comrade.

A splendid exhibition of nerve was given at a fire in New York not long ago when fireman after fireman descended into a freezing cellar, full of black smoke, to try and save a young fireman who was finally taken out dead. Men who were brought to the surface fainted away, and on recovering insisted immediately on going down again after their comrade. They finally got him out, but not before five rescuers had failed to accomplish anything, and had been hauled out unconscious.—New York Sun.

A Good Dog Story.

Two Senators were telling tall stories about their dogs. Outlying each other, the dog-tales grew longer and longer. At last, a Southern member of the House broke in:

"You think those things are marvelous, do you? I can tell you something about a pointer that beats it all to pieces. Several of us fellows were out gunning. Suddenly, in the midst of a lonely country road, my pointer stood stock still. There was no evidence of game. There was no one on the road but an old country farmer standing stock still, too, gazing at us. A moment later we found that the farmer's name was Partridge.—Twinkles.

He Understood.

The Professor of Mechanics at an English college records that he once gave a lecture upon the locomotive, and was particularly struck by the absorption of one juvenile listener. He spoke to this student after the lecture, and asked him: "Well, I suppose you understand all about the locomotive now?"

"Yes," was the reply, "all but one thing."

"And what is that?" asked the Professor, kindly.

"I can't make out what makes the locomotive move without horses."—Tid-Bits.

Slighted.

Four-year-old Barbara went to church with her two sisters and came home crying.

"What is the matter, dear?" inquired her mother.

"He preached a whole s-sermon—about—M-Mary and Martha," sobbed Barbara, "and—never said—a w-word about me."—Chicago Tribune.

Sweet Content.

Wayworn Watson—Everything is gett'n' to be done by machinery these days. It is something awful.

Perry Pattetic—I don't see no call for you, nor me, neither, to git excited about it. I guess no machine won't never take up our trade and ruin it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"How did you celebrate yure tin weddin', Moike?"

"Rushed the can, ave coorse."—Philadelphia North American.

A SOUTHERN POET.

Frank L. Stanton, the Atlanta Writer of Verses.

Frank L. Stanton, the Georgia poet, whose verses are so familiar to all newspaper readers, is a rare genius and something more. His only school was the school of adversity. The misfortunes of his early childhood swept this fatherless boy past the doors of academies and colleges, and he was glad enough when just entering his teens to act as an office boy for Joel Chandler Harris on the Savannah News.

In a short time the boy drifted to a small town in South Carolina, where he went to work in a printing office.

He was fond of books, and began to lisp in numbers at the age of six. His rhyming gifts were wonderful, and when he was only 15 he made a dash into print.

It seems that a literary weekly in New York caught his fancy, and he was anxious to write for it.

One night he wrote a short poem and sent it to his favorite paper, with the following businesslike note to the editor:

"Dear Sir: I want one dollar for this."

The dollar was promptly forthcoming, and the poem was printed in the course of two or three weeks.

Then young Stanton tried his luck again. He wrote a longer poem, and his note to the editor ran as follows:

"Dear Sir: I want two dollars for this."

The money was sent to him and his verses appeared in a short time.

The next venture showed that the money devil had captured him. He forwarded a poem to the editor, with a note in which he said:

"Dear Sir: I want three dollars for this."

Again fortune favored him. The editor published the poem and paid the sum demanded.

Naturally, this turned the head of this inexperienced 15-year-old lad, and his next step was a blunder.

He sat up all night, and by daybreak had finished ten poems. These were inclosed in a large envelope, with the following audacious missive:

"Dear Sir: I want thirty dollars for these."

The verses were sent back to the author without a day's delay, with a slip on which was written:

"Declined with thanks—not up to the standard."

The disappointed boy shed many tears over this failure.

One day he told an old printer all about it, and showed him the rejected poems.

"You sent too many at one time," said the veteran, "and the editor thought they must be plagiarisms, or below the average. But they are pretty fair poems. Send one of them every week to your man. He will think that they are brand new."

With many misgivings the poet followed his friend's advice.

The New York editor accepted the ten poems at the rate of one each week and paid $3 apiece for them. He was in blissful ignorance of the fact that he had rejected the entire batch about a month before.—Chicago Times Herald.

A FORTUNE TO HER BENEFACTOR.

For a Loan of $200 a Californian Gets a Bequest of $73,000.

Wm. Hastings in 1882, was working at a country seat in Millbrae, near San Francisco. A housemaid named Carrie Burch went there from a San Francisco intelligence office. She had no friends, and soon fell ill. Hastings took pity on her and loaned her $200. She was ill for over three months, and then she obtained a place as nurse in an Australian family.

In Australia she married a retired merchant named Hall. She repaid Hastings and thanked him warmly in a letter for his help. Her husband soon died, leaving her his estate. She survived him only a few years and in her will she left her fortune of $73,000 to Hastings, who had always remained in poor circumstances.—New York Tribune.

An Unnecessary Admonition.

"Did you tell that young man not to call here any more?" asked Mabel's father severely.

"N—no."

"Why not?"

"I didn't think that it was necessary. I don't see how he could call any more now. He calls seven times a week."—Washington Star.

At Work.

A picture called "President McKinley at Work" shows the President sitting near a table in an office, with his hands resting idly on the arms of a chair, while he is gazing intently at something which is not in sight. If this is work there are a number of men who would be willing to take the President's job.—New Orleans Picayune.

Plain Sailing.

"It seems to me," said one young woman, "that Harold talks more clearly on the tariff than any one else I have ever heard.

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "He has the advantage of not knowing enough about it to get confused."—Washington Star.

Not Sure of the Benefit.

Family Friend—I congratulate you, my dear Sir, on the marriage of your daughter. I see you are gradually getting all your girls off your hands.

Old Olivebranch—Off my hands—yes; but the worst of it is, I have to keep their husbands on their feet.—Boston Traveler.

A sergeant in a volunteer corps, being doubtful whether he had distributed rifles to all the men, called out: "All you that are without arms hold up your hands!"

Delicate Dress Goods.

Some gowns are so dainty in the weave, so delicate in tint, that they seem to soil by being looked at—one or two wearings make them unpresentable. NOT USELESS. We make a specialty of cleaning fine fabrics, the more delicate the materia, the better the results. Sometimes an accident will ruin a gown, without injuring the texture. We dye them then, sometimes we get a prettier effect than the original color. Fine goods stand redyeing. The finer the material the better the new color. We charge so little for cleaning or dyeing, that even if you are in doubt as to the result, it's worth while to experiment. Want a new evening gown for a dollar or two? Laundry drivers will receive your work.

ATLANTA STRIKERS WIN.

White Refuse to Work With Negroes and Win Their Case.

Atlanta, Aug. 6.—The strike at the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills, which was begun by the refusal of the white female operatives to work with newly employed negresses, was made complete, when between 75 and 100 girls employed in the bleachery and press-room walked out.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 operatives were actually on strike, and the only people at work were the 20 negresses, three white women and two or three white men. The mills were practically at a standstill.

Later President Elsas acceded to the demand of the strikers and agreed to withdraw the negresses whose employment caused the trouble. The striking white operatives returned to work at once.

SEEKING HIS FATHER.

A Ten-year-old Boy Travels Alone From St. Louis to New York.

New York, Aug. 6.—A bright, well bred 10-year-old boy named John Daniels, who had traveled alone from St. Louis to this city, has been placed in the care of the police by an employee of the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad.

The lad is seeking his father, John Daniels, a bricklayer, who came here two months ago. The address of the latter is unknown, however, to the youngster. The boy says that his mother is dead, but his grandmother, Mrs. Kelly, lives at 3736 Lucky street, St. Louis. He was tagged to this city and came by train via Toledo and Buffalo.

The police will endeavor to locate young Daniels' father if he is in the city.

Italian Wheelmen to Tour Here.

New York, Aug. 6.—The Italian bicycle champions, Eros, Memo, Singrossi and Gorla, have written to W. J. Morgan of the Quill club race committee from Paris stating that they are ready to arrange for an American racing tour and would like to commence with the Quill club meet on Sept. 4. Eros is one of the fastest riders in Europe. Gorla is also very fast. If they come over, they will be the first Italian riders to race on the American continent. Mr. Morgan has written the secretary of the N. C. U., which organization controls racing in Europe, asking if the riders are in good standing at the present time.

Severe Storms In Colorado.

Colorado Springs, Aug. 6.—The rainstorms which have just visited this city were the most severe, excepting one, during the past ten years. During the storm the water stood from six to ten inches deep on half a dozen of the principal streets, flooding cellars, running into stores and damaging stock. Travel was entirely suspended. Three out of the five principal railroads leading into this city had serious washouts. A severe electric storm accompanied the downpour, and several houses were struck by lightning. No fatalities occurred.

Bulgarian Poet Assassinated.

London, Aug. 6.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Vienna reports that the Bulgarian poet Constantineff has been assassinated. It appears that he was making a political tour with his friend Dr. Takeff, who is a strong opponent of the present cabinet and of the government of Prince Ferdinand. According to the dispatch, the Bulgarian authorities gave orders for the assassination of Takeff, and the miscreants who were hired to carry out the instructions mistook the poet for their intended victim.

Funeral of an Old American Soldier.

New York, Aug. 6.—The funeral of Lieutenant Michael Moore was held at his late residence, 20 Seventh avenue, Brooklyn. Lieutenant Moore was the oldest American soldier, being in his ninety-eighth year. The services were very simple, and there was no military display, in accordance with the wishes of Mr. Moore. The Episcopal service was read by the assistant rector of St. Cornelius' chapel, on Governors island, where the old soldier served so many years. The interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Big Distillers Make an Assignment.

Louisville, Aug. 6.—Fibell & Crabb, the big Eminence (Ky.) distillers, have filed a deed of assignment in Henry county court. W. L. Crabb also filed an individual assignment. The assets of the concern are estimated at $185,000, while the liabilities will foot up $100,000. The failure is caused by a number of suits which have been filed lately. The distillery is one of the biggest in Kentucky, and Crabb's Blue Ribbon whisky is known all over the United States.

A Tramp Confesses His Crime.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Aug. 6.—Peter Bons, the tramp charged with the murder of Pearl Morrison at Crystal Falls, has made a complete confession, acknowledging that he assaulted the girl and then strangled her to death. The confession was secured by a detective who visited Bons clad in a priest's garb and was heard by others. The excitement over the confession may result in Bons' lynching.

New Amusement Company Incorporated.

Albany, Aug. 6.—The Harlem River Park Amusement company of New York city has filed papers of incorporation with the secretary of state. The company incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000 and will maintain a park and buildings for the holding of entertainments. The directors are Herman Sulzer, Lorenz Zoller, Charles Schaefer and Frank Kuhn of New York city.

Policy Holders Act.

New York, Aug. 6.—At an informal meeting of the Woodruff faction held in this city a call was issued asking all members of the Massachusetts company desirous of reinsuring in a body to register their names. It is signed by William M. Douth and Frederick Krasmer of this city and George F. Brown of Plainfield, N. J.

Law Student Missing.

Buffalo, Aug. 6.—F. W. Slater, aged 21, a law student, of Niagara Falls, went to Cleveland last week to visit his uncle, Mr. Hanna, superintendent of the Cleveland Street railway, who is a brother of Senator Mark Hanna. Slater left Cleveland by boat for Buffalo Saturday night and has not since been seen.

THE STRIKERS' CAMP

The Number of Men at Turtle Creek Becoming Less.

PROGRESS MADE BY THE MINERS.

Two of the Mines Closed Tightly and Claims Made That the Men at Other Points Will Soon Join Them.

Pittsburg, Aug. 6.—Out of the 2,000 strikers who camped at Turtle Creek last Saturday barely 300 now remain at Camp Determination. In addition to the large number of men who were turned out of camp and cut off from the free lunch distribution many were drafted to Plum Creek, where the great struggle for supremacy between the strikers and the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company will be carried on.

At Turtle and Sandy Creeks the strikers have practically won. Turtle Creek mine, known as No. 4, is closed down as tight as the strikers can ever hope to close it by their present peaceful means of agitation. It is true that a few men are still at work in the pit, but they are not putting out any coal. The same holds good at Sandy Creek.

Reports from Plum Creek are conflicting. Superintendent De Armitt claims that 255 men are still working, while the strikers say they counted but 30 going into the pit yesterday morning. The deputies at Plum Creek are having a hard time. Many are complaining, and a number have resigned. There is no such thing as uninterrupted rest for the deputies. They are up from before daylight until long after the sun has set. They are under a constant strain. All the mines are connected by private telegraph and telephone wires, and every stranger or body of strangers moving along the highways is immediately reported to the nearest office by scouts, and the foremen or managers of all the pits get notice.

Deputies Are Worried.

At the point upon which any march thus reported seems to be directed there is a stir among the deputies. As these marches are matters of almost daily occurrence, day and night, in all directions, the deputies are in a state of apprehension and activity. The feeding and lodging facilities are limited and are not adequate to the demands made upon them. And what adds to the deputies' discomfort is the fact that none of them is inured to hardships.

There are 75 deputies on duty here, and it is stated that this number will not be decreased for the present.

Superintendent Samuel De Armitt has had a brush with the marchers. They were on the march, and as he approached they opened ranks for him to pass through. When they neared the end of the road leading into Murraysville, he stopped them, saying the road was the private property of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company. The men held a consultation and concluded to march on, which they did. De Armitt marched with them, threatening them with arrest, but no arrests were made.

It has become rumored about among the campers that President W. P. De Armitt had made arrangements to bring 300 colored men to the mines from Virginia and that they would be here tomorrow.

The officials of the company when seen denied the rumor and said that nothing of the kind was contemplated.

Citizens Aid the Strikers.

Citizens of the south side who are in sympathy with the striking coal miners have undertaken in a novel way to secure contributions of provisions from the merchants of the south side to be sent to the commissary department of the miners' camp. A local band was engaged, together with several large express wagons, and a procession, headed by a stand of the national colors, was formed. The band played patriotic music and slowly moved up Carson street, stopping at each corner.

The merchants all along the route came forward with liberal contributions of everything needed, and soon the wagons were filled. At the South Side market liberal contributions of vegetables were placed on the wagons.

A large mass meeting of the miners of the Monongahela valley has been held at Roscoe to devise means for carrying on the strike and to induce the few men at the mines at Elizabeth, Bunola and Webster to come out. It was decided to organize a marching party, and this will be done in a few days.

The miners' families along the Monongahela valley are reported to be wanting the necessities of life. Destitution is prevalent at every mining hamlet, and hundreds of families have not had enough to eat for several days. At Monongahela City a souphouse has been started and a committee appointed to solicit provisions.

Charges Against Miners.

Columbus, O., Aug. 6.—Bulletin No. 3 by President Ratchford to the coal miners recalls the meeting of labor chiefs at Wheeling and their unanimity and asserts that if the miners lose it will be their own fault. Western Pennsylvania has added 1,600 miners to the list of strikers. This includes three De Armitt mines. De Armitt says West Virginia operators contributed $10,000 through miners' officials to stop coal mining in Ohio and Pennsylvania. He is defied to make the charge direct against any miners' official. West Virginia is now the battleground. A more thorough campaign is about to be started there. Miners are congratulated for good order.

To Settle Disputes Between Irish Societies.

Trenton, Aug. 6.—Bishop John A. McFaul has consented to act as arbitrator of the questions in dispute between the two bodies of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and has fixed Monday, Aug. 9, as the date on which he will hear the statements of the joint committee of conference which has been appointed at Atlantic City. As the decision of the arbiter is binding and final it is believed that the unification of the two organizations will be accomplished very shortly and heal a breech that has existed for 13 years.

Drowned While Bathing.

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 6.—A special to The Standard from Adams Center says Bert Ellenwood, 17 years of age, who resided at this place, was drowned while bathing in Lake Ontario, at Campbells Point. The body was recovered.

George Schroppe and A. D. Pope, of the borough, spent yesterday fishing in nearby waters.

Rev. C. E. Herring, of East Second street, who is in Canada on a wheeling trip, writes home that he is having a delightful time.

Seventy-nine professionals entered for one race was the field at Trenton, on Monday last, in the half-mile and two-mile handicaps. Seventy-nine is the record for the season thus far, but will be passed by fifty, probably, in the races at the national meet.

Frank Starbuck, the great middle distance rider, now has forty pace makers under contract for his use. Starbuck meets Michael in a thirty-three-mile race on Aug. 21 at Manhattan Beach, and is training daily for the match. He wheels fifteen miles each day back of pace makers, and it is reported that he is riding in rare form. Starbuck came within a few yards of beating Michael last year at Asbury Park, and is determined to do the trick this time.

The LaGrande avenue grounds will not be used on Saturday by the lawyers and their clerks in a ball game, but by the Crescents and the Volunteers, of Newark.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Jacob Higgins and John Higgins, of this city, went fishing in Green brook near Clinton avenue, last evening, and returned home with a very large mess of eels.

PASSING COMMENT.

A suburban railway has recently increased its train service so that there is now one unbroken round of trains between the suburb and the city, both day and night, says The Sun. And at the end of the new time table is appended the following: Parents will please notice that there is no last train."

Will. F. Williams, of Central avenue and Third street, has received a cablegram from a member of the Honeyman Excursion Party, dated at St. Petersburg, Russia. The message relates that all the party are well and enjoying their trip. No name was signed to the message, as the rates for cable messages are exorbitant, and charge is made for the name as well as for the rest of the message. Mr. Williams, however, had no difficulty in guessing who the sender of the message was.

prayer of the evening was made by the Rev. G. W. Clark, D. D., of Hightstown, who was once a Scotch Plains lad.

In introducing Judge James D. Cleaver, of Newark, the first speaker of the evening, Rev. J. S. Braker made a happy allusion to the fact that in 1847, just fifty years ago, Judge Cleaver was president of the Board of Trustees of the church, and that he had just recently been again elected to fill the same office. The speaker, after a few introductory remarks, recited from memory a finely written poem, of his own composition, relating the history of the church, what her place in history was and the wonderful changes that had taken place since the church's organization.

Rev. I. M. Haldeman, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church of New York city, although down on the programme for an address, was not able to be present as he is now traveling in Europe. Rev. Dr. J. H. Parks read a letter from Dr. Haldeman, expressing the interest of the pastor and people of the "Old First" church of New York in all the ceremonies of the day. The letter was of especial interest, as his church is an offspring of the Scotch Plains church, having been organized June 19th, 1762, by twenty-seven members dismissed from it.

A letter was next read by Dr. Parks from the pastor of the church at May's Lick, Ky., which was organized April 12th, 1788, by members who were dismissed from the Scotch Plains church.

After Dr. Parks' remarks, a solo was sung with excellent effect by Mrs. J. S. Braker, the wife of the present pastor.

Rev. T. E. Vassar, D. D., pastor of the Lyon's Farms Baptist church, next delivered an address. His church is the second one which was constituted from the Scotch Plains church, having been organized March 29th, 1769, with a membership of twelve. The Scotch Plains church, the speaker said, was like a person standing upon the Isthmus of Panama, where the rolling of two great oceans sounds in his ears. The church hears the rolling waves of the past, and is connected by its glorious history with the past. Those who labored in the early days of the church's history builded better than they knew. Then there is the sound of the other ocean, the ocean of the future. Many of the present members are growing weary of the battle, and will look with pleasure to the young fresh soldiers who will press forward to relieve them. Above all the efforts of the church and its members should be to uplift the name of Christ, and to be true to the old-time faith in God.

Rev. Peter Gibb pastor of the Mt. Bethel Baptist church, which also was organized from the Scotch Plains church was next introduced and made some congratulating remarks upon the anniversary occasion.

Mr. Gibb said that he came representing not only the daughter, but the grand-daughter as well, since he was also identified with the Millington Baptist Church, which was organized from the Mt. Bethel Church. He hoped that the effect of the present occasion would not be to lead anyone into resting contented with the achievments of the past. Those now in the church have to do with the destinies of the future, as their forefathers had to do with the victories of the past.

At the close of Mr. Gibb's address a verse of the hymn "Triumphant Zion" was sung, and the Rev. J. A. Cubberly, of the South Plainfield Baptist Church, which was organized December 1st, 1792, made a few brief remarks. He bore greetings from his own church, and predicted that the mother church would yet reign a thousand years upon the earth. The Scotch Plains Church has the dew of youth upon her because she has kept the faith. All that is needed is for us to consider what the Lord Jesus taught. A church's duty is to believe, to do and to teach.

J. O. Wilson, of New York city, who was born and reared in Scotch Plains, next gave a short reminiscent talk. In boyhood he was a member of the church. His family moved away from the village in 1844, but he had never lost interest or love in his first religious home. He expressed thanks to the committees in charge for the kindly hospitality of the day. He remembered the day when the congregation held prayer meetings at 4 o'clock in the morning. There were some names which he recalled with much veneration, among them Deacon Hetfield and Doctor Osborn.

Mr. Wilson was one of the first librarians in the Sunday school. The old parsonage, he was glad to observe, remained just as it was in his boyhood days. He hoped that those of the present day will be as faithful in their day and generation as were their ancestors

After Mr. Wilson's address, the remaining verses of the hymn, "Triumphant Zion," were sung. The day's services were closed at 8:59 o'clock by a benediction pronounced by Rev. J. S. Braker.

As the audience filed out of the church and good byes were said, a number of stages provided by the reception committee were ready to convey the visitors to the railway station. A number were provided with entertainment and remained over the night.

The reception committee were: Dr. F. W. Westcott, Mrs. Harry Christianson, Miss Lydia Hays, Miss Minnie Hosinger, A. D. Beeken, George E. Hall, John Barnman, William Burke, John Rudolph, Fred Hoppel, Norman Dunn, Clifford Braider and Edward Johnston.

The committee on programme was: J. D. Cleaver, J. S. Braker, J. H. Parks, D. D., A. D Beeken, and the Rev. J. S. Braker, ex-officio.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. H. Creiger, of Park avenue, has removed to New York city.

The present weather leads to that tired feeling, which is relieved by Randolph's beef, wine and iron.

Rev. S. M. Rodman and family, of East Seventh street, are spending this month at Bordentown, R. I.

W. M. Miner and family, of East Sixth street, are spending three weeks at Brewsters, Putnam county, N. Y.

Peter Neumann and family, of LaGrande avenue, will leave the city next Monday for Atlantic City, where they will remain until September.

Harry VanMiddlesworth, of New Brunswick, who has been visiting at the home of the Misses Jenkins, of East Sixth street, has returned home.

Clifford Braider, of the borough, is temporarily employed by Randolph, the West Front street druggist, while the clerks are taking their annual vacation.

Councilman E. T. Barrows and wife, West Eighth street, left the city today for Mouse Island, Boothbay Harbor, Me., where they will remain until August 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shotwell, of Fairview avenue, expect to start on a wagon trip through Morris county, tomorrow. They will be gone about a week, and a thoroughly enjoyable trip is anticipated.

Oil Fire Caused $28,000 Damage.

The fire in the yards of the National Storage Company at Caven Point, Jersey City, caused by an oil tank being struck by lightning, burned out Wednesday afternoon. The loss will be about $18,000 on oil and $10,000 on the tank.

WHERE WOMAN IS EXALTED.

Man Treats Her as Though She Were an Angel and She Appreciates It.

All plantation life is to a considerable extent patriarchal, except that, instead of the women being subordinated to masculine pleasure and aggrandizement, as with the patriarchs of old, they are set on a pedestal and practically worshipped. It makes little difference to this modern patriarch of the cotton belt if his cuffs are frayed and his coat rusty, so long as his wife and daughters wear suits to church that are as stylish as his crops can pay for and their village dressmaker can devise. It is a feature of the day in the South as well as elsewhere that women are being better educated than men. In the Northern States of the Union this higher culture is tending manifestly to celibacy, but in rural localities through the South the girls come back from academies and colleges and accept the young men who stayed at home to work the plantations, the same ones they would have married had they not gone away for the education the parents sacrificed so much to bestow. They know what material these men are made of, and in the attraction between the eternal womanly and the eternal manly the question of learning counts for little.—Lippincott's Magazine.
